District Cage Tourney Under Way Friday Night

SPORTSLIGHTNER

by Al Lightner

Sunday Sorties:

Before Oregon sortied against the Huskies at Seattle this weekend, a Webfoot basketball team hadn't been able to lick Washington in Hec Edmundson's spacious arena since 'way back in 1947. The Huskies won the next 13 in a dow, which caused U of O athletic news chief Art Litchman to wax poetic in a recent release. Art's effort went like this: "A note on the miseries of the road; It was a long, long time ago, When Edmunson was a friendly abode; As a matter of fact, 13 in a row" . . . Incidentally, it was Dick Wilkins, the remembered Webfoot sharpshooter who won that last one for the Ducks at Seattle. He let fly with a 40-footer just as the gun popped, and it found the right place for a 47-46 Oregon win . . . Speaking of the Webfoots, they'll play two nights at Portland next football season, the first Coast Conference arc-lighters for Multnomah Stadium. The Stanford mix on September 25, and the Southern Cal game on October will carry the 8 p.m. kickoffs . . . Millard Pekar, the Marion Creamery man is still up to his old (and admirable) tricks. He supplied all the turkeys for the Harv Storey banquet the other night, free of charge. Millard is the gent who gives a turkey to each Salem Senator who socks a home run or pitches a shutout during the Waters Field games, and it's safe to say that he's given the bird to more ballplayers than Ebbett's Field ever heard of. He's been giving it to some of his cronies at Salem Golf Club lately too, although "it" isn't of the feathered species. Millard has a dandy come-on for oponents when the foursome arrives at the 18th tee. "Give me one stroke," he'll plea, "and I'll bet I can beat you on the last hole, using nothing more than my putter." The victims jump right in headlong. Mr. P. then procedes to whack out a 200-yard drive, generally lands on the distant green in the next two shots and usually holes out with a snappy par five, all with the putter. He also picks up all the beting loot, as it takes a birdie to tie him. He'll probably not apreciate this, but if you happen to be playing in the same foursome, better keep your hands in your pocket and your mouth shut when you aproach No. 18 at SGC . . .

MILLARD PEKAR
Beware of his putter.

Accent on Defense is the Reason

"How come," queries a customer, "I read where they're scoring 80, 90 and 100 or more points regularly in many basketball games back East, and out here in our Northern Division they hardly ever hit the seventies and are usually in the forties, fifties and sixties? Is our basketball that lousy?"

Not at all, sir, not at all. The difference can be summarized in one word, defense. And you'd best be getting used to it, for little by little the game is turning from its current point-crazy trend and reverting to more and more defense.

For other than possibly the Southwest Conference, where one Hank Iba holds the presidency, the Northern Division is doubtlessly the most defensive-minded league in the nation. Coaches in the division spend as much time teaching and working on defenses as they do offenses, the result being your low-scoring games. Elsewhere you'll find mentors whose creed parallels, "Score, score and score—to heck with the defense." But you won't find that breed in the Northern Division.

And as soon as fans become acquainted with the growing fact that there is much more to a basketball game than merely flying down the floor and stuffing the ball through the hoop—and letting the opponents do the same thing, they'll enjoy the procedure . . .

Kentucky's Reputation May Be Reason Why

There is no official reason why Kentucky should suddenly fall to second place in the national collegiate cage ratings, after leading the field all season. Adolph Rupp's outfit is still undefeated and has been ridiculing one opponent after another. But if the truth were really known, we'd guess that it would have something to do with the most recent developments within the school itself. Many have looked with a critical eye since it became known that the three top Kentucky players will be ineligible for post-season NCAA playoffs. They graduated too fast. Almost, when Paul Bryant turned in his fabulouas 10-year contract as football coach at Kentucky, to take a less-lucrative job with Texas A&M, the school was again a top target for the speculators.

It's rather hard for anyone to cast a favorable vote for a school and coach which gets itself a salty reputation, and it could be that some balloteers are now purposely ignoring the Wildcats despite their sparkling record and obviously great teams . . .

Barrister John Steelhammer hasn't been seen around his usual haunts lately, perhaps because of a mirthful incident of the other day. Seems big John was in a hurry, couldn't find a legal parking place for his car and finally snubbed it up to a curb which was painted a bright yellow. When he returned a short time later, the buggy was gone.

