There's nothing definite yet, Le- last season. Baron said after two rather fruitless days of conference with George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, Le-Baron was on his way home to California Monday without making a decision.

Unlike most of the American football players who have jumped to Canada, LeBaron said he isn't overly attracted by the money north of the border.

Stojack to Risk Title Against Gomez Tonite But Hustling

Pepper Gomez, the fast-coming young grappler from Pasadena, Calif., gets his first big chance for a gold-plated mat glory tonight as he tries to lift Frank Stojack's world light heavyweight crown in a one-hour limit tussle at the Armory. Gomez has earned the shot at the feared Stojack off some sensational showings in recent action in this sector. Promoter Elton Owen says the big matc, originally slated for Portland, was shifted to Salem because of consistently fine fan turnouts at the Armory cards. "You might call it a gesture of appreciation for the great support we've had here," adds Owen. Gomez must make the 190-pound limit in weigh-in ceremonles at Portland this afternoon. The 190 figure is the limit set by the National Wrestling Alliance. Gomez, in going against the canny and formidable Stojack, will have youth and great allround basic ability as his greatest weapons. Pepper also has a reputation as a standout footballer, an item that doesn't hurt his maneuvering inside the ropes.

Stojack continues to be one of the most respected men in the mat ranks. The ex-Washington State grid star, whose busy schedule includes being a Tacoma city councilman, is a plague to his foes because of the number of wicked weapons in his arsenal. Stojack's most effective holds are his famed airplane spin, his giant swing and his vicious dropkicks. The title scrap heads a card

A's Look Like Yankee JVs,

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. UP-The "new face" Philadelphia A's probably will look like the New York Yankee jayvees on opening day with four former Yanks or Yanks farmhands in the lineup.

Eddie Joost, new manager of the A's, thinks so much of the deal he made for Harry Byrd and Eddie Robinson that he may start Don Bollweg on first, Vic Power in center, Bill Renna in right and Jim Robertson behind the plate. All came to Philadelphia from the Yanks in the big December swap. "I like the wonderful attitude of these new kids, especially the boys from the Yankees," said Joost "They're hustling every minute and are well schooled in their business They have helped give us an outstanding change in team spirit." One rap against the 1953 A's, who finished seventh, 41 1/2 games behind New York, was that they tended to give up once the other club took the lead. The front office hopes the '54 crew will fight it out all the way. Bobby Shantz and Power are key men in the Philadelphia story, both in team success and in drawing At Breakfast power.
