

Giants Open Training Camp Today

By CARL PLOG
Statenman Asst Sports Editor

Stout-hearted baseball fans may not think it's football season yet, but the New York Giants will start out this morning to prove different as they open their 1954 season at Willamette University's McCulloch Stadium.

The New York football squad is here and ready to start the picnic parade — and how! Yesterday the Giants were only too evident at WU's Baxter Hall, their headquarters for the training season.

Some 47 of the Giants had reported to Head Coach Jim Lee Howell Sunday afternoon for their first get-together, a physical examination given by the team's physician, Dr. Francis J. Sweeney. Even before the actual training starts, the Giants already look like any two of them could move the Capitol Building with a body block.

A Giant spokesman explained yesterday that some of the players may not come to the training camp until later in the week. Some are waiting discharge from the armed services and others are just ending their ROTC summer camps.

First practice is scheduled for this morning at 9:30. It will be a light workout without equipment.

Biggest man on the squad is Earl Putman, 305 pound tackle, who is surprisingly agile for a man of his size. Putman recently set a new record in the shot put in an inter-service track meet, tossing the weight 55 feet 1 1/4 inches.

As a special salute to the Giants, the squad and all coaches have been invited to the Salem Senators ball game Thursday and will be guests of the Salem team. They will be driven onto the field just prior to the game and introduced at home plate.

Sunday the Giants were present at the Soap Box Derby, the first of their expected and anticipated appearances.

One injury has already plagued the Giants—but not because of any ball game. Haldie Norman, 200-pound end who also does place-kicking, cut off the end of his toe in a power lawn mower three days ago.

Tossing the ball around for the Giants this morning will be three former All-America backs, Kyle Rofe, Eddie Price, and Frank Gifford and three former All-America quarterbacks, Arnie Galiffa, Don Heinrich, and Chuck Conroy.

Conroy hadn't checked in yet yesterday and may be late because of his wife's illness.

Heinrich has been labeled the "Giant of the future," and will be counted on heavily for his superb passing in offensive plays.

Among the rookies, who constitute the majority of the 64 players on the roster, is Wayne Berry, 175 pound halfback from Washington state. Although light for pro ball, Howell considers him fast and possessing enough savvy to make the pro ranks.

Two practices daily will be held at McCulloch, one at 9 a.m. and the other at 3 p.m., each to last about two hours. These practices will be free and open to the public until possibly the last session, Howell has said.

Phillies Awarded Game by Forfeit

Yankees' Win Streak Stopped at 13

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in almost five years, a major league game was forfeited Sunday when the Philadelphia Phillies were awarded the second game of a doubleheader with St. Louis because the umpires became incensed at the stalling tactics of the Cardinals.

Only a few minutes earlier, the field was a mass of swinging, punching, wrestling players who participated in one of the biggest brawls since the days of the old St. Louis Browns.

The free-for-all was touched off by catcher Sal Yvars of the Cards and first baseman Earl Torgerson of the Phils and before peace was restored rival Managers Terry Moore of Philadelphia and Eddie Stanky of St. Louis had tangled.

The last time a major league game was forfeited was on Aug. 21, 1949 when New York was awarded a decision over Philadelphia in the second game of a doubleheader after Philadelphia fans had streamed onto the field.

Plate Umpire Babe Pinelli stopped Sunday's game with the Phils ahead 8-1 with one man on base and two out in the fifth inning. With darkness coming on, Stanky brought in two pitchers during the inning although only one hit was made. Then he waved Tom Poholsky in from the bullpen.

This was more than Pinelli could take and he walked over to the field telephone and announced to the press box that the game was forfeited. The Cards said they would protest the forfeiture.

None of the plays made goes into the record books and no box score was released.

The lights couldn't be turned on because the game did not start before 6 p.m. The Phils won the opener 11-10.

While all this was going on, Cleveland held its half-game lead in the American League and the New York Yankees saw their 13-game winning streak snapped by Detroit in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Yankees moved a half game in front of the Indians midway through the afternoon after they won their 13th straight 6-0 on Harry Byrd's five-hit shutout of Detroit in the first game and Cleveland lost to Washington 8-3.

Cleveland came back to get an even break by winning the second 7-4 and the Yanks dropped an 8-6 decision to Detroit as Casey Stengel threw 21 players into the game.

With the top two splitting, the Chicago White Sox gained ground on both by taking a pair from feeble Philadelphia 10-2 and 4-3. Manager Paul Richards squelched a Philadelphia rally in the eighth-inning of the second game by running out the time to the Pennsylvania curfew of 6:59 p.m.

Richards changed pitchers twice and was in the midst of another change when plate umpire Charley Berry waved to the bullpen and ordered Harry Dorish to come in immediately. He never reached the mound before curfew time.

