Mailmen Organize Effective Congressional Lobby Force

By A. ROBERT SMITH
Statesman Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Want to know how a congressional lobby group works? If so, just ask your postman—for he and his co-workers have developed quite a technique for deluging Congress with appeals for a pay raise for postal workers.

Veteran Capitol Hill observers say the mailmen have one of the most effectively organized lobbies ever to storm Congress. Their representatives are here now telling the post office & civil service committees that it's time for a raise.

But the real steam behind this plea comes from the grass roots. Here is how one secretary to a Pacific Northwest member of Congress described the situation:

We are now getting more mail on the postal pay raise than any other single item — yes, including McCarthy and anything else you can think of. It is not just from the mailmen themselves. They seem to get their wives to write, their sisters, their children. And that's not all.

We got mimeographed letters signed by various tradesmen in our state — grocery store owners, filling station men. They want the postal workers to get a raise. Apparently the mailmen leave these letters wherever they trade and urge the store owners to send them to their congressmen.

Membership in the organized postal workers unions runs about 500,000. That number seems to have a lever effect on Congress by virtue of its even geographic distribution. That is, every lawmaker knows he has a number of postal votes in his area. Thus far some 100 solons have appeared before committees this year supporting the postal pay raise bill.

Others Get Raises

The postal workers run interference for virtually all other federal workers when it comes to lobbying in Congress, for the non-postal workers are poorly organized by comparison. Consequently, postal workers have fared better through legislative benefits in the last 15 years than have other civil service employes. But having allowed higher benefits to postal workers, Congress usually follows up with somewhat similar treatment for the others.

This year the letter carriers are asking a flat $800 increase, which the administration opposes. President Eisenhower instead has advocated a program of salary adjustments through job reclassifications and additional fringe benefits, such as hospitalization and unemployment insurance. Some workers, mostly in low levels, would get no pay increase others would get only token raises; while a comparatively few in the upper brackets would get sizable boosts. Principle behind this plan is to provide financial incentive to work up to more responsible jobs.

Worried About Budget

Moreover, the administration points out that a general pay raise for all government employes would play hob this year with other related economic factors it is trying to control—size of the federal budget, tightness of the national debt just under the statutory debt ceiling.

But Congress is lending an ear to the postal workers, for this is an election year — and there seemingly is general respect for the voting power they can muster in every city and hamlet in the land.

Grain Market Prices Lazy

CHICAGO (AP) — A soaring soybean market in the last day of the week provided the only vigorous show of strength in grains on the Board of Trade this week.

Grains other than soybeans generally closed lower. Lard, however, was very strong much of the week, setting new season highs. Rye suffered the most pressure, coming close to its season lows.

Wheat ended the week ⅛-2⅛ lower, corn 1⅜ lower to ¼ higher, oats 1¼ lower to 1⅜ higher, rye 1¾-4¼ lower, soybeans ½ lower to 11 cents higher and lard 10 cents to $1.58 a hundred pounds higher.

Stock Market Pushes Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market tossed off its restraint this week and pushed through to another new high for the year.

The market was at an average new high last week before it declined in the forepart of this week. Then in the final three days it mustered enough strength to more than wipe out its previous losses.

The week closed with the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at a new 1954 high of $116.70, the highest mark of the average since June 2 of 1930.

Most of the week the strength of the market was lodged in the aircrafts, motors, steels, oils and railroads.

British Say Illegitamacy Exaggerated

LONDON (AP) — The Churchill government Friday described as "grossly exaggerated" persistent reports that American servicemen have fathered 70,000 illegitimate children in Britain. Actually, said a government spokesman, the figure is less than 1,200.

"The American authorities in Britain have received some 1,200 inquiries from unmarried mothers, and some of these were probably duplicated," Foreign Undersecretary Anthony Nutting told the House of Commons.

He replied to R. W. Sorensen, a Laborite, who said an "increasing number of young women and their children was suffering unnecessary hardships and suffering."

U. S. Air Force authorities here have denied repeatedly the 70,000 figure, which pops up from time to him in press reports.

Rome Crowds Greet Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Joyful shouts of "viva il papa" greeted Pope Pius XII Friday upon his first public appearance in two months.

Briefly, for less than a minute, the 78-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church appeared at window of his Vatican Palace apartment, where grave illness with a stomach ailment has confined him since late in January.

The occasion was the gathering in Rome of Italy's famous Alpine mountain troops.

The pontiff was too far away for his face to be clearly seen. The few who had thought to bring field glasses could see that he was smiling happily.

Indochina Red Losses Heavy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Pau Ely, chief of staff of the French armed forces, said Saturday crushing Vietminh losses in the crucial battle for Dien Bien Phu give hope of a major French victory in Indochina.

The general, arriving in Washington to talk with the President and defense chiefs about the war against the Communist-led rebels, said in an interview:

"If the Communists continue to suffer the losses they have been taking, I don't know how they can stay in the battle."

Before Gen. Ely's arrival, the President discussed the Indochina crisis for more than an hour with his military and foreign policy chiefs, preparing for the Franco-Amedican military talks that started today.
