Refugees in Saigon Clash With Police

SAIGON, Indochina (U) — Five hundred refugees from the north fought police here Tuesday in a demonstration that deepened Viet Nam's government - army crisis. Two men were killed and several wounded as the police fired to disperse refugees.

The aims of the demonstration were interpreted variously. The French News Agency said the refugees were demanding for some reason that they be returned to North Viet Nam, soon to fall completely under Communist rule. Promotion of such a demand would help Red agitators presumably assigned secretly to refugee groups to foment trouble.

But Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, the chief of staff who is still refusing Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's order to take a "special leave" in France that the Army interprets as exile, said the refugee group demonstrated in favor of Diem against the Army. He charged that the government promoted the clash, arming the refugees with clubs and bottles to attack the police.

"The Army has definite proof that the government provoked the troubles this morning in Saigon," Hinh said.

The refugees are among a third of a million who abandoned homes, farms and business, and moved southward—many aboard U. S. Navy and air transports—to avoid falling into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh as it takes over North Viet Nam under the Geneva agreement ending the Indochina war.

Bus Strike Feared Near

PORTLAND (U) — A work stoppage by employees of Oregon Motor Stages was indicated Tuesday in a dispute over wages.

B. W. Wilson, company manager, said the firm's financial condition was such that wages had to be cut two weeks ago for employees on the company's runs to areas between Portland and Oregon City.

H. T. Oathes, official of the AFL Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach employees union, said the cuts amounted to 20 to 30 per cent in take-home pay.

He said this and other changed conditions of work made it likely that employees will refuse to continue work.

Thirteen drivers and four shop employees are affected.

Diggers Find Clams Costly

FLORENCE, Ore. (U) — For the 618 razor clams three men dug recently on China Creek Beach they paid $613.50.

State Patrolman Thomas Fithian caught them before they left the beach. Since they were legally entitled to two dozen each, they had 546 clams above the limit.

They paid fines of $200 each, plus total costs of $13.50 in justice court. They were able to keep the legal number of clams. The rest were sold to the State Game Commission for $10.50.

The three identified themselves as Eugene L. McKinley, Elvin Harris and Robert Harris of Yachats.

Pinball Owner to Appeal Decision To Highest Court

PORTLAND (U) — Portland's anti-pinball ordinance will be carried to the U. S. Supreme Court, a major pinball machine owner said here Tuesday.

Stanley Terry, the pinball operator who recently lost his appeal to the State Supreme court, said he would make the appeal to the high federal court.

A lower court once found the ordinance unconstitutional, but the State Supreme court later reversed that. Terry appealed for a rehearing, but the court refused that.

While the appeal is being made the machines can stay in operation. An estimated 2,000 machines have been in play here since 1951, when the ordinance was passed. In that time they have not had to pay a fee to the city, as they did prior to the passage of the ordinance.

Nixon Asks Stevenson to State Policy

EAST LANSING, Mich. (U) — Vice President Nixon demanded Tuesday night that Adlai E. Stevenson say how the policies of a Democratic Congress in 1955 would differ from those of the Truman administration.

Nixon, in a campaign speech at a Republican rally at Michigan State College, gave the Eisenhower administration's reply to recent charges by Stevenson that the administration is a "give-away government" and has damaged United States prestige abroad.

"Up to this time," Nixon said, "we have nothing from him but quips and criticisms without one positive constructive suggestion as to what his party would do."

"Under the circumstances, we can only assume, as his national chairman admitted in answer to a question recently, that all a Democrat Congress offers is a return to the policies of the Truman administration."

"Unless Mr. Stevenson tells the American people how he differs from those policies we shall have to continue to remind the people what those policies were."

Nixon is making an eight-state tour on behalf of congressional candidates.

He succeeds George L. Scott, who after 15 years as stake president, becomes senior stake president in the entire church. Scott is bureau manager of International News Service here. Carison is an attorney.

London Company Delays Building For Archeology

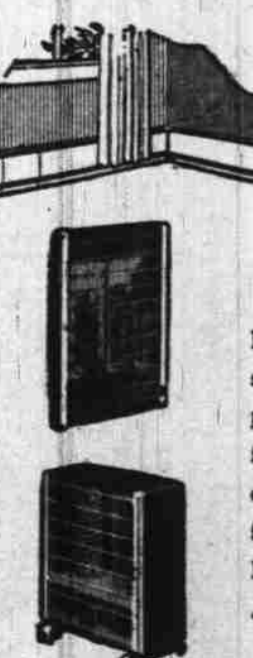

LONDON (U) — Prime Minister Churchill Tuesday applauded a building company for delaying its work to permit archeological excavation of a 2,000-year-old Roman temple uncovered in central London.

Extra police were called out to control crowds at the temple site in the heart of the busy financial district. The ruins were turned up in preliminary digging for a $11,300,000 14-story office building.

Works Minister Sir David Eccles, said Monday it was impracticable to preserve the temple despite its archeological importance.

A marble head of Mithras, Persian god of light adopted by the Romans, has been removed from the ruins. An ancient coin and some bones also were found. One floor of the temple is made of oyster shells.

AN INVITATION TO HOME OWNERSHIP

Dear Mr. Greene:

One of the greatest instincts in man is the desire to possess, to own. One of his inalienable rights is the right to private property. Since the failure to obtain what his good instincts demand can be a threat to man's stability, it naturally follows that the possession of property does play a very important role in human life. Home ownership is the normal way by which man satisfies his desire to own. The family that owns its own home has therefrom an anchor which will play an invaluable role in the religious, educational and civic life of the family. From our experience we find unfortunate and dangerous stresses and habits developing in family life where there is no home ownership, and so often the cause of these is not apparent to the family itself. Our family and marriage counseling always includes emphasis on home ownership to anchor the family and promote stability and security.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph J. Vanderbeck
