

McCarthy Asserts Congress Must Check up on President

MILWAUKEE (AP) - Sen. McCarthy declared Sunday that "the executive branch of government is the branch of government which is responsible for making certain it is done." "And, if it is not done," McCarthy continued in an interview, "it is the responsibility of the special committees of Congress to find out why."

His questions were made in answering comments about the authenticity and responsibility of the separate executive and legislative branches of government in relation to the present Senate committee hearings on his row with Pentagon officials.

"There is no point beyond which the activities of the executive department" in cases of suspected wrongdoing "ceases to be the interest of Congress," the senator said.

No Names Told
"Only the method of investigation need be kept private. I would not suggest that the FBI make public the technique by which it obtains information, nor the names of persons who give it. Nor do I intend to make public the similar files of the senate permanent investigations subcommittee."

McCarthy said the present hearings reflect "just the age-old problem of clarifying responsibility between the executive and legislative branches of government."

"There is nothing new about it. Other administrations have encountered it, other presidents have acted as they saw fit and Congress has acted to make the duties of each branch clear."

McCarthy repeated he had no quarrel with President Eisenhower but that the present hearings before the committee showed a startling situation has developed in the administration.

Publication of the monitored telephone calls between Army Secretary Stevens and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) "showed that the leftwing Democrat advisors of Democrat administrations still are exerting their influence on this Republican administration."

He meant, he said, Sen. Symington, former Air Force secretary under President Truman; Clark Clifford, former White House counsel, and also elements of the press which he said had been associated with the left wing of the Democratic party.

"The administration is too sensitive to the opinions of the Eastern press," he said. "The left wing writers are those the administration people read, and the ones they believe."

McCarthy said that although he had considered the hearings a waste of time, he thought that matters of historic import concerning the Democratic form of government were being brought forcefully to the attention of the people. In this way, he said, they might have a beneficial effect.

First Launching

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—The Navy released photo showing the first launching of an airplane from a U. S. carrier by steam catapult instead of a hydraulic catapult. Sen. McCarthy Recall Petition Result Unknown

SAUK CITY, Wis. (AP) - Whether enough Wisconsin citizens have signed petitions to force Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) into a recall election won't be known until at least 10 a.m. Monday.

The deadline for the 60-day petition drive came at midnight Saturday. The Joe Must Go Club of Wisconsin needed more than 400,000 signatures in the petition under Wisconsin law to effect a special election.

Ivan Nestingen, Madison, secretary of the Joe Must Go Club, said the club's steering committee met here Saturday and took a number of actions but that the committee voted not to make any announcements till 10 a.m. Monday.

Nesting promised there would be an announcement Monday morning and said it might possibly include the final count of signatures obtained in the drive.

Man Queried In Hit-Run Accident Case

A hit and run accident about five miles north of Keizer on North River Road was reported to state police late Sunday night and a few minutes later an Arkansas driver was picked up and questioned in connection with the incident.

Dr. H. M. Olinger of Salem, reported that his car had been hit and damaged extensively by another vehicle which failed to remain at the accident scene, police said.

Questioned concerning the accident was Golden Earl Simpson, 37, of Memo, Ark. police reported. Simpson's 1941 model car was found damaged and abandoned, about two miles north of the accident site, investigators officers said. No charges had been filed early this morning.

Politicos Near Campaign End In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Weary candidates made their final swing for votes Sunday as California's 1954 primary campaign reached its climax.

No last-minute political explosions marked the election drive, and it was just a case of waiting for the verdict of the voters Tuesday.

Democratic groups, however, hoped to capitalize on Saturday's action by Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, in defending Richard P. Graves, Democratic candidate for governor.

Mitchell accused Gregory Harrison of San Francisco, chairman of the newly-organized "Democratic Conference Against Radical Party Leadership" of "maneuvering" as a Democrat. The Harrison faction is supporting Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Mitchell curtly rejected Harrison's suggestion to purge the state Democratic Party of "radical" elements. He said the proposal bore "all the tell-tale marks" of "political subversion."

It was the second time Mitchell stepped into the California campaign. Previously he refused national committee support of Rep. Robert Condon (D-Calif.) and James Roosevelt, running for Congress from the 26th District of Los Angeles.

Big Tanker Launched in Hamburg Area

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) - The world's biggest tanker, the 47,000-ton Al-Malik Saud Al-Awal (the King Saul I) was launched at the Howaldt shipyards here this weekend.

The big ship, more than 100 feet longer than the battleship Missouri, can carry as much oil as 5000 railroad tank cars, is as high as a 12-story building and is powered with a turbine engine of 17,500 horsepower, giving a cruising speed of 17 knots.

The vessel is fitted with radar, fireproof decks, and has air-conditioned two and three-berth cabins for the crew.

Greek-born Argentine multimillionaire Aristotele Socrates Onassis proudly watched as his biggest vessel slipped into the water, bringing his world-girdling tanker fleet to well over 1,300,000 tons.

