Cheese Cake in Kitchen Means an Elegant Dish for Special Occasion

By MAXINE BUREN
Statesman Woman's Editor

If you really want to go elegant on desserts try a cheese cake. Using cream cheese and a recipe from the Betty Crocker Cookbook, you can really put calories and expense into the elaborate cake. But to go easier on the pocketbook, try our second recipe, this from The Cheese Book by Marye Dahnke.

CHEESE CAKE

8 3-oz. packages cream cheese 2 cups thick, sour cream
4 egg whites 2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup sugar ½ teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon vanilla Almonds
½ cup zwieback crumbs

Cream the cheese to soften it. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold in the cup of sugar and combine with cheese. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and put into an 8-inch spring form pan that has been buttered and dusted with the crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Mix the sour cream with remaining sugar and vanilla and pour over cake. Sprinkle with toasted shaved almonds and bake 5 minutes longer at 475 degrees. Chill for 2 hours before serving. If desired, garnish with fresh fruit.

Here is Marye Dahnke's cake, a dessert not to be scorned, though less expensive and elaborate than the other:

CHEESE CAKE

(With cottage cheese)

1½ cups graham cracker crumbs ¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine ¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar Dash of salt
1½ pounds cottage cheese ¼ teaspoon mace
1 cup light cream 6 eggs
Blend graham cracker crumbs with butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Press into bottom of 9-inch spring form pan. Bake in a moderate oven, 325 degrees, for 5 minutes. Cool. Press cottage cheese through a fine sieve or whip with an electric beater thoroughly. Add ½ cup sugar, the flour, salt and mace which have been sifted together. Add well beaten egg yolks and the vanilla. Blend in cream.

Add remaining ¼ cup sugar gradually to stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold this into the cheese mixture and pour on top of the crumbs in the pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour or until set in the center. Cool before removing from pan. Do not invert. Serves 8 to 10.
