The Supreme Court on Monday accepted jurisdiction in the controversy over construction of a hydroelectric plant at Pelton site on the Deschutes River.

A great deal is involved in this case, much more merely than whether PGE gets to go ahead with its dam.

Russ Asked to Help Organize Atom Confab

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The West Tuesday invited Russia and India to help arrange an international scientific conference.

Arkady A. Sobolev, sitting in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee for chief Russian delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, and V. K. Krishna Menon, India, said nothing publicly in answer to the Western bid.

Martin proposed that the Soviet Union, India, Brazil, United States, Britain, France and Canada make up an advisory committee to consult with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on invitations to the conference.

Martin said he was encouraged by the agreement of the Russians to co-sponsor with the West a resolution for new talks on disarmament.

U.S. Considering New Far East Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles revealed Tuesday that the United States is considering providing fighter escorts for American planes in the Far East to prevent a repetition of Sunday's incident in which Soviet MIGs shot down a U. S. B29 over Northern Japan.

At his first public news conference in two months, Dulles also declared that it is wholly out of the question for the United States to consider any idea of a preventive war with Russia.

He said such an idea is not any part or parcel of American foreign policy.

While the secretary took a grave view of the plane incident and accused Russia of lying about it, he said he did not believe Russia has any intention of starting a war now against the free world.

He said the United States is considering taking the latest plane incident to the United Nations. He also left open the possibility that it would be taken to the International Court of Justice.

The United States already has sent a sharp protest note to Russia, demanding "moral and material reparations." Ten crew members of the B29 parachuted to safety but an eleventh was killed.

Dulles spoke out after Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland and Sens. Styles H. Bridges (R-NH), Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) denounced the attack in vigorous terms, and demanded that the United States take stern measures to prevent a repetition.

"Shoot to Kill" — Bridges said the Air Force should order U. S. planes to "shoot to kill" if fired upon.

Dulles said that U. S. pilots already have standing orders to fire on attackers. He said these orders have been in effect for some time. The plane shot down Sunday did not return the fire and its pilot was rebuked by his commander in Japan.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan Wednesday called the shooting down of a U. S. B29 plane Sunday by Russian MIGs a "provocative act" which it said "constitutes violation of Japanese air space."

"We urge the Soviet government to take necessary measures to prevent recurrence of such provocative actions," a Foreign Office announcement said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal Communications Commission examiner recommended Tuesday that KFJL Broadcasters, Inc., be awarded a permit for a new television station at Klamath Falls, Ore., on channel two.

The recommendation will take effect automatically in 40 days unless objections are filed.

A contest for the channel was ended when Klamath Falls Television, Inc., withdrew a competing channel two application last month. The examiner, Isadore A. Honig, said KFJL has paid Klamath Falls Television $7,500 reimbursement for expenses in connection with its application.

Strike Looms If Captain Ousted For Queen Mother's Sea Trip

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UP) — Crew members of the liner Queen Mary threatened Tuesday to strike if their regular captain is not allowed to command the ship when it brings Queen Mother Elizabeth home from the United States this month.

The crew members regarded as an "insult" the Cunard Lines plans to replace the regular skipper, Capt. Donald Sorrell, 60, with Com. Ivan Thompson, also 60, who usually commands the bigger sister ship Queen Elizabeth.

More than 1,000 of the 1,263-man crew signed a petition asking the company to leave the sorrell (five feet two) soft-spoken Sorrell at the helm. About half of them, from mechanics to mess boys, threatened to strike if Sorrell is removed.

"The fact that Commodore Thompson is replacing Captain Sorrell is no slur on the captain," a spokesman for the Cunard Lines said. "On royal occasions the company's senior captain always takes over a ship."

Thompson was at the helm when the Queen Mother journeyed to the United States aboard the 83,673-ton Queen Elizabeth.

The Queen Mary crew learned of the plan to replace their skipper as the ship steamed across the Atlantic last week. Several crewmen drew up a petition which said: "We consider that in view of the way Captain Sorrell has handled things in the past he should by right stay on board and command the liner on the return of the Queen Mother."

Demos Launch Dixon-Yates Pact Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee launched a maneuver Tuesday night to head off signing of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract until after the 84th Congress meets in January.

And Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas voiced a hope the contract will have "quiet burial" in the new Congress which his party will win.

However, Arkansas' two senators called for a go-ahead on the contract, which they declared "entirely justifiable."