Chicago had scored four in the eighth and the A's two, but all were wiped off the record book.

Rookie Russ Kemmerer of the Boston Red Sox pitched a one-hitter to down Baltimore 4-0 in his first major league start. The only hit was a single by Sam Mele leading off the seventh, a smash off the wall that missed being a homer by a foot. Baltimore won the second 4-1 on Duane Pillette's five-hitter.

The New York Giants' lead was shaved a half game when the National League leaders split with Cincinnati and Brooklyn routed Chicago 12-6. The Giants now lead by six games.

Cincinnati batted a half dozen Giant pitchers for 18 hit in the 14-4 opener with Chuck Harnum smashing four singles. Monte Irvin and Willie Mays hit back-to-back homers to help the Giants pull out the second game 3-1. It was Mays' 33rd homer, leaving him six games ahead of Babe Ruth's record home run pace in 1927.

Russ Meyer won his 14th consecutive game from Chicago, as Brooklyn racked up three Cub pitchers in a 12-hit attack. Roy Campanella, Duke Snider and Carl Furillo hit homers for the Dodgers, Walker Cooper and Ernie Banks for the Cubs. Cooper's came with the bases full.

The Milwaukee Braves split a doubleheader with the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates, winning the first game 4-1 and losing the second 7-5.

Milwaukee scored two runs off Lou Dick Little field in the third on Hank Aaron's bases-loaded single and two in the fourth on Del Crandall's 12th homer behind Johnny Logan's triple.

Warren Spahn had a shutout going into the ninth but walked the first three men to face him and was nicked for the Pirates' run on Dick Cole's pinch single. Ernie Johnson, who relieved with the bases full and none out, retired the next three men without any more scoring.

The Pirates scored six times in the second inning of the second game on four singles, sandwiched between three walks, an error and a hit batsman.

In Scramble

Terry Moore, recently named manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, was in the middle of a rhabarb that ended in a free-for-all Sunday in the game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Boros Victor In Manakiki

CLEVELAND (AP) — Swarthly Julius Boros, 34-year-old 1952 National Open champion from Southern Pines, N.C., Sunday won the $25,000 Manakiki Open Golf Tournament, defeating George Fazio of Pine Valley, N.J., in a sudden death playoff after they had locked at 290 for 72 holes, eight under par.

Boros fired four straight sub-par rounds, winding up with a 71, a hard luck on late holes swept favored contenders out of his way.

Boros took the laurels on the first hole of the playoff with a par four, Fazio losing a shot when his second was trapped.

Fazio, who also lost the 1950 National Open in a playoff, picked up $2,780 in prize money, while Boros won $5,000 and took the lead in the PGA official money-win list for the year with a total of $15,120.

In last year's event Cary Middlecoff defeated Ted Kroll in a playoff after they deadlocked at 275, but Middlecoff passed up this year's tourney and Kroll blew his chances with a huge eight on the par 4 eighth, a 448-yarder, where his drive went into the trees and cost him a penalty, after which he three-putted.

Beavers Split With Padres; Stars Win Pair

SAN DIEGO Calif. (AP)—Portland observed the return of Luke Easter to the Pacific Coast League by beating him and San Diego 5-3 in a doubleheader opener Sunday but the big Negro's second game homer produced two runs of a 3-0 score. Cliff Fannin blanked the Beavers with a three-hit pitching job.

Hollywood took both ends of a doubleheader from Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles split a pair, and Seattle handed Sacramento two losses in other PCL games.

The Rainiers took over undisputed fifth place in the league by edging the Solons 1-0 in the opener and then unleashing a 15-hit barrage to down the visitors 13-3 in the nightcap.

Hollywood shutout Oakland 6-0 in the opener and then, behind the three-hit pitching of Red Munger, took the nightcap, 5-1. San Francisco bounced back to win the second game in their doubleheader after Los Angeles powered its way with three homers to win the first game, 5-2.

Walt Judnich of Portland hit the only homer of the opener, with one on, Easter duplicated the feat in the first inning of the nightcap.

The slugging first baseman, a sensation with San Diego in 1949, connected for four hits, including the homer and a double, in seven chances during the afternoon.

He was the main problem for pitcher Glenn Elliott, who got credit for the win, and his relief, Lee Anthony. Veteran Jess Flores had to come to Anthony's aid and put down an uprising in the eighth, after doubles by Easter and Earl Rapp and Milt Smith's single produced two runs.

Judnich's homer off losing pitcher Eddie Erault followed Fletcher Robbe's single in the first inning of the opener.

Portland scored three in the sixth, after two were out, on a walk, Frankie Austin's double and singles by Rocky Krnisch and Don Eggert.

Bob Alexander delivered the home run pitch to Easter in the closing affair, after walking Al Federoff. The ball soared an estimated 400 feet over the right field wall. Milt Smith's triple and Fannin's single in the sixth accounted for the other run off reliever Carl Scheib.

