

Complaints of Ex-PWs Against Cpl. Dickenson Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army Tuesday submitted a bill of particulars at the court martial of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson listing more than a score of one-time fellow prisoners of war who allegedly complained that Dickenson appeared to follow the Chinese Communist line.

Dickenson's shy, blonde wife, Lottie, listened without apparent emotion as the Army for the first time cited the broad base of its charges against Dickenson. The defense had demanded such a bill. Defense counsel Guy Emery created a surprise by agreeing to accept the bill of particulars without delay. He had been expected to ask for time to investigate the specific allegations.

However, Emery fought tenaciously to defend his 23-year-old client and moved successfully on several occasions to have the testimony of prosecution witnesses stricken from the record.

One of those named on the Army's list, Cpl. Thomas A. Carrick of Blacksburg, Va., who shared a foxhole with Dickenson and was captured on the same day with him in Korea in 1950, testified he heard Dickenson give the enemy the names of American POW's who were plotting to escape from a prison camp.

Under cross examination, Carrick acknowledged he also heard Dickenson admit to the Chinese that he himself was planning an escape.

Carrick, one of the prosecution's star witnesses, testified with obvious reluctance.

"It's hard to say anything against a man you fought in combat with," he said.

Dickenson, who originally chose to stay in enemy hands but finally came home, appeared relaxed and unperturbed as his courtmartial continued into the second day. He smiled frequently and chatted with his attorney. He is accused of informing on fellow POW's to get favored treatment for himself.

Course Due On Care of War Victims

How to care for war victims on a large scale will be the subject of a statewide training course at Gladstone June 14 to 16, inclusive, the Oregon Civil Defense Agency announced Tuesday.

The course will include all phases of emergency welfare, mass care, temporary rehabilitation, registration and information and evacuation. The course will be open to all civil defense workers, particularly public welfare and Red Cross personnel, according to Mrs. Loa Howard Mason, head of the State Civil Defense Welfare Service.

CORVALLIS—Thirteen students from Salem have been listed on the winter term scholastic honor roll at Oregon State College.

Dale Bever, Nancy Moorefield and Dean Booster earned straight A averages in their course work of at least 12 academic hours.

Students receiving grade averages of 3.5 or better on the basis of an A equaling 4 points were Marygrace Harger, Carmella Burch, Gene Gregory, Janice Coffel, Rudolph Henny, Willis Wood, Orland Ray, Virginia Lively, Jo Anne Olson, and James Chadsey.

There were 348 students named on the winter term honor roll with 62 listed as earning straight A's.

Illness Claims Mrs. Campbell

Mrs. Margaret Estella Campbell, resident of Salem since 1919, died Tuesday at the residence, 1330 N. 18th St., at the age of 84 years following an illness of the past year.

Announcement of services will be made later by the W. T. Rigdon Co.

Mrs. Campbell was born July 18, 1869, at New Sharon, Iowa, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Latham. She married George M. Campbell in September, 1892, at Oskaloosa, Iowa, and he died Feb. 2, 1942. A son and daughter also preceded Mrs. Campbell in death.

She was a member of Harmony Rebekah Lodge and a member of Royal Neighbors for the past 50 years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Sunday, Salem; brother, John Durham, Tacoma, Wash.; 5 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

About two-fifths of U.S. men from 70 to 74 years old are employed.

Realtors to Fete Johnsons

Ragnor Johnson, recently appointed Oregon State real estate commissioner, and Mrs. Johnson will be honored at a reception tonight by the Salem Board of Realtors.

The reception, including a buffet supper, will be held at the Marion Hotel at 7 o'clock. Attending the reception will be Salem realtors, wives and guests. In the receiving line will be Rudy Calaba, president of the Salem Board and Lee Ohmart, Salem Board member and president of the Oregon Association of Real Estate Boards.

Johnson was appointed to his new position by Gov. Paul Patterson, April 1, succeeding Alvin Crose. The Johnsons have this week moved to Salem from their former home in Astoria, where Johnson was a prominent real estate dealer.
