

There Was Plenty of Action in Gigantic Willamette Relays

hitting the tape to help win another relay for the Huskies, and below him is high jumper Don Fawcett of Oregon. Bob Hall, Mather coach and former WU star, talks javelin tossing with Stan Neperud of WU and Jerry Church of Oregon State after Church's victory in the collegiate event. Hall was second, Neperud third. Portions of the large fields of racers are pictured below, getting set for take-offs in the seeds of prep events during the afternoon. It was wet and muddy on many parts of the track, as can be noted by the splash made by John Bowerman of Coburg High during distance romp. (Photos by Merrill Cray.)

Former Oregon Star . . .

Ken Hunt Named Basket Coach, North Salem Hi

Ken Hunt, former University of Oregon star, was Saturday named head basketball coach at North Salem High School, it was announced by Salem Schools Superintendent Walter Snyder. Hunt graduated from Oregon in June of last year and was captain of the Webfoots team in his final season. He was also picked as All-Northern Division.

Since then Hunt has been coaching at Roseburg High. He is 25 years old, is married and has two children. He attended high school at Marshfield in Coos Bay.

Hunt succeeds Harold Hauk, the veteran Viking mentor who has been elevated to the athletic directorship of the new South Salem High School. A basketball coach for South Salem is also being sought, but no announcement has been forthcoming on who it might be.

Having played and coached the fast-break style of cage play throughout his high school and college career, Hunt will no doubt install the same system at North Salem. He did some coaching at the University of Oregon, under Bill Borchert, prior to taking the Roseburg job.

Selvey in Clean Sweep Of Hoop Scoring Marks

NEW YORK (AP) — Furman's Frank Selvy made a clean sweep of all significant major-college basketball scoring records, final official NCAA Service Bureau figures showed Saturday.

The 6-foot-3 All-America from Corbin, Ky., set 24 major records and innumerable minor ones for one game, one season, two seasons and career, in field goals, free throws and total points.

He completed the season with a 29-game total of 427 goals, 355 fouls and 1,209 points, an average of 41.7, an all-time record. He is only the second player to win the national scoring title twice, joining George Mikan in the exclusive category.

His career total of 2,538 points is the highest ever recorded in any college competition, surpassing by one point the total of Seattle's Johnny O'Brien compiled in two seasons of minor competition and one major.

Selvy's three-year average of 32.5 points a game is higher than any major player ever has been able to do for even one season. In his 78 games, Selvy sank 43 per cent of his shots from the floor and 77 per cent of his free throws.

Senators Sign 2 New Players

Tanselli is Returned By Portland Beavers

By AL LIGHTNER Statesman Sports Editor

Calgary will continue as a member of the 10-team Western International League, the town Senators signed two new players. Gene Tanselli has been returned to the Seabers by the Portland Beavers and rain again played the prominent role in the Solon's spring camp.

Such were the happenings of a busy baseball Saturday at Waters Field.

Circuit moguls and President Bob Abel, deeply worried over the Calgary situation, convened for their emergency meeting at Yakima Saturday, and after five hours of discussion, which included telephone calls to Calgary President N. G. (Buzz) Lacey, it was announced that the Stampedeers would again operate.

Lacey guaranteed the financial needs of the Calgary club, which had to suspend operations at Porterville, Cal., where it is now in spring training. The camp at Porterville will resume today.

"Everything is the same as it was before," Abel reported following the meeting. "Calgary will stay in the league and we will open as scheduled April 29."

Although Saturday's scheduled workout here was again stymied by bad weather, which limited activity to running and throwing for what pitchers and catchers are on hand, two new players were added to the Senators roster.

One is Charles (Chuck) Neal, 6-foot-1, 200-pound first baseman signed as a free agent. From Los Angeles, and 22 years old, Neal has had three seasons of professional experience, starting with Yakima in 1951. He was with Bisbee, Ariz., in 1952 and with both Wenatchee and Amarillo, Tex., last season. He hit .352 for the Chiefs in what games he played for them, and then banged .310 at Amarillo.

