TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists claimed their troops and planes beat off a Communist amphibious assault Friday on a tiny island 72 miles west of Formosa.

But possibility of another attempt was seen in reports of Red craft remaining in the general area.

First reports were that the Reds, in five gunboats and swarms of junks, succeeded in landing on tiny Wuchiu in Formosa Strait but were beaten off with many captured.

2,000 Attend Church Youth Conferences

Portland's First Assembly of God Church won the attendance trophy as the 11th annual state convention of Christ Ambassadors drew to a close Friday night in Salem at the Evangelistic Temple.

Christ Ambassadors is a young people's organization of the Assembly of God churches. Some 2,000 attended the three-day meeting, which had its headquarters at the temple.

The Portland church, which also won attendance honors last year, had a delegation of 120 present. They now receive permanent possession of the trophy for having had the most persons present two years in a row.

Featured speaker at the convention was the Rev. Dean Duncan, president of Southern California Christ Ambassadors.

The Rev. Mr. Duncan spoke twice Friday at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. David Godwin, Dallas, Tex. youth evangelist, spoke at 2 p.m. Friday.

At the evening service, Bob Williams, artist, painted a picture from the Biblical theme, "His Eye is on the Sparrow." The painting showed Christ looking at a sparrow.

Williams also appeared at the first service Wednesday evening. Some 1,000 attended the closing service Friday night.

India, Egypt Envoys Shifted By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday announced a diplomatic shift involving new ambassadors for India and Egypt and a new assistant secretary of state for Middle East affairs.

The changes are occasioned by the long expected retirement of Jefferson Caffery as ambassador in Cairo.

The White House hasn't decided whether to submit them to the Senate for confirmation when the chamber reconvenes in special session Monday or to await the next session of Congress in January.

Henry A. Byroade, the present assistant secretary for Middle East affairs, has been nominated to succeed Caffery. George V. Allen, ambassador to India, has been chosen to take Byroade's place here.

A successor for Allen as ambassador to India has not been announced, but the educated guessing was that it would be Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky), who lost his Senate post to former Democratic vice president Alben W. Barkley in the Nov. 2 elections.

Others mentioned for the Indian post include Chester Bowles, a Democrat who formerly held the job, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Caffery, a native of Louisiana, ends 43 years as a distinguished Foreign Service officer. A major development during his tour at Cairo has been settlement of the British-Egyptian dispute over the Suez Canal.

Dairy Co-op Closes Pool To Producers

PORTLAND (AP)—The Dairy Co-operative Assn., the state's largest milk supplier, Friday announced that no more grade A milk producers would be admitted to the co-op pool.

The co-op, operating now without the benefits of a state milk control law, said that grade A producers who now are members of the co-op generally would continue to hold quotas assigned by the now defunct Milk Marketing Administration. There now are 705 producers who are members of the pool.

Effective Jan. 1, all quotas will be re-allocated on the basis of four low months' production for each producer. These new quotas are to remain in effect for 1955, unless more milk is needed, an association spokesman said.

If additional milk is needed, members wishing to increase their herds will be given an increased quota before new grade A producers are admitted.

The co-op's board of directors also approved a proposal by the Oregon Milk Producers to request a preliminary survey of this area by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to determine if a federal milk marketing order would be "feasible if needed."

Board members said that if the market can be stabilized at the present price level, "it will be better than a federal order."

In the issue of the co-op bulletin to be mailed to members Saturday, pool prices for grade A basic pool for Nov. 1-15 were announced at $4.78 a hundredweight, or 62 cents a pound buttermilk plus $2.30 a hundredweight.

Remington's Death Links Third Convict

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A third convict, only 17, Friday was charged with the slaying of convicted perjurer William Remington in Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary.

Lewisburg prison authorities, meanwhile, prepared for the release of Alger Hiss, due to receive his freedom and begin the restricted life of a parolee Saturday morning.

