

Foreign Policy Meet Bids Senate Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Eisenhower, described as eager to get on "cordial and constructive" working terms with the Democrats, Friday called leaders of both parties in Congress to a Nov. 17 conference on foreign policy.

Republican leaders, it gave new emphasis to Eisenhower's expressed wish for good relations. Wednesday, the day after the voters decided to replace Republicans with Democrats in control of the new Congress, Eisenhower said he would consult with leaders of both parties on both domestic and foreign issues.

Three Killed By Collision

REDMOND, Ore. (AP) - Three persons were killed and three others were injured in a shattering head-on collision of two automobiles near here Friday.

The dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. William Gugler of Spokane and Mrs. John Nealon, Long Island, N. Y.

Mrs. Nealon's husband, a chief yeoman in the Navy, was being treated for critical injuries. The Guglers' daughter, about 2, suffered severe head cuts and the Nealon's son, believed to be about 9 months, received injuries not believed serious.

The accident occurred on U. S. 97, about a mile south of here. State police said witnesses told them the Gugler car swung out of its lane to avoid hitting the rear of an automobile which had slowed down to make a turn off the road and crashed head-on into the Nealon car, headed in the opposite direction. Both vehicles were demolished.

School Board Chiefs Confer

Teacher Shortage, School Funds Main Topic for Board Leaders

Attention was focused on the teacher shortage and a dim view was taken of the sales tax as a school revenue source in Friday's opening sessions of the Oregon School Boards Association at South Salem High School.

Highlights of Friday morning's session were talks by prominent education officials and by Senator Robert Holmes and Charles A. Sprague, publisher of The Statesman.

Gov. Paul Patterson spoke in the afternoon on "What We Expect Your Schools."

Rancher Shot To Death Near Klamath Home

KLAMATH FALLS (AP) - A man was found shot to death alongside his pickup truck on a ranch near Beatty, about 40 miles northeast of here, on the Klamath Indian Reservation Friday.

Other legislative proposals to be presented today included: A provision that all school boards in the state comprise at least five members; uniform periods for legal notices; that no new school services should be provided without new sources of revenue, and no new services should be taken from the Basic School Support fund; that the transportation formula should be revised.

Today's closing association activities will open with an 8 a. m. breakfast meeting at the Senator Hotel for district chairmen. The important session dealing with legislative items and election of officers will open at 9 a. m. at South Salem High School little theater.

Death Claims Mrs. Boyd After Illness

Mrs. Agnes May Boyd, a native of England and resident of Idaho for many years, died Friday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Harvey Muyskens, 840 Plymouth Dr.

Other legislative proposals to be presented today included: A provision that all school boards in the state comprise at least five members; uniform periods for legal notices; that no new school services should be provided without new sources of revenue, and no new services should be taken from the Basic School Support fund; that the transportation formula should be revised.

Police Hunt Sex Slayer As Girl's Body Found
NORWOOD, Mass. (AP) - A 15-year-old schoolgirl was found murdered in the garage in her own back yard Friday, apparent victim of a sex attacker.
The body of Geraldine Anness, a student at Peabody Vocational School, a branch of Norwood High, was nude. Her clothing had been "ripped" from her and strewn around the garage, police said.
"This is a murder," said Dist. Atty. Myron Lane.
A cryptic pen and ink note exchange was found Friday night in the garage and police and handwriting experts immediately began studies to determine the writer or writers.
Police said one part of the note read: "Let's take her. Yes."
The other part, apparently an answer, read "I don't care."
Authorities refused further information. They declined to say whether the handwriting was the same in both messages which were written on two sides of a piece of white paper.
Lane's statement came after he talked with Dr. Stephen Burgeon, state pathologist who performed an autopsy with the district medical examiner, Dr. Frederic A. Stanwood.
Lane said the autopsy disclosed bruises on the girl's neck, a torn fingernail indicating a struggle, and indications of a brain hemorrhage, probably from a blow on the head.
He said the girl was killed in a sex attack.
Lane also said investigators found "several pieces of tangible evidence" in the garage, which made him optimistic that the killer will be found. He declined to disclose what was found.
Police said a 25-year-old man was being sought for questioning. His identity was withheld but police said he had tried unsuccessfully several times to date Geraldine, most recently this week.