A left-handed hitter and thrower, Neal was cut loose by Amarillo because of a veteran rule in that league. He reported Saturday and worked out briefly with the others here.

The other is Floyd Ogden, a catcher with experience in the Baltimore Orioles (St. Louis Browns) chain. He hit .298 for Redding, Cal., in 1951 and has spent the last two years in the Army.

Just what Tanselli intends doing about his future in baseball remains to be seen. He may give it up entirely, which was his threat.

Seven Marks Fall in 4th Willamette Relays

Vikings Pace Prep Division

By JERRY STONE Statesman Sports Writer

A violent April shower struck short hours before the starting gun Saturday but the mammoth fourth annual Willamette Relays and its field of 1,800 athletes went on as scheduled at McCulloch Stadium, played to a full house and saw seven meet records broken and two others tied despite the wet footing. The footing, however, slowed times in many events.

It was quite a day for Coach Vern Gilmore's Salem High cindermen. The Viks, making their '54 debut, won seven first places during the long afternoon and in the process cracked two meet marks.

The Salem 2-mile relay unit of Duane Farman, Jim Knapp, Bill Roher and Ken Martin chalked an 8:44.5 time to erase the former Relays standard of 8:53.4 made by Milwaukee in 1952. The Salem 440 sprint relay team of Ken Rawlings, Neal Scheidel, Terry Salisbury and Del Funk shared a new meet mark with Vancouver's Trappers, each posting a .461 mark. That topped the previous record of .463 by Springfield in 1951.

Five of the new marks were established in the prep ranks as athletes from 65 high schools went at it hammer and tong. Two were chalked in the collegiate division, by Seattle Pacific's mile relay unit and by University of Washington's sprint medley crew. Seattle Pacific posted a 3:27 to top the previous mark of 3:29 by Washington in '53. The Huskies' sprint relayers hit a 2:34.2, exceeding the former figure of 2:35.1 by Oregon in 1953.

Other high school record-breaking performances saw Ray Kinnaman, Centralia, Wash., toss the discus 133 feet to better the former novice mark of 131' 9"; Gerald Falls, Vancouver, throw 151' 6 1/2" in the senior discus to top the old mark of 143' 2" by a big margin and Duane Marshall, St. Helens, fashion a brand new senior shotput standard of 51' 6 1/2", as compared to the former record of 51' 5".

Mather Air Base's heralded Kenneth Mischall fell short of his best mark (14.3) in the high hurdles, but still had enough for a .151 time that won the college invitational and also tied the mark set last year by Oregon State's Don Chambers. The defending king finished second, several steps behind the Mather star and Terry Lowery of OSC was third.

Victor in the college invitational 100-yard dash was Bruce Springbett of Oregon with a 10 flat time. Second was Walt Hill of Seattle Pacific and Bob Ledbetter of Washington placed third. The footing hurt the sprinters.

Both Oregon's unit and one from Lewis and Clark tied the Section B 440 sprint relay standard of 44.4 as they won their heats.

Bob Hall, the former WU star now stationed at Mather Field, came back home to try his luck

SLATS GILL

B-Club Lists Slats Monday

Slats Gill, Oregon State head basketball coach for 27 years, will be the principal speaker here Monday morning during the weekly meeting of the Salem Breakfast Club at the Senator Hotel. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m.

Numerous Oregon State alumni are expected to visit the club meeting, which is not restricted to members. A full turnout of the membership is also urged by club officials.

The veteran mentor's topic will be basketball and the Beaver prospects for 1954-55, which is expected to be another big season for Oregon State cage play. He will also likely answer any questions put to him by the

Maple to Leave Bend for Burns

BURNS (AP) — Howard Maple, former professional and Oregon State College athletic star, will become secretary-manager of the Harney County Chamber of Commerce here April 15.