The 50-year-old Hiss, like Remington, was convicted of perjury in testimony he gave during investigations of Communist conspiracy in the United States.

Remington, one time aide in the Commerce Department, died in the prison hospital on Wednesday from a savage beating at the hands of three fellow prisoners now accused by the FBI of murder.

He was struck on the head with a brick wrapped in a sock. The assault was committed in Remington's dormitory room.

The attack, coming so soon before the time set for Hiss' release, led to widespread speculation that the two were somehow connected. But acting Warden Fred T. Wilkinson said he found no good reason for so thinking.

Wilkinson said Hiss, former high ranking State Department assistant, spent his last day in prison in routine fashion. He turned in his drab clothing, the odds and ends he won't need in the outside world.

"Just as in the military," Wilkinson said, "there is a lot of this checking out to be done."

The charging of the third convict, Lewis Cagle Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn., provided the first clue as to possible motive for the attack on Remington.

Norman H. McCabe, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia office of the FBI, said Cagle admitted that he and two other convicts "planned to ransack Remington's room on Nov. 22 and the assault took place while there in his (Remington's) room."

The others, George Junior McCoy, 34, Grundy, Va., and Robert Carl Parker, 21, Washington, D. C., were charged with murder the day Remington died.

West Market Best, Turkey Growers Told

"Oregon turkey growers will have to depend on their own markets for the sake of economy," Charles Norton, Portland, said here Friday night. Norton is president of the Northwest Poultry firm of Salem.

Norton, speaking before 230 members of the Oregon Turkey Improvement Association at Mayflower Hall, advised them to cease trying to compete with eastern growers in eastern markets.

The assemblage was told that the cost of shipping birds to the east gives all the advantage to the eastern growers.

The downward trend of the market on both birds and eggs received thorough attention at the fall meeting of the group.

It was pointed out that growers averaged about 50 cents profit per bird this year, compared with an average profit of between $1.50 and $2.00 last year.

A survey released to the group showed that eleven million more pounds of turkeys were in cold storage nationally this year as compared to last year.

It was pointed out that while this season's crop showed an increase nationally, it was slightly down in Oregon.

Booming sales were reported during the Thanksgiving holiday period, but they have been offset by the drop in prices, it was reported.

Speaker Norton opined that Oregon growers, in their fight to economize, should concentrate on their markets on the west coast in Canada and in Alaska.

He added that competition from California growers was becoming an increasingly important factor.

Six Burned To Death in Idaho Wreck

BURLEY, Idaho (AP)—Six persons were burned fatally early Friday when their parked car was rammed by another machine, crashed into a parked truck, exploded and burned.

All the dead were from Buhl, Idaho. Five persons, in the moving car, all from Southern Idaho towns were hospitalized. The truck driver, Walter Granville, 31, of Portland, was unhurt.

Sheriff LePage Layton said Granville had parked his truck when visibility was severely hampered by a dust storm. The death car parked behind the truck. Its flames were whipped away from the truck and the other car by the strong wind.

DeQUEEN, Ark. (AP)—The flood of comment on segregation in public schools brought this admonition from columnist J. R. McKinley of the DeQueen Citizen: "If there's a newspaper somewhere which hasn't quoted your reaction to the segregation decision, telephone the editor right now and demand your rights."

Brief Freedom Due to Convict

Freedom will be short-lived for a convict who is to be released today from the Oregon State Penitentiary.

The convict, Edward W. Bish, will walk out of the prison and into the arms of a Marion County Sheriff's deputy. Bish is wanted on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, by Del Norte County, Calif., authorities.

Extradition papers have not yet been completed there and officials have asked the sheriff's office here to hold Bish until the papers are ready.

Bish will be lodged in the Marion County jail.

Defense Rips Lab Methods In Ohio Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—Defense attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard ripped and tore Friday at police evidence obtained through test-tube methods in the home where his wife was beaten to death on a dark, stormy night last July.

They centered their fire particularly on methods a police laboratory technician used to identify human blood stains.

