

Don't Look Now...

but... first question that's going to be asked at that odd looking information booth they're constructing at the State Fairgrounds is "What is it?"

Random thought... what's become of the colored snood we used to see so much of?

Oh yeah... Who said the lady always has the last word? Now take the case of the one stopped by the pleasant young policeman who tells her she's going through the red lights all over town. He may not say the last word but he sure has it.

Incidentally... one might very well break the law on occasion, but it seems never never to be the time the cop happens to catch one.

Poor risk... If all the health and accident insurance pamphlets found in the post box of the poor householder were laid side by side, it would make a sizeable contribution to the Boy Scout paper drive. Good way to get even might be to take out some insurance and then collect a large sum for damage done to the arm while pulling them out of the mailbox and throwing them away.

Coming back... Today we saw a rather nice looking elderly man wearing a derby. We assume that he is from Silverton, where they are doing queer things, but you can't always tell. Derbies, they say, are coming back into fashion in some places, this combined with the new craze for walking shorts for the men should be quite fetching. . . . Maxine Buren.

By CARL HALL

Since I have been going fishing so much this past week the Mrs. decided this would be a fine time to give a happy rebuttal to my last week's article. Quote "Has anyone ever known an apathetic fisherman? A man either loves to fish or he simply doesn't bother. Some men think it a waste of time; with others fishing is an obsession. Men who are otherwise sane, sensible and successful go off the deep end when they join the brotherhood of piscatorial gladiators.

"Picking fruit may be a waste of time, but a fisherman will stand in the same place for hours and cast a line endlessly without one hint of reward. A startled reel is patiently untangled time and again, and many a weary mile of underbrush is trampled to get to a place where snags or trees can ensnare his lure. This is sport!"

"The primary purpose of fishing, I've been told, is to catch fish. But any woman can go to the market and get fish, (big ones, too) without one tenth the effort and expense. So of course it isn't to catch fish that men fish, it is simply to "fish." Which means exactly nothing, in itself. There may be a challenge in trying to match brains with a trout, and a sense of accomplishment in showing off a prize if and when he gets it, but there must be another deeper reason that the fisherman will not admit to, if indeed he recognizes it, himself.

Real Reason
"There is a compulsion, sometimes so buried under our crust of civilization as to be unnoticed, to get close to the elemental earth, to steep ourselves in sights, sounds and sensations that can remain in the deepest core of our beings even when the press of

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd Witham (Betty Breakey) who were married in an afternoon ceremony at the First Congregational Church July 10. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest W. Breakey are parents of the bride, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Witham of Honolulu. After a Hawaiian honeymoon the couple will make their home in Portland. (McEwan Photo) hectic daily life drives all else from our minds and hearts.

"People go camping or have cottages at streams, lakes, ocean or mountains; tourists travel miles and miles to satisfy this compulsion, whether they realize it or not.

"A gardener can find God in the ground, a fisherman finds Him in the water, and a woman can feel the same closeness in a berry patch. If some can find that empathy with the source of being in one certain way or place, it must be there for all to find. And if there are so many ways of finding that source perhaps everything we look at or experience should be given more close attention and appreciation. A man may find he enjoys picking fruit, and a woman can enjoy fishing. The awareness of all our living can be intensified until it is no longer a woman's world, or a man's world, but our world." Unquote.

Zontans to Meet

Salem Zonta Club members will hear Mrs. James C. Drury, creator of the Beatrice Doll, talk about her new doll at a meeting in the Golden Pheasant on Thursday. The talk will follow the noon luncheon.

Some of the group plans to attend a smorgasbord given by the Albany Zonta Club at the home of Mrs. Arlene Van Dahl, 520 East 1st Street, Albany, at 6:45, July 22.

WCTU Picnic

Salem Central WCTU will hold their mid-summer picnic on the Eugene Prescott lawn, 1064 Oak street, July 20, at noon. All friends are invited to come. Bring picnic basket and table service. Coffee will be provided by the committee.

Garden Tour To Be July 29

An all-West Side garden tour is being planned by the Salem Garden Club for this summer. The affair is planned for July 29, and hours are to be 1 to 9 o'clock.

Gardens at the following homes will be opened to the public: "Worthhaven," home of the Elmer Worths, 1065 Glen Creek Road; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Briscoe, 1765 Montrose Avenue; Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Voigt, 814 Kingwood Drive; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCafferty, 700 Kingwood Drive; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ritter, 732 Engel Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Engel, 735 Engel Avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Taylor, 614 Cascade Drive, where tea will be served.

The committee for the annual Garden Club tour includes Mrs. Roy Smith, chairman, Mrs. Gordon Black, co-chairman, Mrs. Jack Henningson and Mrs. Ed Majec.

Scott-Staab Wedding Bids Are Received

Invitations to the wedding of Miss Phyllis Jean Scott, daughter of Mrs. Don E. Firth, and Charles S. Staab, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Staab, have been received.

The ceremony will be performed July 25 at four o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. B. J. Holland officiating. Victor B. Palmason will sing and Mrs. Ralph Dobbs is to be the organist.

Mrs. E. T. Porter of Longview, Wash., sister of the groom, will be matron of honor. Miss Colleen Martinsen of Hubbard, Miss Juliette Sather of Aurora, and Miss Margaret Babbs of Eugene will be bridesmaids. The flower girl will be Miss Cheryl Dittman of Sherwood, young cousin of the bride.

Best man will be the bride's brother, Robert C. Scott. Ushers include Kenneth Hamilton Jr., David Roake, Theodore Roake Jr., and Paul Sundin.

A reception will follow in the church social room.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should a woman, whose husband is the honored speaker at a dinner, applaud with the others when he has finished his speech?

A. Yes; but she should applaud briefly. "the lady" who spoke first. But today, if they are good friends, there is nothing wrong with the man's speaking first.

Q. Should watermelon be eaten with a spoon or fork?

A. Either way is acceptable.

Q. Should the fingers or a fork be used when eating olives?

A. The fingers.
