Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If a woman arrives at a friend's party and finds that another woman, with whom she is on unfriendly terms, is there, what does she do?

A. If she is at all well-bred, she will disguise her feelings as best as she can—not only for the sake of her hostess, but of the other guests who could be made very uncomfortable if they were made aware of the ill-feeling.

Q. I received a number of gifts at a birthday party recently, and I thanked each donor personally. Is it also necessary that I write each one a thank-you note?

A. No.

Q. Are the usual bride-and-groom figures the only correct adornment for a wedding cake?

A. While these are most often seen, it is certainly all right to use anything else if you wish.

Q. Is it correct to eat frozen puddings with the fork or the spoon?

A. With the fork.
