Flooded Mine Traps Seven

TOKYO (U) — Seven miners were hopelessly trapped in a flooded anthracite mine Monday after eight inches of rain brought damaging floods and landslides to Southern Honshu Island.

Feverish rescue operations continued in the Shonan anthracite mine but rescue hopes were all but abandoned late Sunday night.

In Kure City, a rain-sogged cliff crumbled and buried seven people under tons of mud. Five were dug out alive. Two children were found dead.

In Yamaguchi City, 130 persons were isolated by a swirling flood in the nearby port city of Tokuyama, 1,300 persons sought shelter on high grounds from the twin danger of a rampaging river and abnormally high sea tides.

Two trunk lines in Yamaguchi Prefecture were reported cut or damaged at scores of points and train services were paralyzed. At least 4,000 houses were flooded in this area.

WRINGER SPEEDS JOB

POMPTON PLAINS, N. J. (U) — Several members normally work a full day to fold some 2,000 voting information sheets the League of Women Voters mails out annually. This year Mrs. J. W. Worden Sr. did it all herself by feeding the sheets through her washing machine wringer.

Mrs. Worden got the idea from her grandson, Donald Worden, who uses the same method to fold church bulletins.
