Former Salem Couple Wed 60 Years

Of interest to the couple's many Salem friends is the 60th wedding celebration today of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Wiggins of Seattle. The occasion will be observed at an informal open house reception at the Women's Century Club in Seattle between 3 and 7 o'clock.

Frederick Wiggins and Myra Albert were married in Salem on Nov. 21, 1894 at the First Presbyterian Church by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Hutchinson. Their wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Albert on Winter and Oak Streets. Mrs. Bruce Spaulding (Josephine Albert) of Portland, formerly of Salem, is a niece of Mrs. Wiggins.

Mrs. Wiggins will wear her 1894 wedding gown at today's reception. At her wedding reception Mrs. Wiggins set her camera for a flash powder photo. She placed the powder in a pan, with a paper fuse, then took her place by her husband.

The original print made from the glass negative, developed by the bride, is still good and has been reprinted and reproduced for the cut shown on this page. Of the twelve persons in the original wedding photo, which included the bride's parents, only the bride and groom are still living.

The couple lived in Salem until 1907, when they moved to Toppenish, Wash., then moving to Seattle in 1932, where they have resided ever since.

Still Teaches Art

Mrs. Wiggins, a well known artist, began studying art at 16 and later studied in New York under famous teachers of that period. She has continued to paint for a total of 67 years and has taught since 1894 over 60 years, which she still continues to do in her studio in Seattle.

She visited Europe in 1900 and 1904, paying her way chiefly with her prize winnings in amateur photography and with her art classes.

During the anniversary celebration today Mrs. Wiggins' art studio and their residence opposite the Century Club will be open to the guests. The paintings hanging in the lounge of the club were in the invitational exhibition in the DeYoung Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco last February.
