Bellotti Bunt Wins Nightcap

Briggs Faces T-City In Series Windup

By AL LIGHTNER

The Salem Senators bounced back from a win-streak ending 6-1 setback in last night's Waters Field doubleheader with the Tri-City Braves to cop the nightcap, on a daring and spectacular ninth inning bunt, by a 3-2 score.

LUBY SIGNS LUBY

Dennis Luby, hard-hitting catcher and infielder who has been with the now defunct Calgary Stampede, has been signed by the Senators and will join the club at Tri-City this weekend. Luby is the property of the Cleveland Indians and comes on option through that organization. He is also the nephew of Manager Hugh Luby of the Solons. Latest WIL averages show Dennis Luby hitting .301, with nine homers.

out in the ninth, gambled with a two-strike count on him and pushed down the run-scoring and game-winning bunt. It scored Jimmy Deyo, who had opened the rally with a single, and Deyo was safe by an eyelash at the plate.

Even though their four-game victory string was broken in the opener when Jess Dobernio flipped a three-hitter, the Senators went 2-1 ahead in the series by virtue of their nightcap nod.

They'll close out the series tonight in a 7:30 o'clock single clash, same being the annual Salem Elks Club "Night."

Of particular note, young Johnny Briggs, the W.I. league's strike-out champ to date, will be at his 10th conquest of the campaign. Mgr. Edo Vanni of the Braves has not announced his starter.

It was simply too much Dobernio in the seven-inning opener last night. The veteran righthander gave Gene Tanselli his eighth home run in the first inning, over the right field wall, but that was about all for the entire game even in the matter of safeties. Connie Perez got a first inning single until Tanselli singled to center in the fourth.

That was it.

Salem had a big chance in the fourth, filling the bases with nobody out. But the next three swingers went down on short and easy flies to the outfield.

Tri-City started out with a bang in the first with five big runs, most at Lefty Tom Del Sarto's expense.

Bob McGuire and Vic Buccola drilled out hits and moved up on a sacrifice. Artie Wilson walked to fill the bases. Jack Warren grounded to Tanselli and Gene Tanselli to the plate for what might have been the start of an inning-ending double play.

But usually reliable Floyd Ogden dropped the ball and the flood-gates opened. Bob Moniz and Terry Carroll got hits, driving Del Sarto out and Jimmy Deyo made a couple of miscues in center-field smack in the midst of the uprising.

Larry Borst was sent in to stop the surge, and did just that. He also got by the next four innings before leaving for a pinchhitter, but Salem could do nothing with Dobernio's control pitching.

Jose Rayle was nipped for an unearned run in the sixth, on another Salem bobble, and for the game the Solons made five of the miscues.

The second game saw the Solons go 1-0 ahead in the first when Dale Bloom, rangy enemy righthanded wild pitcher in Bellotti, who had earlier gained life on an error and moved around on a stolen base and an infield out.

Tri-City went 2-1 ahead in the sixth, knocking Starter Gene Johnson out and again bringing on Rayle.

The dangerous Buccola, enjoying himself quite a hitting series, opened with a single, advanced on an error and scored on Wilson's single. When Catcher Rube Johnson doubled in Wilson, Boss Hugh Luby waved for Rayle.

Jose did his chores well and zipped on by the Braves the rest of the way.

Salem tied it in the seventh off Lefty Carl Lemieux, who earlier succeeded Bloom and pitched brilliantly for five innings, even though he wild pitched in Bellotti again after Carl had singled and rambled to third on Mel Krause's safety.

In the ninth it was Deyo's opening single, a sacrifice, a political pass to Ogden and Rayle's infield single to first base, fielded oked by Buccola with a spectacular play, but finding no one covering the bag.

Don Robertson had been called in by Vanni to replace Lemieux and was guilty of the mental error. This loaded the bases and brought up Bellotti. Robertson got two strikes on him, and positively no one figured Rube Carl would dare try a squeeze. But he did, and it worked. Third-base man Carroll was fast to nab the bouncer and try for the plate, but it was a fraction late.

Oakland Trims Beavers Despite Home Runs

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Oakland Aacorns scored five runs on a pair of hits in the sixth inning to trim the Portland Beavers 5-3 in a Pacific Coast League game here Wednesday night.

Portland bounced back with home runs in the next two innings.

Brenner Beats Yakima Bears

Manager Bill Brenner of the Vancouver Caps stopped any ideas the Yakima Bears might have had of cutting the Capilano Western International League lead to two games last night when he hurled his loop-pacers to a 6-0 victory over the Bears at Yakima.

Needless to say, the win pushed the Caps four full games ahead of the aspiring Bears.

