All Faculty at Silvertown High Offered Jobs

Statesman News Service
SILVERTOWN—All present Silvertown High School faculty members were offered new contracts with the new Silvertown Union High School at a school board meeting here Saturday night.

Cordell Woodall, principal of the junior high here, will join the high school staff next fall to teach social subjects and mathematics. Thomas Cutshall, Bandon, was offered a contract for the junior high school post.

Negotiations were underway to sign Howard Balderstone, Silvertown superintendent for two years, to a new contract with the system. Balderstone will receive his doctorate from the University of Oregon in June.

A meeting of the board is scheduled Wednesday to discuss appraisal of present high school facilities which the new union district will buy.

Fred Schwab, board chairman, also announced that a bond election to raise funds for the new school will be held next month with the amount to be decided after the appraisal of present facilities is completed.

City Council to Get Letter on Fluoridation

Fluoridation of Salem water supply is endorsed in a letter from the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association which will be received tonight by the Salem City Council.

On a short agenda the council will also hold public hearings on vacation of portions of 17th and Mission Streets where the two streets would intersect if 17th were extended and on plans to improve Trade Street from Cottage to Winter Streets.

A resolution to construct a 22-foot driveway in front of a drive-in restaurant now under construction at Rural and 12th St. will also be considered.

Rezoning of Silvertown Road areas from a class 2 business district to class 3 and to amend the zoning map accordingly will be up for first reading by the council. Second reading is due on an ordinance to exempt wrecker's license on demolition of buildings of a public housing authority and to vacate the 17th and Mission Street intersection property.

Also included on the council agenda are:

1. A letter from C. W. Bartell requesting a 40-foot driveway to accommodate a new motel at 2305 S. Commercial St.

2. Petition for a sanitary sewer on McGilchrist Street from S. Church to S. Cottage.

3. Petition for improvement of High Street from McGilchrist to the south city limits.

2 Ex-Teachers In Valley Area Draw Honors

A new lectureship at Harvard University honoring two former Willamette Valley teachers has been announced by Dean Francis Keppel of the school.

The Burton Lectureship in Elementary Education will honor the donors, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burton. Dr. Burton who has been in the field of education and teacher training for 42 years, has been director of apprentice teaching at Harvard for the last 16 years.

Dr. Burton taught in a number of Willamette Valley school systems between 1912 and 1917 and was a close friend of the late George W. Hug of Salem. He is the brother of Mrs. E. G. Sanders of Salem.

Mrs. Burton taught at Carlton, McMinnville and Portland schools and is joint author with her husband of the Burton Civics Information Test.

U.S. Motion Picture Said 'Conspiracy'

MOSCOW—A Moscow newspaper calls the renowned motion picture "Gone With The Wind" a conspiracy carefully organized in Wall Street to arouse race-hatred against American Negroes.

The official organ of the Soviet Ministry of Culture, Soviet Culture, labelled the picture, now being revived in American theatres, anti-Negro propaganda, and declared:

"The propaganda of racism was very subtle. They paid special attention to this film in Wall Street. They spent a lot of time in its staging."

"The premiere of the film was in the center of the Ku Klux Klan country, Atlanta, Georgia. It was a particularly reactionary film about the Civil War in the United States."

The paper accused the American motion picture industry of waging a war against Negroes and other minority groups in the United States in other films, too.

Death Claims A. H. Sears, 76

Alden Harry Sears, 76, farmer in the Chemawa district for the past 18 years, died Sunday morning at his home at 5765 Quinby Rd., apparently of a heart condition.

He was born at Hancock, Iowa July 8, 1877, and spent several years in South Dakota and California before moving to Oregon in 1926. He first settled near Silvertown where he was in the lumber industry before moving to Salem in 1935.

Sears is survived by the widow, Mrs. Amy E. Sears whom he married in Iowa in 1907; two sons, Irving Sears, Gervais, and Duane Sears of Salem; daughter, Mrs. Emma Otto, Salem; sisters, Miss Flora Sears, Miss Lettie Sears and Mrs. Beryl F. Fote, all of Salem; 10 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced later by the Rowell-Edwards Co.

Perley Hysler, City Resident 43 Years, Dies

Perley Hysler, resident of Salem since 1911, died Sunday afternoon at a Salem hospital following an illness of about two years. He was 72.

Born at Somersville, Maine, Hysler was married to Miss Annie Isherwood at Salem in 1912. Until ill health forced him to retire, he worked at the ship yards in Portland and later as a custodian. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Hysler is survived by the widow, Mrs. Annie Hysler, Salem; daughters, Mrs. Hazel Taylor and Mrs. Oscar Phillips, both of Salem; son, Kenneth H. Hysler, Portland; nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Catholic Youth Join Voices in Peace Prayer

ROME—Children of Rome joined Roman Catholic children everywhere Sunday in a prayer for peace.

Composed by the Pope, the prayer was directed to Jesus. "If men," said the praying children, "with our help will love one another, there will be true peace on earth, and we children will be able to live without fear of the horrors of a new war."

City Now Has Latest Thing in Search Lights

Salem now has the latest thing in search lights, but they are not a part of the Civil Defense effort. The three new 60-inch lights have been purchased by the recently formed Nite Sky Lites company for night advertising purposes. They will be rented out, singly or together, according to W. E. Nelson, operator of the new firm, a part of West Salem Machinery Co.

The lights are armed forces surplus recently bought by the company at a California depot.

Eskimo Scouts See Television

CHICAGO (INS)—In Alaska, the land of the Midnight Sun, 300 Eskimo Scouts recently got their first glimpse of some of the other "wonders" of the universe—Jack Benny and I Love Lucy.

Through the cooperation of Admiral corporation, they saw television for the first time. The Scouts, part of the Alaskan National Guard, were assembled at Camp Denali on Fort Richardson, Alaska, for a two-week encampment.

William W. Winkels, general manager of the Anchorage branch of the television-appliance manufacturer, installed a 15-foot antenna on top of a 35-foot recreation tent, while the Scouts, wide-eyed gathered around a large screen TV set to watch programs transmitted from Alaska's only commercial TV station, located in Anchorage.
