Legionnaire

Arthur J. Connell, national commander of the American Legion, who will visit Salem and Woodburn Friday.

Legion's Top Commander To Visit Valley

Arthur J. Connell, American Legion national commander, will make a whirlwind visit to Marion County American Legion events Friday, following appearances in Portland and Astoria.

Commander Connell, of Middletown, Conn., will make his first public appearance here at 3 p.m. during a tour of Beaver Boys State union in session on the Willamette University campus.

Following a brief rest period Commander Connell will be guest of honor at a no-host dinner at the Marion hotel at 5:30 p.m.

After the dinner the party will move on to Woodburn where Commander Connell will officiate at a mass initiation of new American Legion members from Marion County at the Woodburn Legion hall at 8 p.m. The initiation will be conducted by the Portland Rose City ritual team, sponsored by the Marion County Council.

The Salem dinner will be attended by a small group of state, city and American Legion officials, and is by invitation since Commander Connell will not be making a speech or formal public appearance.

Among those invited are the State Board of Control, American Legion members of the State Supreme Court, national American Legion committee members Hollis Hull, Eugene Orr, James Garvin, B. E. Owens and R. H. Bassett; state department officers; district two Commander H. B. Lichtenhan, Dayton, and Vice-Commander John Muir, Mill City.

Commanders and Commanders-elect of Salem American Legion posts will include: Ray Rhoten and Ridgeway Miller, Post 136; Hal Lehman and E. A. Dickson, Kingwood Post 81; John Wood and Daryl Donaldson, Capital Post 9; Mrs. Lester J. Perry, Post 149; John Crockatt and Claude Martin, Voiture 153.40 and 8.

Robert F. White, representing Mayor Alfred Loucks, and William H. Hammond, president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, will both represent the city of Salem. Others are Attorney General Robert V. Thornton, H. C. Salfeld, state veterans affairs director; and Ray Gilles, Commander Woodburn Post 46.

3 Salem Students Given Positions on UO Newspaper

EUGENE — Three University of Oregon journalism students from Salem have been appointed to positions on the Oregon Daily Emerald, the student publication on the campus.

Anne Ritchey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Ritchey of 1045 N. 13th St., who served this year as feature editor for the newspaper, has been appointed assistant managing editor for the coming year. She is a Salem high school graduate and a sophomore at the university.

Robert Paul Robinson, also a sophomore, was named assistant news editor. He has just finished a term as Emerald sports editor. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Robinson, 1630 S. Winter St.

Freshman William Mainwaring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mainwaring, 2540 Skopel Ave., will serve next year as business office manager.

State Refuses to Seek O&C Ruling Rehearing

The State Board of Control Tuesday turned thumbs down on a proposal that it intervene in opposing rehearing before the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals based on a recent decision involving distribution of O & C land grant funds to Oregon counties.

The board was asked to intervene by Clackamas County commissioners Stan Skoko and Robert Jones. The intervention was opposed by Clackamas County Judge Wallace Telford along with 17 other O & C land grant counties.

The intervention was opposed by Gov. Paul L. Patterson and State Treasurer Sig Unander with Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry favoring the intervention.

Gov. Patterson, at the conclusion of the discussion, said there was no proof that it would be of any benefit for the state to intervene.

"I most certainly do not feel that the board of control should take sides in favor of one county when officials of 17 other counties are opposed to the state intervening," the Governor averred.

Frank Sever, attorney for the land grants counties, declared the Cordon-Ellsworth bill now before congress provides for distribution of $5,000,000 land grant funds to Oregon counties and for future distribution under the Department of Forestry in the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Administration of O & C Land is now a function of the Bureau of Lands, Department of the Interior. The Clackamas County commissioners said the smaller lumber operators, based on previous records, have received the best treatment from the Interior Department.

They charged that the forest service has favored the larger operators.

Following attacks on the Cordon-Ellsworth Bill by the Clackamas County commissioners and A. W. Lafferty, Portland attorney, Gov. Patterson said the board of control was not interested in such a line of argument.

"This bill is now before congress and it is not the function of the board of control to advise congress what action it shall take," Gov. Patterson continued.

Final Services Thursday for G. W. Redpath

Services for George W. Redpath, resident of Salem for the past 29 years and an employee of the Oregon Pulp and Paper Company who died Monday, will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in the Virgil T. Golden Chapel.

The Rev. Louis E. White will officiate and interment will be held at City View Cemetery.

Redpath was born in Canada in 1886 and he became a citizen of the United States shortly after coming to this country.

E. W. Chretien Succumbs to 3-Year Illness

Edward W. Chretien, late resident of 1905 Broadway St., died Tuesday at a local hospital at the age of 83 years. He had been ill for the past three years.

Recitation of the rosary will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Clough-Barrick Chapel with services to be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic Church. Interment will be at St. Barbara Cemetery.

Chretien, a farmer for a number of years in the Silverton area, was born in Quebec, Canada in October, 1870. He moved to Bontineau, N. D. at the age of 17 years where he homesteaded for about 45 years. He had lived in retirement in Salem for the past 10 years.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Roseanna Chretien, Salem; five daughters, Mrs. Wilfred Cole, Willow City, N. D.; Mrs. Carl Charnholm, Mrs. Dora Forcier, and Mrs. Richard Christian, all of Salem, and Mrs. Noel St. Germain, Scappoose; two sons, Dwayne Chretien, Salem, and Clarence Chretien, Portland; brother, Esdras Chretien, of Windsor, Ontario, Can.; 14 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Farm Tour for Businessmen Next Tuesday

A farm tour for Salem businessmen is planned for next Tuesday by Salem Chamber of Commerce's agriculture committee.

Chamber members and others interested are to leave together in cars from the Marion Hotel at 10 a. m. to visit 200-acre dairy farm at Barnes Bros. near Silverton.

The partnership with the Salem chamber's trophy for Grassman of the Year honors last year.

The farm tour will end after a dairy lunch provided for the group by dairy distributors.

Cherry Fruit Fly Spraying to Continue

Continue dusting or spraying for cherry fruit fly control at 7 to 10 day intervals until harvest, D. L. Rasmussen said Tuesday.

Cool weather has retarded cherry fruit fly emergence. Even though rainy weather has hindered the control program, there is still time to control the fly.

Lead arsenate, methoxychlor or rotenone are recommended control materials.
