Skirmish Sees South Korean

PANMUNJOM (A) officers confirmed Monday that Communists killed one South Korean and captured another in a Saturday night patrol skirmish in the demilitarized zone near here. Three others escaped.

All five were South Koreans, American officers in the area said. Peiping Radio reported the incident first in a broadcast heard Monday in Tokyo. It said "this incident constitutes a serious violation of the Korean armistice."

Peiping accused the patrol of pushing more than 1/4 mile inside the Red-controlled section of the neutral zone.

The Reds placed the shooting about two miles east of Panmunjom at a small point near Majang. A joint observer team met Sunday on the incident. The Red members said the five men crossed the demarcation line to the north side at 8:40 p. m. Saturday, refused to answer a Red challenge, and opened fire as they withdrew. There was then an exchange of fire, the Communists said.

The zone is 2.5 miles wide, with the demarcation line running down
