

Many Oregon Sheep Due at California Sale

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman

It may be known as the California Ram Sale, the one scheduled for Sacramento, Calif., for May 2-4, but Oregon will furnish about 50 per cent of the sheep to go on auction, according to the sale's catalog which is now being received by Oregon sheep raisers.

The sale is being held jointly with the California Wool Show, the Far Western International Sheep Dog Trials, the Junior Sheep Shearing Contest Finals and the California Sheep Show at the California State Fairgrounds.

This ram sale, held for the past 33 years, has been known as one of the outstanding sales of its kind in the western states and draws bidders from Mexico to Canada. It is sponsored by the California Wool Growers Association of which Judge Frank Noriega, widely known western sheep breeder, is president.

Opens May 2
The Wool show opens Sunday, May 2 at 9 a.m. with the first annual junior shearing contest finals at 1 p.m. that day, followed at 1:30 by the Far Western International Sheep Dog trials. Judges at the dog trials include James Harper, Amity; Ronald Hogg, Salem, as well as three California men, Wesley Wooden, Davis, and Homer Brown and Harold Taylor, both of Dixon.

On Monday, May 3, the sale of blackface rams begins at 9:30 with the whiteface rams and ewes to go on the block Tuesday, May 4, at 9 a.m. Final event on Tuesday afternoon is a special sale of rams and ewes for the convenience of small flock owners. Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys and girls.

DO THEY LOOK
OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) — Mayor William A. Morck said a recent survey showed there are facilities for 1,000 cars in parking lots plus on-the-street parking. And because of those spaces, the mayor says, Oil City motorists can find parking if they'll just look for it.