Police Win as Persistence Outlasts Speed

Traveling at better than 90 miles an hour, a state patrolman Sunday night failed to overtake a late model Jaguar between Camp Adair and Monmouth on Highway 99W, state police reported.

But the offending motorist stopped at Monmouth for a few minutes and was nailed as he drove out of town toward Portland.

Patrolman Stanton Zelmer explained that he started chasing the red Jaguar after it whipped around him at Camp Adair but was unable to keep the car in sight. A few minutes later, just north of Monmouth, the same driver was spotted. The driver, a Portland man, was cited for violation of the basic rule.

2 Teenagers Die, 3 Hurt in Idaho Wreck

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) - A car carrying five Troy, Idaho, teenagers home from a dance early Sunday morning crashed through a guard rail on U. S. Highway 95, killing two and critically injuring the other three.

Sheriff's officers identified the dead as Willis Rauch, 17, and Vernon Swanson, who was to have celebrated his 19th birthday Sunday.

Sherrie Condell, 17, Laverne Jacobson, 24, and Edward Swanson, 18, cousin of the dead youth, were taken to a hospital at Moscow where their conditions were reported critical.

The sheriff's office said the accident happened when their 1950 sedan failed to make a curve at the bottom of a hill on the road between Moscow and Potlatch, where the five attended a dance. All were thrown from the auto as it careened 186 yards after leaving the highway, finally coming to rest in a gully 30 feet below the road.

Luncheon to Start Portland Rose Festival

PORTLAND (AP) - A luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Monday will officially open the 46th annual Portland Rose Festival.

Homey Welch, former Portland radio man now a television producer in Hollywood, will outline plans at the luncheon for the musical shows to be staged at Multnomah Stadium Thursday and Friday nights.

The two shows also will feature "Dancing Waters," an illuminated fountain display.

On Wednesday night the selection and coronation of the queen will be the major event of the stadium show.

Four U. S. Navy minesweepers, a heavy cruiser and a submarine will be in the Portland harbor for the festival.

FOREWARNED, FOREARMED
OMAHA (AP) - Burglars who broke into an Omaha store and tried to open a large cigarette container got a surprise. There were no cigarettes in the labeled container. Seems the store had been looted before and the smokes had been moved to another spot.

Suicide Try Victim Off 'Critical' List

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP) - Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, Burlingame divorcee whose attempted suicide was balked by a transatlantic telephone call Saturday, was reported off the critical list but still reportedly ill by Sunday.

Mrs. Evans, 39, was found unconscious with two sleeping pill bottles beside her when police burst into her apartment early Saturday morning.

The police had been alerted by Mrs. Cecilia Hurd of Burlingame, whose husband, John, had called her from London after Mrs. Evans had called him.

Police Chief R. C. Theuer said a suicide note addressed to "John" was found and a letter written by Hurd to Mrs. Evans.

Police Sgt. Edward Hallett said the letter informed the divorcee that all was off between Hurd and Mrs. Evans and that he was going back to his wife.

Mrs. Hurd told police that she and her husband separated early in 1953, during which time Hurd met Mrs. Evans. She said she and her husband have now been reconciled.

Police said Hurd, a friend of Mrs. Evans, became concerned when the bad connection was interrupted by a "thud." Hurd telephoned immediately to his wife, Cecilia, and she notified police. Mrs. Hurd lives in Burlingame with their four sons.

(In London, Hurd told a reporter the incident was "a tempest in a teapot" and would not discuss his part in it further.)

Mrs. Hurd said that she is planning to join her husband in England this summer and place one of her children in an English school in the fall. Hurd has been in England for the past four months on company business.

Indoor Sports Club Elects Salem Man

SPOKANE (AP) - The two-day meeting of the Indoor Sports Club, district 5, wound up here Sunday with a banquet and installation of officers.

Lee Stone, Wenatchee, Wash., was installed as president. Other officers installed are Miss Thelma Rabie, Yakima, Wash., first vice president; Ray Cleveland, Salem, Ore., second vice president; Jack Riegler, Boise, Idaho, third vice president; Miss Lorraine Ralph, Spokane, Wash., membership secretary, and Patrick Rogers, Portland, Ore., treasurer.

About 150 delegates attended the weekend meet, held here in conjunction with the parent organization.

Night Club Blaze Fatal At Tillamook

TILLAMOOK (AP) - A fire, which destroyed the Town Club here Saturday night, claimed the life of Arthur Edmund Holden, 72.

Holden, father of the owner of the night club, was sleeping upstairs when the fire was discovered. Firemen failed in their attempts to reach him.

The blaze, which did an estimated $30,000 damage, apparently started in the club's kitchen.

Philippines Bandit Sought

MANILA (AP) - A 600-man army-constabulary force Sunday launched a determined search for bandit leader Kamlon on Jolo island in the southern Philippines, with orders to take him dead or alive.

President Ramon Magsaysay had given the wiry Moro outlaw leader until midnight Saturday to surrender on charges of breaking his parole. The parole was granted last year by then President Elpidio Quirino on condition that Kamlon and his followers lay down their arms.
