Norblad Asks Plywood Used In Road Signs
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) asked the U. S. bureau of public roads Monday to study the use of plywood for making highway signs.

Norblad said he thought plywood signs would be much cheaper than those made of metal, the material now used for most highway signs over the country.

Norblad said the Oregon highway department has found plywood satisfactory. Metal signs, he wrote, cost almost twice as much as plywood signs. This offsets the fact that metal signs last much longer.

Norblad said that if the bureau finds the plywood signs satisfactory, it would recommend that they be adopted by the states.

Cost of Hatred Runs High, Priest Relates

The cost of hatred runs high, a Portland priest told Salem Chamber of Commerce Monday in a Brotherhood Week talk at a Marion Hotel luncheon meeting.

The Rev. Thomas O'Brien, director of the Loyola Jesuit Retreat House in Portland, declared "brotherhood" as a word has very little meaning and is a "colorless, vapid, empty expression."

But brotherhood really means love, said the speaker, in the sense of total understanding of the other person.

And it's the opposite of hatred which, in the opinion of Father O'Brien, is the basic cause of war, crime, delinquency, alcoholism and other things which are very costly to society.

The economics of this costly hatred alone should lead businessmen to leadership in brotherhood, said the speaker. More important, he continued, is the obligation of community responsibility which goes with the personal achievement business leaders are able to attain through their community life.

The priest was introduced by Arthur A. Atherton, brotherhood week chairman who also introduced committeemen David O'Hara, J. Ferder, Joseph B. Felton, Val Sloper, Earl T. Newberry and Elton Thompson.

The trunk contained odds and ends and personal belongings and was valued at $40, said police.

Police said the trunk was found in Lynn's possession.

Zoners to Rule On Transfer Firm Proposal

Willamette Valley Transfer's expansion plan at its Highway Avenue location will come before Salem Planning and Zoning Commission at a meeting in City Hall at 7:30 tonight.

Under the new zone code Highway Avenue and vicinity is in a C-2 zone which limits new enterprises to the retail shopping center types of business. A C-3 zone which permits wholesale and warehouse operations lies nearby, in the Lana Avenue area.

The project in question now has been represented to the commission as a 40 by 150 foot building for storage and repair work on property adjacent to the trucking headquarters, 1920 Highway Ave.

When zoning was enacted in the big code revision recently, both residential and motel owners of the Highway Avenue vicinity urged a zoning restrictive enough to prevent industrial and heavy business encroachment.

In other zoning business, a public hearing will be held on the request of Sidney L. Llamias for permission to build a house at 1240 Icel Court closer to side lot lines than the law normally allows.