Maple is disposing of his automobile agency at Bend, where he was named first citizen for 1952. Prior to that, Maple operated a sporting goods store at Salem. After his college days a quarter-century ago, he played professional football and baseball, and coached football and basketball at Willamette University before entering business.

in the senior javelin event but finished second to OSC's Jerry Church, who had a 199' 8" mark. WU's Stan Neperud placed third in the spear throwing with a toss of 185' 4 1/2".

One of the standouts of the day was little Ben Moring of Seattle Pacific. He was anchor man in his team's record-breaking mile relay effort and also anchored as the Seattle won the two-mile event.

Determine Takes 'Cap To Boost Derby Stock

950 Peter Clark Handicap at Bay to Fault Free at the eighth pole, Free.

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Determine, one of the leading candidates for the Kentucky Derby, turned in one of his gamest performances Saturday to win the $16,000

Allied, Determine's stablemate, finished third in the field of eight three-year-olds. The first three horses all are eligible for the Derby.

Determine, with Ray York up, carried his derby weight of 128 pounds and spotted Fault Free, with Willie Shoemaker in the irons, 17 pounds.

Time for the mile was 1:36 2-5. Determine surrendered the lead to Fault Free at the eighth pole, but then came on again for the win.

Determine and Allied were an Andrew J. Crevolin entry. The Crevolin entry returned $3, $2.20 and $2.20 across the board. Fault Free paid $2.90 and $3.10.

Beavers Grab New Flingers

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — The Portland Beavers acquired two more pitchers Saturday, and then began cutting rookies from the squad in preparation for the opening of the Coast League season Tuesday.

The Beavers bought left-hander Bill Boemler from San Francisco, and signed right-hander Lee Anthony, who had been released by Seattle. These moves were made to bolster a stout pitching staff.

The Beavers released pitcher Don Tinsner, and then returned six other rookies to teams in lower classification.

Shortstop Gene Tanselli was sent back to Salem of the Western International League; catcher Milt Martin and outfielders Dwane Helbig and Marv Diercks to Victoria; pitcher Bob Schulte to Calgary; and Charley Lebrun to Birmingham.

That cut the squad to 29, eight over the limit the Beavers must reach by May 15.

Oxford Takes Thames Race

LONDON (AP) — Oxford rowed best when the Thames was roughest Saturday to hand the Cambridge crew an unexpected setback in the 100th renewal of the boat race between the two schools — England's biggest free spectacle of the year.

A crowd of 150,000 lined the Thames along the four mile 400 yards course from Putney to Mortlake to see Oxford win by 4 1/2 lengths. The time was a slow 20:23 and the going was rough most of the way.

Palmberg New Owls Mentor

KLAMATH FALLS (AP) — Wally Palmberg, the former Oregon State college basketball standout, will return to coaching here next season, taking over basketball at Oregon Tech.

Palmberg, whose last starring season for Oregon State was 1936, has been in the sporting goods business recently in Ontario, Ore.

After he left Oregon State, he became basketball coach at his home town of Astoria, and his high school team there compiled a 24-56 record there in eight seasons.

Winston Purvine, Oregon Tech director, announced Palmberg's appointment Saturday, succeeding Forrest "Skeet" O'Connell, who resigned to enter business. Rex Hunsaker, football coach, succeeds O'Connell as athletic director.

Webfoots Set Spring Drills

EUGENE (AP) — The University of Oregon spring football practice will begin April 26. Coach Len Casanova said Saturday. Twenty practice sessions are allowed in the Coast Conference.

More than 50 are expected to participate, but several players, including quarterbacks George Shaw and John Keller, will miss at least part of the drill because they are engaging in other sports. Shaw and Keller are on the baseball team.

Revenge for Sweeney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Bill Sweeney, fired as manager of Seattle and now piloting Los Angeles, got his first crack at his old club Saturday and it was a good one — Los Angeles winning 12-5.

The Angels scored 11 runs off former major leaguer Gent Bearden, regarded as one of the top Seattle hurlers. The 13 Los Angeles hits included a two-run homer by Fred Richards, triples by Dave Cunningham and Bob Usher and doubles by Ed McDade and Gene Mann.