Brenner and his knuckler checked the Bears without a hit for five innings. Vancouver got four runs in the third on hits by Nick Pesut, K. Chorlton and Dick Greco, sandwiched around two walks, an error and a sacrifice fly.

The Lewiston Broncs took a 10-3 victory over Victoria, getting four runs in the first on four walks, a single and Clint Cameron's double. Dean Kime pitched the win.

Edmonton handed the Wenatchee Chiefs their fifth straight loss, a 10-5 drubbing at Wenatchee. Don Gigli and Bob Brown hit long homers for the Eskimos. Charley Beamon was the loser, Art Worth the winner.

Americans Bring Action Into Wimbledon Tennis

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Wimbledon sprang to life Wednesday and it took a bunch of Americans to bring this premier tennis tournament out of the doldrums.

Five of them won in the second round of men's singles and four of them lost, but win or lose, they put on the top shows of a hot day in the All-England Lawn Tennis Championships.

One Yank loser, Andy Paton of Ann Arbor, Mich., almost pulled off the upset of the week when he carried Denmark's tenth seeded Kurt Nielsen, to five sets before bowing to last year's finalist 6-3, 12-10, 4-6, 4-6, 6-4.

All five seeded Americans—No. 1 Tony Trabert, No. 4 Vic Seixas, No. 6 Art Larsen, No. 7 Budge Patty and No. 12 Gardnar Mulloy—won.

The highest regarded loser was Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., who put up a whale of a fight, hit every spot known to tennis and retrieved until he was exhausted. The victor was Ken Rosewall, Australia's 19-year-old who is seeded third. The score was 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

That scrap and the Patty-Hugh Stewart match were the headliners of the day. Patty, the 1950 champion, beat Stewart, of Los Angeles, 10-8, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, on the famed center court.

In the top women's second round singles, third seeded Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, won from Jacqueline Kermina, France, 6-2, 6-1, and fourth seeded Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., defeated Erika Volmer, Germany, 6-3, 6-3.

Homers Help In 5-2 Win

Lemon Pitches, Hits For Cleveland Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants ran out of ninth inning miracles Wednesday and were beaten by Milwaukee 5-2.

The league leaders loaded the bases with nobody out in the final frame. But Dave Jolly replaced Jim Wilson and retired the side while the baserunners waited in vain.

The victory was the fourth of the season for Wilson, who hasn't been whipped, and his second since he pitched the major leagues' only no-hitter so far this year.

Home runs by Joe Adcock, Andy Pafo and Del Crandall accounted for four of the five Milwaukee runs.

Brooklyn took advantage of the Giants' lapse to cut the New Yorkers' first place margin to a single game. The Dodgers whipped Cincinnati 6-3 with Duke Snider driving in four runs. Don Newcombe posted his fifth victory and his second straight complete game.

Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals won his 12th game—tops in both leagues—but his scoreless innings streak was topped at 37 by the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Cards defeated the Pirates 7-1 with the Pittsburgh run scoring in the sixth inning.

A two run double by Willie Jones in the eighth inning helped the Philadelphia Phillies whip the Chicago Cubs 5-3. Randy Jackson homered off winner Curt Simmons.

In the American League the "haves" took it away from the "have nots" again.

First place Cleveland defeated Philadelphia 5-2. Second place Chicago beat Washington 8-6 and third place New York thumped Detroit 9-4.

The Indians used their home run war clubs to topple the Athletics. All of their scoring came on homers by Larry Doby, Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Lemon. Rosen's blast was his first homer since May 28 and gave him the league lead with 14. Lemon's victory was his ninth against four losses.

Bob Porterfield had pitched 12 successive complete games but he couldn't survive the first inning against the White Sox. They battered him for five runs only to waste the advantage and find themselves tied 6-6 in the fifth after a two-run triple by Tom Umphlett. The winning runs scored on a pinch single by Sherm Lollar in the sixth.

Gil McDougald broke out of a prolonged batting slump with three doubles and a single, good for four runs, as the Yankees whipped Detroit. McDougald tied the score at 3-3 in the fifth with a two-run double and drove in two more in the sixth as the Yanks clinched matters with a four-run rally.

Baltimore edged Boston 8-7 in a 17-inning game that lasted 4 hours 48 minutes, longest in the history of the American League. Forty-two players saw action, a major league record.

Boston tied the game with four runs in the ninth. The winning run came on a single by pinch hitter Jim Bredwiser, a bunt by Billy Hunter that rolled for a double, a walk and a grounder to second baseman Floyd Baker on which Bredwiser beat the throw home.

The Red Sox completed a triple play in his first inning, second in the majors this season.
