Control Board Denies Hospital Beds Exceed Number Authorized

Charges by the State Emergency Board last Friday that the State Board of Control had provided more beds for a new addition to the Oregon State Hospital than authorized by the 1953 Legislature were denied by Board of Control members at a meeting Tuesday.

"More beds are desperately needed at the hospital," State Treasurer Sig Unander said.

Unander said the board of control had based the plans for the hospital addition on actual needs and there had been no extravagance.

"I think we should sit down with the emergency board members and discuss the hospital project," he said.

Too Autocratic — Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry said the emergency board was too autocratic.

Gov. Paul L. Patterson said, so far as he has been able to determine, the legislature made no restriction as to the number of beds in the new addition. Neither did the legislature make any provision for the necessary equipment, Gov. Patterson averred.

It previously had been proposed that members of the emergency board and board of control meet jointly during the week of May 24. Gov. Patterson objected to a meeting during that week.

Patterson said both he and Newbry would be entitled to a rest immediately following the primary election.

Proposal Approved — A proposal to set up a counselor or service at the state penitentiary was approved by the board of control. Such a service was

... did you know BRUCKMAN'S SPRINGS at Breitenbush are going to open on MAY 15th? Remember how good the baths made you feel?"

"YES, MARSHA, let's go back this year. Boy what a swimming pool! I didn't do so bad fishing, either. Met a lot of nice folks, had fun dancing and hiking, too. Remember the wienie roasts and horseback riding? . . . and best of all, I felt relaxed and rested when we got home. Boy, that mountain air!"

"JOHN . . . I know the cabins are nice, but couldn't we stay at the Lodge this year . . . so I wouldn't have to cook at all? Those meals were so good and reasonable, too."

"O. K. MARSHA, the lodge opens MAY 28th. We'll go up then. When the Jones' come with their kids and the dog, we'll have a cabin reserved for them. Call them and tell 'em they can get all their groceries and meat up there, and they can write for a folder if they want more information."

"OH, JOHN, I can hardly wait! After our vacation, let's go up on several week-ends. Write to M. D. BRUCKMAN at Breitenbush, Ore., and ask him to make a reservation for us."

"YES, MARSHA."