MAC SWIMMERS WIN

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — The Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland tallied 474 points to win the two-day Washington State AAU Open Swimming Meet here Sunday.

How 'Bout It, Doc, Does He Have One?

Here's an example of why the New York professional football team might be called Giants. These five are shown with Dr. Francis J. Sweeney, team physician, during their physical exams at Willamette University's Baxter Hall Sunday. The doctor is of average build, but his "patients" evidently are not. They are (l. to r.) Bill Albright, 232 pounds; Ray Krouse, 250 pounds; Earl Putman, 305; Bill Anstin, 225, and John Cannady, 230. The Giants start their summer camp training today at McCulloch Stadium.

The Salem Senators last night scored two runs in the ninth inning at Tri-City to take a weird 7-5 victory over the Braves in the final game of the season. The series ended even, two wins for each club. But the Senators edged earlier in the week, Manager Hugh Luby's lads had a 5-won, 2-lost week with Ed Vanni's club.

Mel Krause's double in the ninth, another double by Gene Tanselli with two out, an error which allowed Tanselli to scoot to third, and Connie Perez' bunt single scored the two runs off Don Robertson, who went the distance for his fifth loss of the season. He's won 12.

Bill Franks started for the Senators, but after three straight opening hits he was replaced by Ernie Domenichelli. Before the tall right-hander could get the side out, Tri-City scored five runs, four of them earned.

The Braves threatened Domenichelli in almost every inning thereafter, but he repeatedly got out of the trouble. On one occasion the Braves had back-to-back doubles by Jack Warren and Bob Moniz, but didn't score. Warren held up at third.

The Braves twice loaded the bases with one out, but failed to score each time. In all Tri-City had 16 hits.

The Senators got to Robertson for three runs in the first on an error, singles by Bob Kellogg, Tanselli and Harry Warner, and another error. In the third still another error set it up for Dennis Luby to drive in a run, and in the fourth Salem tied the score at 5-5 on Hugh Luby's single, another error and Kellogg's single.

Only two of the seven runs off Robertson were earned.

Salem had 13 hits, with Kellogg getting four. Generalissimo Hugh Luby of the Senators, who had five hits in seven trips last Saturday night's doubleheader, got two more in four tries last night.

Domenichelli's win was his fifth, against four losses.

The Senators now have today off, and on Tuesday night open a full week here at home, playing Victoria. Chances are that Side Wheeler Joe Nicholas will make his debut in the Tuesday game. Johnny Briggs will go postcard Wednesday night in the all-free "Pack the Park" game. And on Thursday night the members of the New York Giants pro football team will be guests of the management and will be introduced at home plate prior to game time.

Edmonton Tops Yakima To Climb in WIL Race

EDMONTON (AP) — The Edmonton Eskimos finished a seven-game Western International League series with the Yakima Bears with five victories Sunday when the American club dropped a 5-4 decision following an 8-3 win Saturday night.

In the only other games of the WIL, Wenatchee edged out first place Lewiston 3-2 in the first game of their scheduled doubleheader.

Shortstop Whitey Thompson, first man up for the Eskimos Sunday, hit a bases-empty homer to start things off and the Eskimos added four more runs in the fourth inning.

The Bears did all their scoring on two-run homers in the fifth and seventh by Gus Carrouhas, who with teammate Len Noren hit three for four in the Saturday night contest to seven innings by rain.

Charlie Beamon got credit for the first game, although he weakened in the seventh and had to be relieved by Ted Shandor. Beamon held the Bears to three to three hits.

Two led to his exit in the seventh when two singles and a walk loaded the bases. Shandor took over and forced in one runner on a walk before the Chiefs doused the rally short of a tie.

Lewiston got its other run in the first inning on a walk, a single, an infield out and sacrifice fly.

Wenatchee got all its runs in the third on three singles and a sacrifice. John Marshall was tagged with the loss, although he pitched a very respectable five-hitter.

Riegger Cops Trapshoot Win

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A four-day total of 689 x 700 Sunday gave Arnold Riegger of Seattle, Wash., All-American trapshoot team captain, over-all honors in the Nevada State Trapshoot Championships.

He was followed by All-American teammates Rudy Eichen, Sun Valley, Idaho, with 687 x 100, and Maynard Henry, Los Angeles, who posted 685 x 700. All three scores were believed to better all existing records for a 700-target event.

Henry fired 98 x 100 in the final day's handicap shoot, and Riegger and Eichen each had 97 x 100.

The top open score was 99 x 100 by Tee Mettler, Bakersfield, Calif., and Ted Wally, Grande Ronde, Ore. Mettler shot a perfect 25 x 25 to win the shootoff. Wally missed one target.