The state accuses Dr. Sheppard of battering his wife Marilyn to death as she lay in bed. He asserts the crime was committed by a bushy haired marauder, who also attacked him and twice knocked him unconscious in the fight.

Henry J. Dombrowski, "test-tube detective" of 12 years experience in the Cleveland police laboratory, was the witness Friday as the trial neared the end of its sixth week.

Under direct examination, using photographs, the state mapped a trail of blood from room to room in the Sheppard home. The trail led even out to the garage, where Dombrowski said he found a blood stain.

This could be the basis for the state's contention that a "bushy haired intruder" would have fled the scene as rapidly as possible, and would not have lingered around the house and then gone into the garage.

Defense attorney William J. Corrigan swiftly began picking and probing at Dombrowski's testimony.

He wanted to know the exact dates and times when the laboratory technician went to the house, who went with him, and whether he was "briefed" as to what evidence to look for.

Over and over again, he asked to see the notes Dombrowski made as he went along. The detective produced them and Corrigan noted that some were undated. "So now you are simply relying on your memory, is that correct?" he asked on numerous occasions.

Unfair Practice Charge Upheld For Unions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner Friday upheld charges of unfair labor practices brought by two CIO Woodworker unions against the Oregon Coast Operators Assn. and the Willamette Valley Operators Assn.

David F. Doyle, the examiner, recommended that the companies be ordered to bargain in good faith and that they stop refusing to write into a contract the side agreements which were made in the course of bargaining.

Doyle, who heard the case at North Bend last June, said the employer negotiators had used "many devices to frustrate the sincere efforts of the unions to bargain."

The two unions, one at Coos Bay and one at Reedsport, asked for pay increases of 15 cents an hour while the rest of the industry asked a 1 1/2-cent hourly increase.

Doyle said: "The conduct of the employers' representatives at certain points revealed their lack of good faith. Reviewing their conduct in the most charitable light, I must conclude that on occasions they were arrogant, flippant, arbitrary and hypocritical. They displayed none of the qualities of open-mindedness, sincerity, patience, or tolerance that mark the conduct of a representative who negotiates with equals in an honest effort to resolve different mutual problems."

They "evinced in the bargaining bad faith amounting to a rejection of the entire concept of collective bargaining and a rejection of all duty to bargain in good faith as required by the act," Doyle said.

He upheld the union's demand that it was entitled to certain information from management on which to base its wage requests.

The lumber operators were given 20 days in which to take their appeal to the national board.

Youth Facing Theft Charge

A 16-year-old boy, parolee from the MacLaren School for Boys, Woodburn, is being held in Bellingham, Wash., on a warrant accusing him of larceny of an automobile in Salem.

The car, a 1954 Oldsmobile, was taken from a local car agency on Nov. 16. The auto was loaned for a demonstration ride and not returned, the complaint states.

Papers are being prepared by the Marion County district attorney's office for removal of the boy to Salem.

Sheriff's Aide Gets Brand New 'Deputy'

A "star" was born Friday, though not the type worn on the shirt of its father.

The star is a boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Orman Gilgildow, 695 N. 16th St. The father is a Marion County sheriff's deputy.

The boy is named Bennett Gilgildow. Mother and son were reported doing fine at Salem Memorial Hospital.

Money Ready For Projects, Latins Told

QUITANDINHA, Brazil (AP)—The United States told Latin American nations Friday the World Bank and the U. S. Export-Import Bank have billions of dollars waiting to be loaned if their southern neighbors present sound projects.

Andrew Overby, assistant secretary of the U. S. Treasury, opposed as "impractical and illusionary" a proposal to fix a minimum of one billion dollars yearly as a goal for Latin American economic development, with the United States the biggest contributor.

He spoke at the big debate erupted in a half dozen subcommittees of the Inter-American Economic Conference on the question of whether the United States is giving enough economic help and price supports to the Southern Hemisphere.

