Estacada - Molalla Firm Would Quit Two Bus Routes

PORTLAND (UP)—Permission to abandon two bus routes and to change another was asked by Estacada-Molalla Stages, Inc., Wednesday at a hearing before Oregon Public Utilities Commission.

E. G. Larson of Gresham, co-manager of the firm, testified that it proposes to abandon routes along Spring Water Road from Estacada to Carver, and on State Highway 211 from Molalla to Colton.

Industries on Waterways of U. S. Increase

WALLA WALLA (UP)—Industrial development along the inland waterways of the United States continued to expand during the second quarter of the current year.

Herbert G. West, executive vice president of the Inland Empire Waterways Association, said today.

West said 83 water sites were chosen for industrial expansion during the quarter.

"Surveys show," said West, "that investments of industry along inland waterways are running into hundreds of millions of dollars each month. Of this investment, two industrial expansion projects were listed for the Columbia river."

One of these projects was the 12-million dollar chemical and fertilizer plant of the Columbia River Chemicals Co. at Altalia. The other was a multi-million-dollar project of Puget Sound Power and Light Co., location of which has not been announced.

Work to Start On Fishway

SEATTLE (UP)—The State Fisheries Department today announced it received a low bid of $143,585 for construction of a 280-foot baffle fishway on the Kalama river near Longview.

The bid was entered by Lee Hoffman of Beaverton, Or.

The Kalama fishway is part of the department's program to open up new spawning and rearing areas for natural propagation of salmon.

British railways have 500 different types of steam locomotives, but plan to reduce the number to 12.

Newspapers 'Best Means' Of Advertising

PORTLAND (UP)—Oregon newspapers have been selected by the Kemper group of insurance companies as the basic medium for a statewide advertising campaign for this fall and next spring, it was announced here today.

V. J. Ebaugh, Seattle, resident secretary of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company and affiliated Kemper companies, said a study of various advertising media by the Kemper companies has convinced officials that "newspaper advertising is the best means to get our story to the public."

Coon Requests That U.S. Stop Taxing Rodeos

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Sam Coon (R-Ore.) has asked the government to stop taxing rodeos.

Coon, who was a cattleman in eastern Oregon for 22 years before coming to Washington, urged an amendment to the general tax revision bill repealing the federal admissions tax on non-profit community rodeos and historical pageants.

Coon introduced a bill in Congress in March asking for relief of a rodeo tax. The Senate approved a similar measure this month for an amendment to the general revenue bill.

Etiquette Expert Notes Some Hollywood Manners 'Horrible'

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Etiquette expert Amy Vanderbilt, the Emily Post of television, walked correctly into movieland Wednesday to observe some Hollywoodites have "horrible" manners.

Miss Vanderbilt, of that famous clan, is going on TV in September to contribute to your education by giving five-minute filmed lessons on how to kiss in public and what to do with your pinky while eating chicken.

As a starter she visited Hollywood from her Westport, Conn., home and decided her famed book on etiquette should be read among the palm trees.

Kept Her Divorce Quiet

"Many stars are thrust into great wealth, utterly unprepared for it," the motherly, 45-year-old social expert said.

"Why, often engagements are announced here before getting a divorce! And divorces are publicized in horrible taste.

"I got a divorce last March," she added, "and you never heard anything about it."

Miss Vanderbilt was interviewed at lunch, and I can testify that eating with an etiquette expert, let alone a Vanderbilt, is an ordeal. Do you pour from the salad dressing server or use a spoon?

Decides on Spoon

"Most successful people have a smattering of good manners," Miss Vanderbilt continued. "But what I'm concerned with, is how deep the manners go," and I decided to use the spoon.

Miss Vanderbilt refused to name the "worst-mannered filmstars because I want to be constructive so why go into the George Raft and Zsa Zsa Gabor?"

Her list of best-mannered male stars includes Boris Karloff

"(quiet and a perfect gentleman)", Gregory Peck, Bill Holden, Gary Cooper, Ray Milland, Danny Kaye ("I like the way he behaved with the queen and princess in England"), Fred Astaire, Raymond Massey and Hoagy Carmichael (Hoagy is quite a flower arranger.)"

Finds 10 Ladies

The 10 ladies she found in Hollywood were Irene Dunne, Esther Williams, Barbara Stanwyck, Deborah Kerr, Rosalind Russell, Ann Blyth, Greer Garson, Grace Kelly, Lena Horne ("delightful, great poise") and Audrey Hepburn.

Miss Vanderbilt enjoys being a TV etiquette star, "except for that awful make-up."

"But at dinner parties people are always uneasy until they find I am the same at all times," she smiled graciously, and I put my elbows back on the table.

Annexation at Portland to Be Election Issue

PORTLAND (UP)—Portland voters in the November elections will decide whether a large part of the Ardenwald district should be added to the city.

The city council Thursday ordered the issue placed on the ballot after it heard both sides of the question from delegations from the district.

The area proposed for annexation is bounded on the north by the Clackamas-Multnomah county line, on the west by the Southern Pacific tracks, on the south by the Milwaukie city limits and on the east by a variable line between SE 37th and 39th avenues.

Climbers Get Musician Off Famed Peak

ASPEN, Colo. (UP)—Four expert climbers braved rain storms and high altitude cold last night to rescue a musician who fell ill near the top of 14,300-foot North Maroon Bell.

Sheriff Lorain Herwick said the rescuers found Arthur Grassman, 19, Oklahoma City, on the steep slopes of the famed peak about 1000 feet from the summit. They brought him down 2000 feet to a road, where a car took him back to Aspen.

Young Grassman is second bassoonist with the Aspen Festival Orchestra. Bob Craig, Aspen, a member of the recent K-2 expedition in the Himalayas, led Sandy Sabbatini, Tony Woerndle and Sepp Kessler, all instructors at the Aspen Ski School, to the rescue.

Ethel Merman In Ice Packs

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Singing star Ethel Merman was bedded in her hotel room today with a severe attack of appendicitis.

Dr. Sam Herzikoff said he was administering ice packs, penicillin shots and baby food to the actress in the hope of postponing an operation until after she finishes work in a picture, "There's No Business Like Show Business."