A well-placed Republican leader said the Eisenhower administration would not retreat from its endorsement of the deal. But speculation has developed, he added, about whether the Dixon-Yates interests will want to go through with it now that it has developed into such a hot political issue.

AEC has been negotiating the contract with the Dixon-Yates power group for construction of a 108-million dollar generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed power to the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) to take the place of TVA power used by atomic plants.

Salem Teachers Seek District Salary Survey

The president of the Salem Classroom Teachers Association asked the Salem School Board Tuesday night to meet with representatives of Barrington Associates, Inc., for an exploratory conference relative to the latter group conducting a survey of salaries paid to Salem School District teachers and employees.

President of the teachers, Dale Merrill, said that such a survey would go far toward alleviating the problem that occurs yearly when various employees of the school district, custodians, maintenance men, etc., as well as teachers, present their requests for salaries.

Barrington Associates, which is currently conducting the same type of survey with state employees, evaluates jobs on a quantitative-competitive basis in an effort to set a fair salary rate.

The CAB also granted a request by Western that Long Beach, Calif., be included in the experiment along with the following cities initially proposed: Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Salem, Bend, Redmond, Eugene, Medford and Klamath Falls, Ore.; San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton, Modesto, Merced, Salinas, Fresno, Visalia, Bakersfield, Los Angeles and San Diego, Calif.

Since last Oct. 6, first class mail has been moved by air, when space is available, between New York-Newark and Chicago, and Washington and Chicago. Later the service was extended to several cities in Florida.

If no objections are filed, the CAB proposal will become effective within 15 days. The Post Office Department has asked permission to get the new service going by Christmas.

The mother, Mrs. R. H. Short, 80, died at Los Angeles Saturday. Funeral services are scheduled there Wednesday.

Sen. McCarthy Says Censure To Aid Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revised resolution of censure and condemnation aimed at Sen. McCarthy was filed in the Senate Tuesday. McCarthy counterattacked immediately with a charge that the Senate committee which drafted it was an "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist Party.

The resolution was offered by an investigating committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah). It is based on the Wisconsin Republican's alleged defiance of a Senate elections subcommittee in 1952 and his denunciation of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker during an anti-Red investigation last February.

Without waiting for Wednesday, however, McCarthy released the text of a speech he intends to make on the Senate floor.

Describing himself as "the symbol of resistance to Communist subversion," McCarthy asserted that "the nation's fate is in some respects tied" to his own fate.

During the course of the debate, he said in his prepared speech, he will demonstrate that the committee "not only cooperated in the achievement of Communist goals, but that in writing its report it imitated Communist methods."

Plan Aims to Bolster Area Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday the Eisenhower administration is considering a sweeping new Far East aid program to bolster the area against communism.

He told of the plans at a news conference in which he also expressed confidence that Russia, despite its vast military power, does not intend to start a war against the free world at this time.

"As long as we continue strong, united, and ready to fight if necessary, I think that we have a very substantial deterrent against general war," he said.

Dulles said the Western allies must continue developing their military might in order to convince Russia's rulers "that their interests will not be served by a general war."

Dulles revealed the possible new American-sponsored aid program for the Far East in discussing a speech Monday by Japan's visiting Premier Shigeru Yoshida.

In a National Press Club address, Yoshida proposed an Asian "Marshall Plan" involving four billion dollars annually to help build up anti-Communist nations. "There is not much time," he said. "Let us act now."

Not So Large to Start — Dulles said it would not be practical to attempt to spend any such big sum annually for such a program, at least not at the start. Far Eastern needs, he said, are considerably different than the situation confronting the United States in Europe, which led to financing the multi-billion dollar Marshall Plan there.

He said Marshall Plan funds for West Europe were used to repair and modernize highly developed industrial countries to recover from war damage. In the Far East, no such comparable program exists.

Discussions Held — The United States, however, is urgently discussing the problem with Yoshida and other Far Eastern leaders in order to determine how much to contribute within practical and workable limits.

Other officials reported the Eisenhower administration was considering whether to scrap the present administration aid programs which involves spending about 500 million dollars annually in the region.

The idea would be to substitute a regional approach which would call for about twice as much money to begin with, provided member-nations would lower trade barriers and contribute what they could, as European members did.

These informants stressed, however, all planning was highly tentative thus far.