As for price guarantees, the United States, through Willis Armstrong of the State Department, reiterated its stand that its own economy could not enable it to peg prices for everything the world produces.

Just before Overby spoke, delegates applauded President Arturo Maschke of Chile's Central Bank when he urged the American nations to set up a new inter-American bank to finance economic development south of the Rio Grande.

"An inter-American banking system," Maschke said, "would be an efficient and specific mechanism to help Latin America's economic development and aid its inhabitants to realize their justifiable desire for better living conditions."

Tillamook City Law Overruled By Liquor Law

State Liquor Commission regulations hold precedent over city ordinances in matters dealing with state licensed dispensers. That, in effect, was the opinion handed down Friday by Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton.

The opinion stemmed from a question as to the validity of a Tillamook city ordinance, which provides a closing time of 1 a.m. The Thornton ruling gives priority to a commission regulation setting the closing time at 2:30 a.m.

The opinion had been requested by State Senator Warren McMininee of Tillamook.

Climbers Set Up Mountain Rescue Squad

Given impetus by a series of climbing accidents last fall on Mt. Jefferson, a Salem mountain rescue squad will be organized Thursday night under sponsorship of the Chemeketas, the city's outdoor group.

The new organization will be a counterpart of such famed Northwest mountain rescue units as the Portland Mazamas, the Hood River Crag Rats, the Eugene Obidians and the Seattle Mountaineers.

The need for a Salem organization of this nature was made doubly clear last fall, said George LaBorde, a Chemeketan official. LaBorde pointed out that when Mt. Jefferson mishaps killed one climber and injured three others, the only recourse was to call in rescue units from Portland, Hood River and as far away as Seattle.

"Our proposed organization," added LaBorde, "will concern itself mainly with climbing accidents on Mt. Jefferson, Mt. Washington and Three-Fingered Jack." It was explained that these three peaks of the central Cascades are the frequently climbed mountains in this general area.

The new organization will be open to all mountaineers, not being limited to Chemeketan members.

Plans for the new group brought enthusiastic approval from various quarters. S. T. Moore, district U.S. ranger at Detroit and involved in many a rescue operation in the area, heartily approved the move, it was reported.

Marion County Sheriff Denver Young has promised the organization full cooperation of his office, said LaBorde. That would include two-way radio equipment.

Both Moore and Young are slated to attend the Thursday organizational meeting at the Chemekete-Den, 360 1/2 State St., starting at 8 p.m.

Nixon Heckler Claims Attack, Asks $150,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A damage suit for $150,000 was filed here Friday against Vice President Richard Nixon.

The suit was brought by James Heavey, 33, of San Francisco, who heckled Nixon while the vice president was making a pre-election speech in San Mateo County.

The suit, filed in superior court, charged assault and battery. The complaint alleged that Heavey was assaulted by 12 persons "without cause or provocation" while Nixon was making a speech in San Mateo High School's auditorium on Oct. 29 in support of Republican candidates.

Heavey was reported by newsmen at the rally to have shouted an interruption as Nixon was talking.

Heavey's complaint charged that the 12 persons "there and then battered his person by grasping, pulling and tugging, causing the plaintiff sundry bruises to his back, arms and neck."

As a result, the complaint stated, Heavey "suffered grave and severe humiliation, embarrassment and shame, including shock and injury to his nerves and nervous system."

The alleged assailants, the complaint continued, "were the agents, sergeants and employees" of Nixon, and "were at all times acting within the course and scope of their employment," and were "under the supervision" of Nixon.

Accident Victim In Fair Condition

Mrs. Minnie Smith, 65, of Portland, was reported in "only fair" condition Friday night at Salem Memorial Hospital, where she was being treated for injuries suffered in a Thanksgiving Day highway accident.

The woman's husband, Ray Thurston Smith, 70, was instantly killed in the accident, which occurred about eight miles south of Salem on the Pacific highway. Smith's body was removed to Portland, where funeral arrangements will be made.
