YWCA Preview

By MRS. GUY N. HICKOK Past President of YWCA Board

I can remember (it must have been about 1943-4) when, with Esther Little, the executive secretary, I visited a city in Eastern Washington that had such a beautiful YWCA building. We looked and longed our hearts out, and took notes on everything from the side street entrance for men who might be bashful about entering the front door, to the sacred feminine precincts, and through to the excellent kitchen and auditorium facilities. And I remember how we returned home and tried to tell our bewildered board members about it, because some day we would have the bequest from the Carrier Estate, and would need to begin thinking about the size and kind of facilities to have in our new Salem YW.

The reason the Washington city had their YW because they had a Philanthropist, who loved young people, and who had given their YW building and its lovely furnishings all in one neat financial package. On the way home, we talked it over and decided we would rather have all our participating philanthropists, than one philanthropist who gave it all, because we could count on the warm human sympathy of so many who had helped us through the good years and bad years.

Some days ago, Miss Acheson took me through the new building, and as I walked down the corridor from the lobby, I exclaimed, "Why, I remember, now! This is just like our original plan!" Then I asked if the arrangement really worked—the auditorium and its kitchen facilities—the hall coat rack—even the different side entrances; and she assured me that it did, that they had served a luncheon to over a hundred Rotarians a short time before.

The gymnasium is something I would have liked to sit and look at as I remembered our efforts of previous years to provide some sort of place and equipment where physical workouts wouldn't be superimposed on potluck dinners, transient guests, and craft projects. Upstairs, the classes have a place to meet, and on the top floor there will be sleeping room, kitchen and laundry facilities. I think the arrangement has avoided many mistakes we saw in other places, and even though I saw it on a rainy day, that sundeck looked inviting.

One of the big remaining problems is to get this residence floor finished and usable. Another is the more adequate furnishing of other parts of the building; but for the time being, I stood in the rather bare rooms and breathed happily because there is room enough to breathe after so many years of crowding.

However, those lovely pianos we have been given by the piano philanthropists are already in use, and the room to the right of the lobby has many of the furniture gifts we have treasured and loved all through the years we have been moving. (And let's not forget the ones who helped us move!)

I didn't check on our china and tea and coffee services, but I'm very sure that they are there and honoring their donors, for there is a lovely kitchenette, which had been used earlier on the day that I was there. If it hadn't been the first stop of my tour, I'm sure I should have tried out the tea and coffee making equipment, just to see how much quicker it is when you don't have to hook two electric hot plates to one-sized light socket.

As I turned to leave the building, I looked at the lobby's bare walls and remembered again the Washington YW's lobby with the Philanthropist's portrait gazing benignly down in all his lonesome glory; and I wondered if we were to put up all our philanthropists' portraits if there would be room, enough, even though our lobby is so large. Because philanthropy—love for mankind—goodwill to all men—means us all.

A puppet show "The Talking Horse" will be presented by Portland Junior League members for pupils of McKinley School Thursday afternoon. Preceding the show the board members of the McKinley Mother's Club will entertain with a no-host luncheon at the home of Mrs. Maurice H. Miss Joyce Hargreaves A Bride

MONMOUTH—Miss Joyce Hargreaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hargreaves, Monmouth, became the bride of St. Sgt. Robert W. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin W. Wall, Newport, at a four o'clock ceremony Sunday, April 11 in the Methodist Church at Independence.

The Reverend Walter L. Nyberg read the service. Darrell Johnson, Klamath Falls, lighted the tapers. Stanley Starr, Portland, brother-in-law of the bride, played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Donald McLaughlin, Monmouth, who sang.

The bride wore a white satin gown made with a bolero over a laced bodice, and overskirt of nylon net. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a crystal and pearl beaded cap. She carried a white orchid with stephanotis on a white Bible.

Mrs. Stanley Starr was her sister's matron of honor, wearing pink taffeta in bolero style with nylon net overskirt and corsage of white yacinths and pink carnations. Attendants were Helen Booth and Donna Stewart, both of Salem, and Helen Wall, sister of the groom, wearing identical frocks of pale green, blue and yellow. Their corsages were similar to the matron of honor's in harmonizing colors.

Flower Girls Wear Pink
The flower girls, Pamela and Cheryl Joy Starr, nieces of the bride, wore pink taffeta frocks, Wallace Wall of Newport was best man for his brother. Seating the guests were Donald Boatman, Blodgett, Robert Beebe, North Bend and Darrell Johnson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hargreaves wore a gray ensemble with navy accessories. Mrs. Wall chose a lavender ensemble for her son's wedding with white accessories. Their corsages were of white and lavender cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed in the social rooms of the church. Mrs. R. W. Rose of Parkrose, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Mrs. R. J. Elkins, Molalla, aunt of the bride, presided at the coffee urn, and Mrs. Harry H. Hargreaves, Monmouth, another aunt, was at the punch bowl. Mrs. Gertrude Twoby, Silverton, also an aunt, assisted, Sallie Studnick, Scio, passed the guest book.

The bride, a graduate of Stayton high school, attended Contra Costa Junior College, California, and the Merritt-Davis School of Commerce, Salem. Sgt. Wall is recently home from Germany, where he served in the armed forces. He graduated from Scio High School and will attend Santa Ana Junior College in California, where they will reside.

Ten members answered roll call at the recent meeting of the Fruitland Home Extension Unit. The following officers were elected for next year: chairman, Mrs. John Shamberger; vice-chairman, Mrs. Martin Langam; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Carl Fischer.

Members of Hal Hibbard Auxiliary made plans for future events at the meeting Thursday at the Salem Woman's Club. A social meeting will be held May 7 at the home of Mrs. Mark Baker, 825 N. Cottage St., with a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon. Past presidents of the auxiliary will meet April 23 at the home of Mrs. Anna Wolford, 1740 N. 24th St., for a 1 o'clock refreshment luncheon.

The Brush College Tiny Timbles 4-H Sewing Club held their meeting Tuesday. Carol Ferguson is president of the group. Plans were for a program to be presented at the community club in May.

Miss Becker Tells Date At Party

The betrothal and date of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Anita Lamae Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Becker, to Paul Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Riley, was announced at a lovely Easter party Sunday afternoon when the bride-elect entertained at the South Liberty Street home of her parents.

The wedding of the couple will be an event of Saturday, June 19 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

A group of the bride-elect's school friends were bidden to the informal at home between 3 and 5 o'clock. Presiding at the coffee urn was Miss Becker's sister, Mrs. Ray J. Fritz of Stayton.

The centerpiece revealed the romantic news. The names of the duo and date were inscribed on a large Easter egg nestled in a floral heart shaped centerpiece of carnations.

Miss Becker and her fiancé are graduates of Sacred Heart Academy. The future Mrs. Riley is employed at the Oregon State Tax Commission and the bridegroom-elect is attending Oregon College of Education at Monmouth.