"My car's been swiped," complained John to the local gendarmes.

"Oh, no it hasn't," he was informed. "It's been towed away from that 'no parking' zone and you'll find it over at Bales & Brady Towing Co."

It was a mighty stormy Steelhammer who verbally slew the culprits who moved his car, but to no avail. Hhe still had to pay the fine and towing charges.

His cronies are still waiting for John to come out of hiding, as they'd like to suggest that he hire a lawyer and sue. Bruce Williams would be tickled to death to handle the case . . .

Vikings Rate Favored Role

Winner Gets Ticket To State Playoffs

The annual District 11 basketball tournament, which in the past has been but a final stepping stone for Salem High teams on their journey to the state playoffs at Eugene, opens Friday night at the Vik Villa. Two Friday night clashes, and another pair Saturday night will have all eight aspirants occupied in the opening round of play.

The meet is to be double elimination — two losses for each team before bowing out.

In the opening game, at seven o'clock, Friday night a pair of Capitol League rivals will get the tournament started. Coach Joe Boyle's Stayton Eagles and Lyle King's Cascade Cougars are to play in that one. Then the highly favored Salem Vikings make their tourney debut at 8:30, opposing the Capitol League champion Sacred Heart Academy Cardinals of Coach Leo Grosjacques.

On Saturday night Silverton and Woodburn of the Willamette Valley League square off at 7 o'clock, after which Mt. Angel, another WVL quint, tries the North Marion Huskies, champions of the Yawama League for 1954.

For other than the Vikings' expected dominance of the tourney, the playoffs should produce a sizzling squabble for the No. 2 finish, and the trophy that goes with it. All three Capitol League entries, Silverton, Mt. Angel and North Marion likely will give the playoffs their full quota of closely contested battles.

Following the opening weekend of play the ensuing tourney dates are March 1-2-5-6-8-9.

Cards to Junk 'Cast Project

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals junked a plan to broadcast their games into minor league cities Saturday. thus giving George Trautman and his minor league association another round in one of baseball's most bitter controversies.

As minor league commissioner, Trautman raised an immediate objection with Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick when the Cards announced their plan last month. Individual minor leagues and clubs also got off protests.

The Cardinals termed the plan an experiment to answer baseball's most haunting question: What effect do major league broadcasts have on minor league attendance?

Pederson Returns—to Meet Nicolini . . .

Lindsey, Kamaroff in Tuesday Rematch

The Luther Lindsey-Ivan Kamaroff rematch will occupy the main event slot on Tuesday night's Amory grappling program, but fans will have much more than that to look forward to, after a peek at Maestro Elton Owen's completed card.

Eric (The Arrogant) Pederson, the mean, moody and magnificent rasslin' specimen is back in the local mat swim after an absence of a number of weeks, and will cut loose his stuff against Gino Nicolini in the special event. "And he's just as arrogant as ever," Owen tells.

The chesty blond has been involved in some of the most riotous brawls the Armory has boasted over the years. In Nicolini he faces a smart and fast gent who has been fast improving as a topnotcher recently.

Pepper Gomez, the onetime collegiate football star who made such a big hit here three weeks ago in a mix with Nicolini, also returns Tuesday. He'll take on Catalina George Drake in one of the two single-fall prelims. Gomez is a dynamic operator who makes up for his shyness of poundage with quick and clever maneuvers.

ERIC PEDERSON

Chester Wallick and Jack Rush will be the opponents in the other single-faller, which will get the show under way at 8:30 o'clock. Walick topped Danny O'Rourke here last week. Rush is a bald and rough veteran from Oklahoma.

Harry Elliott will referee the card, by special request. Arbiter Tony Ross got himself in the doghouse last week when he rendered a fast count on Lindsey during the latter's bruising brawl with Kamaroff, which cost Luther the match. Up until then the mix was a bull-like tug o' war, and a rough one, between the two burly opponents.

Entries Grow For Seattle's ABC Pin Show

SEATTLE (AP) — Entries for the 1954 American Bowling Congress starting March 20 in Seattle total 3,178 teams from 32 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada, Congress officials announced Saturday.

More than 16,000 bowlers will compete for a prize fund approximating $175,000.

Entry records were set percentagewise by Seattle as host city and by the state of Washington. Canada and the territories surpassed their previous totals, the former entering 66 teams for 1954, Alaska 13 and Hawaii 9.

