'54 Mobilgas Economy Run Starts Today

LOS ANGELES—Twenty new model passenger cars, representing nearly every manufacturer in the nation, will embark Monday morning on a 1335-mile, three-day road test from Los Angeles to Sun Valley in quest of miles-per-gallon laurels, a test that is considered the severest America offers for stock cars.

Entrants in the 1954 Mobilgas Economy Run were scheduled to begin crossing the starting line at Eighth and Flower Streets in downtown Los Angeles one minute after midnight, proceeding at two-minute intervals.

Monday they face the difficult chore of reaching San Francisco, over a 554-mile route, within a limit of 13 hours, 35 minutes, driving by way of Highway 99—"The Main Street of California"—through Bakersfield, Fresno, Yosemite Park and Merced.

Final results of the Run will be announced by the AAA at Sun Valley, Idaho, Thursday, with prizes to be awarded in four automobile price classifications. In addition, all 20 are involved in the competition for the Sweepstakes trophy which is determined on a formula which takes into consideration the weight of each car, miles driven, and the amount of gasoline consumed.

Climax of O&C Issue Nearing In Congress

By A. ROBERT SMITH
Statesman Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Congressional consideration of the Cordon-Ellsworth plan for settlement of the controverted O&C lands question may reach a climax this month, now that the Eisenhower administration has given it full backing.

Both House and Senate may bring it to the floor within the next few weeks, without the often tedious procedure involved in formal public hearings. The controverted issue would be settled if Congress enacts the legislation sponsored by Sen. Guy Cordon and Rep. Harris Ellsworth.

Favorable action would increase slightly the annual income from O&C timber cutting to the O&C counties, besides allowing for dispersal immediately to the 18 counties their shares in a fund of some $7,500,000 now frozen in the U.S. Treasury pending settlement of the dispute.

The plan to dispense with hearings is predicated upon acceptance by the Interior committees of both houses of the voluminous record already made on the issue in previous sessions of Congress which considered the issue but never settled it. On several past occasions, settlement legislation has passed one house but not the other.

This plan would speed the bills to the floor for debate and a vote, removing any doubt that a decision could be reached in this session of Congress which is expected to extend into midsummer.

It would also preclude the appearance before committees of A. W. Lafferty, special counsel for Clackamas County, who opposes the Cordon-Ellsworth bills. The other 17 county organizations have endorsed the legislation.

General Fire Alarm Set Off

A general alarm was touched off at central fire station Sunday afternoon when a fire was reported at 475 State Street.

True location of the fire was reported a few seconds later and fire equipment was diverted to 475 South 17th Street. An overheated stove pipe at the home of Mrs. G. L. Berkey caused considerable smoke and damage estimated at $100 when a nearby wall was ignited, firemen reported.

Prison-Bound Wreck Victims Satisfactory

Statesman News Service
STAYTON — Two persons injured in the accident near Detroit Friday that killed one prison bound woman were reported in satisfactory condition at the Santiam Memorial Hospital Sunday night.

Hospital authorities said Earl Cummins, Grant County deputy sheriff who was driving the car and transporting two prisoners to the state penitentiary, would be held at the hospital for several days. Mrs. Patricia Elliott, Grant County matron, will probably be transferred to a Portland hospital Monday, officials said.

Killed when the car crashed down a 100-foot embankment was Mrs. Opha Clement, 35, of Canyonville, who was en route to the penitentiary to serve a one year sentence. Her brother, Oscar Holland, sustained minor injuries in the accident and was transferred from the hospital to the penitentiary Saturday to start a life sentence.
