Petitions Ask Bookmobile For Linn Co.

ALBANY — Petitions are being circulated by the Linn County Mobile Library committee to place a request for funds for a mobile library on the November ballot.

The committee had earlier appeared before members of the Linn County Court asking that an appropriation be made within the 6 per cent limitation for $37,500 to provide such a library.

The court informed the committee that such an appropriation could not be made under the limit, and so would require a vote on the budget. The sum asked would involve about 8 mill levy.

Approximately 2,000 signatures will be needed to place the matter before the voters. Appearing before the court was a committee composed of five members. They were Mrs. Floyd Edwards, Riverside; Mrs. Arthur Kriever, Mill City; Mrs. Ray Ross, and Mrs. W. K. Mackie, both of Tangent; and Leo Metcalf, Albany, Ed Lidstrom, chairman of the county library committee, also joined in the request.

The move was authorized at a county-wide meeting held in the Albany public library recently, with the request being signed by the 20 general committeemen present.

Illness Adds New Woes For Minister

HAYESVILLE — Sickness added new plagues to the Robert E. Sanders family.

Silverton Pair Find Weather Features Tip

SILVERTON — "Lots of things happen and they happen fast in Los Angeles," Mr. and Mrs. Olaus Moen, Silverton strawberry growers, said Sunday, upon their return from several days' vacation.

They spent only a few days in Los Angeles, while away, but during that time were: 1, an earthquake; 2, a thunderstorm; 3, a very heavy downpour which flooded the streets.

They could not rejoice, with the native Southern Californians, the Moens said, over the heavy rain. They had gone south in search of a few days' sunshine. Rain they had at home. But their friends in Los Angeles trooped out on the street and let the rain fall on their faces, the Moens reported.

"If they really want their faces washed in rain water, they should come to the Willamette Valley," the Moens added, saying they expect that easterners visiting here

U.N. Deadline On Session Call Replies Stalled

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United Nations announced Saturday night that Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, General Assembly president, has postponed to Jan. 29 the deadline for answers on her Korea assembly call.

The United States and other delegations had protested the Jan. 22 deadline she set early this week. They had advised the U. N. that they could not make a decision on reconvening the Assembly Feb. 9 before the release of 22,000 anti-Communist prisoners in Korea. The release is to be carried out between Jan. 20 and 23.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, in a message to the 60 U. N. member delegations Saturday night, also revealed that Mrs. Pandit had yielded on another contested point.

In her original call Jan. 11, Mrs. Pandit said that countries which did not send a formal reply would be counted as voting to hold the Assembly session Feb. 9.

The United States, in a formal message to Hammarskjold Friday, not only said it could make no definite answer by Jan. 22 but that it would not agree that silence on the call meant consent.

the examining committee: Mildred Carr, Rosa Berry and Lois Myers, finance; Alta Bodeker, Eva Bressler and Blanche Wagner, publicity; Alta Bodeker, Celene Taylor and Gertrude Weidman, floral.

The committee for the next meeting January 27 will be Rosa Berry, Mildred Carr and Norma Pennington.

France Seats New President In Giant Show

PARIS (AP) — France installed Rene Coty Saturday as president of the republic for a seven-year term with a giant show that was an artistic success but failed to arouse much public enthusiasm.

During the day Coty made five separate trips through the city in an open car. From a thin line of spectators gathered along the routes came a few cries of "viva Coty" and "viva le president." There was no massed cheering. A 71 year old independent republican lawyer and statesman elected by Parliament Dec. 23, Coty succeeds Socialist Vincent Auriol, 69, as the figurehead chief of state.