Seattle will have 1,217 teams shooting for prizes. This is more than 60 per cent of its ABC membership and tops the 35 per cent credited to Milwaukee in 1952. That same year Wisconsin entered 17 per cent of its membership and Washington will have 40 per cent representation in the coming tourney.

Other entry totals for the west include: Oregon, 304 teams; Montana, 141; California, 201; Utah, 13; Nevada, Colorado and Wyoming, 9 each; New Mexico, 6, and Arizona, 5.

Baltimore to Welcome Orioles With Orchids

BALTIMORE (AP) — When the Baltimore Orioles come home next April 15, the players will ride dow Charles Street over a carpet of some 5,000 orchids in the most extravagant parade this city has seen since 1929, it was announced Saturday.

Carle A. Jackson, arrangements chairman, said Baltimore would welcome back major league baseball after a 50-year absence in a festival unrivaled since this old city's bi-centennial celebration in 1929.

Garcia Signs Indian Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mike Garcia, the burly right handed pitcher, came to terms with the Cleveland Indians Saturday for the 1954 season.

Garcia, who won 18 and lost nine last year, said at his home near San Francisco that he "didn't take a cut" in pay and that "I'm well satisfied."

The Indians did not make his salary public but he is believed to have received about $30,000 last year.

Still unsigned are the other two members of Cleveland's Big 3 pitching staff—Bob Lemon (21-15) and Early Wynn (17-12).

Brightman Takes Suds Coach Post

SEATTLE (AP) — Al Brightman, coach of Seattle University's nationally ranked basketball Chieftains, has signed on as a baseball coach with the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League.

Rainier General Manager Dewey Soriano said Saturday Brightman will retain his position at the university, joining the baseball team at the close of the school year. He will be the first base coach, work with young players and scout for talent.

World Relay Title Decided . . .

Puny Finnish Ski Star Beats Soviet 'Supermen'

FALUN, Sweden (AP) — Arvo Viitanen, lean and puny looking second string sprinter on Finland's magnificent ski team, raced his Russian opponent into the snow Saturday as Finland won going away in the world's 40 kilometer (25 miles) relay championship.

Until Viitanen took the slap-on-the-back signal from the preceding Finnish leg man, only a bare second divided Finnish and Russian skiers. Viitanen quickly put that right.

He took off from the starting line at Lugnet Stadium and in less than half an hour he was more than two minutes ahead of Aleksei Kusnetsov.

Finland's time was 2:16:47 for the four-man race. There hardly could have been a faster one on that track. Russia, its hopes shattered by Viitanen's third leg gallop, barely managed to finish ahead of Sweden's team.

The Russian time was 2:18:57 and Sweden's was 2:18:59.

Norway and Italy rounded out the first five in times of 2:21:20 and 2:23:24. The United States was not represented.

Philley Traded For 2 Hurlers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics Saturday traded off hustling, 34 year old Dave Philley, a switch - hitting outfielder, to the Cleveland Indians for two righthand pitchers, LeRoy Wheat and Bill Upton.

Philley was having contract trouble with the front office and the A's evidently decided they had sufficient manpower to patrol the outfield to make the deal. In addition they picked up two pitchers they hope will bolster a mound staff which is short of able right-hand pitchers.

Bob Porterfield of the Washington Senators had his best year in 1953. He won the most games (22), pitched the most complete games (24) and the most shutouts (9) in the American League.

Waterfowl Program Scheduled

Waterfowl management is the title of the new program in the wildlife conservation series designed by the Oregon State Game Commission for presentation in Parrish Junior High School and Leslie Junior High School on February 23.

Cartoon-like charts will illustrate the 20-minute talk by Game Commission Education Agent Milton Guymon to be followed by the sound, color film "Behind the Flyways." This 27-minute movie shows the many cooperative waterfowl management activities being carried on by federal and state agencies, with help from private organizations and sportsmen. Oregon's part in the nationwide program to provide feeding and resting grounds for waterfowl, to study waterfowl migrations, and to acquire lands for public shooting grounds should be of interest to every young citizen.

Fisheries management will be the subject of a similar program to be presented at Central Hi (Independence - Monmouth) on February 24, with Guymon also in charge. Dallas High also will be the scene of suc ha program, also on February 24.
