Nearly 800 Salem women are being recruited to assist in the annual drive for the Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross, which opens March 1. The women are heading the residential division with Mrs. Earl Bourland and Mrs. Ted Morrison as chairman and co-chairman, respectively. The division chiefs, who are pictured on this page today, except for Mrs. Robert Carey, will have captains and block workers assisting throughout the county.

"People Helping People" is the slogan for the fund campaign this year, with a goal of $49,000. George W. Goforth is heading the entire drive for the county and stresses the importance of the blood and disaster programs for the coming year. Women will be busy in the week preceding the opening of the month long campaign recruiting workers and distributing supplies and workers kits.

Mrs. Paul Shafer and Mrs. Jack Frisbie, two of the active division chiefs, are deep in plans for the forthcoming Red Cross drive in the residential division.

Discussing districts and workers to be obtained for the coming Red Cross drive are left to right, Mrs. James Marshall, Mrs. Max Denton and Mrs. Lynn Woods, division chiefs for the residential division.

Being greeted in the capital as newcomers are Mrs. Donald Sanders and 18 months old son, Donnie, above, who came here in the fall from Southern California. Dr. Sanders has opened his medical offices on Greer Street and is a gastroenterologist. The family home is at 960 Shipping St. (Kennell-Ellis Studio).

Newcomers being welcomed in the capital are Mrs. Edward L. Clark Jr. and sons, Tim and Danny. Mr. Clark, an attorney, is with the law firm of Marsh, Marsh and Dashney. (Kennell-Ellis Studio).

Mrs. James M. Clinton and children, Jane, Patrick and Vicky, at the left, who with Mr. Clinton, left by plane Wednesday for the Philippines to make their home for the coming year. The family will live in Manila, where Mr. Clinton will be with the Lou Kroeger and Associates in setting up a civil service organization for the Philippine government. (Kennell-Ellis Studio).
