

Eight Choose To Work With Salvation Unit

Decisions for full-time Salvation Army careers were made by eight youth delegates during the Salvation Army's young people's conference which concluded in Salem Sunday afternoon.

The eight will start the fall term at the group's Officer Training College in San Francisco, according to Capt. Ben Wold, commander of the Salem unit. The training period entails a one-year residence course plus five years correspondence while working in the field, Capt. Wold said.

A total of 140 delegates from 12 corps throughout the state were present for the conference which included a banquet Saturday night at the Salem Armory followed by a youth rally, Sunday morning breakfast at the Marion Hotel and business and study sessions at the Salem Citadel.

Principal speakers during the two-day meet were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Bearchell of San Francisco, field secretary for the Army's western territory. Also present to lead discussion groups were Maj. Harry Larsen, Oregon-Idaho commander, and Capt. Gordon Eplett of Portland, secretary of the young people's division.

U.S. Women More Neurotic Than Europe's

By BARNEY COHAN
LOS ANGELES (INS)—An internationally-famous psychoanalyst says American women talk more, are more neurotic and resort to divorce more often than European women.

The paradoxical reason, according to Dr. Theodore Reik, friend and student of the late Sigmund Freud, is that American women have achieved equality with men.

Competition
The former Viennese collaborator of Freud made his observations in an interview prior to a recent series of lectures in the Los Angeles area. He said: "A woman renounces her superiority when she accepts equality. Women should not compete with men."

Dr. Reik said women in this country must be many things which she need not be in Europe—"she must be a businesswoman, a wife, a mother and a sweetheart."

This, he added, leads to a certain turning away from women in men, a condition he described as "not healthy." He said it also accounts for the high American divorce rate. Dr. Reik continued:

"Women in this country talk more because of the tendency toward equal rights. In Europe, when a man takes out a girl, he does his utmost to amuse, fascinate and charm her with his witty conversation and carefully-tailored compliments. She listens and relaxes.

Talks Rapidly
"But observe a young man and young woman in this country. You will see the girl talking rapidly while the man sits back and listens. She is trying to fascinate and attract the man."

The result, he said, has been the virtual abandonment of the courting business by American men.

The psychoanalyst observed that men generally are less patient than women, "but in the United States there is a certain impatience to be seen in women in marriage."

"The woman, frying pork chops, says impatiently to her husband: 'You want me to cook your meal and look like Hedy Lamarr, too.'"

He blamed this situation on the failure of mothers to educate their daughters to be proud of being a woman and a homemaker.

He expressed shock over the "terrible language" used by American college girls today.
