

Stony Korean Islet Guarded

SEOUL (AP)—A stony outcropping in the Japan sea which admittedly is not normally habitable will be defended against "trespassing" of Japanese fishermen by a 20-man Korean garrison force, according to South Korean police.

The islet—Tokto to the Koreans, Takeshima to the Japanese—is in the center of a fishing area. Both Japan and Korea claim the islet which lacks drinking water among other things.

Townsite Melts Away

OTTAWA (AP)—A 10-man survey party is seeking a new site for the remote Arctic community of Aklavik on the Mackenzie River delta 70 miles south of the Arctic Ocean.

The 42-year-old settlement, largest in the Canadian Arctic, is in danger of sinking through melting permafrost. Summer heat, ground warmth created by buildings and excavations and roads turn the present permafrost terrain into a quagmire.

Lack of an adequate year-round water supply and sewage disposal system has created a serious health problem for the 400 whites, 250 Eskimos and 125 Indians who live in the community.
