Richards Tells Responsibility Of Teachers

Statesman News Service

OREGON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Monmouth. — "The atomic age promises much in material development but we must remember that our children are America's greatest undeveloped natural resource. The American people have given educators the main responsibility for their development as true American citizens," declared Dr. John R. Richards, vice-chancellor, State System of Higher Education, in the concluding address of the two-day college workshop on Citizenship Education held at Oregon College of Education Friday and Saturday, Nov. 26-27.

Twenty-six attended the workshop representing Eastern Oregon College of Education, Willamette University, University of Oregon, Linfield College, Oregon State College, Portland State, and Oregon College of Education. The Corvallis and Monmouth-Independence school systems and a representative from the State Department of Education participated also.

Emphasis in the workshop was placed on ways and means of developing the teaching of active citizenship in the secondary schools in Oregon and in preparation of high school teachers who are prepared to teach citizenship as an outcome of courses in the social sciences, humanities and science-mathematics.

Leaders in the workshop were Edwin T. Ingles, regional representative and Dr. Allen O. Felix, national representative, from the Citizenship Education project sponsored by Teachers College, Columbia University.

Dr. Richards stated that "Some few in America believe that the schools should indoctrinate children about government. Indoctrination, however, is the teaching technique of the Nazi and the Communist. We in American education believe instead that citizenship values come from positive adaptation on the part of children to their ethnic environment."

Post Office Work Planned for Early Start at Woodburn

Statesman News Service

WOODBURN — R. C. Enos of Enos and Brooks, Contractors, said Monday that work would begin on the new city post office within 30 days. The building, of modernistic design and will have 2500 feet of floor space. The contract was let by the postmaster general's office to the Woodburn concern Nov. 23, with the structure to be raised on a lot at the corner of Grant and 2nd Street North. An option to the space was secured by the contractors some time ago from School District 103C, with the understanding that the lot was to be used only as the location for a new post office. Enos and Brooks will construct and lease the building to the government.

Construction time has been limited to 180 days, said Enos, but the company expects to complete the structure in less time.

Interest High in School Cafeteria At Woodburn

Statesman News Service

WOODBURN — School officials report increased interest on the part of parents in the establishment of a school cafeteria. Directors and administrators have been approached frequently on the subject during the current year, it was stated. Representatives from two patron organizations, Jaycee-ettes and the Parent-Teacher Association, appeared at the monthly school board meeting to ask that the possibility of a hot lunch program be studied and offered their services in promoting such a project. A previous survey of available space by school officials had revealed that a central kitchen might be located in the basement of Washington school from which other schools could be served. A report on additional studies is planned for the January meeting.

Birds are believed by scientists to be descended from reptiles.

Lebanon Man Writes Book on Women Drivers

Statesman News Service

LEBANON — Don Wellman (above), Lebanon radio man and former car salesman, is the author of a new book, "Soft Shoulders," published by Pageant Press Inc. of New York City.

"Soft Shoulders" is a humorous, entertaining story of a woman's place in the "high-speed homicide" vocation of driving a car. Wellman wrote it after taking part in a school for drivers and using his wife as a pupil.

The well-illustrated book was "written specifically to help the long-suffering husband teach his wife how to drive the family car."

It insists women can be good drivers "and should and can learn," and that husbands can learn a thing or two by teaching, too.

Gibraltar Votes To Incorporate

Statesman News Service

GIBRALTAR, Mich. — This little community stands solid as its namesake rock these days after villagers voted for incorporation. The move was designed to reap some $135,000 in village taxes yearly from a steel company, which is building a $12-million plant within the town limits.

Without a charter, the village would not be eligible to collect the taxes.

Cpl. Baker on 30-Day Leave

Statesman News Service

ELLIOTT, PRAIRIE — Cpl. Brice Baker arrived home Thursday morning to spend his 30-day leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker. He was the honor guest at a Thanksgiving dinner at his home. Others included his grandmother, Mrs. Dora Scherich, an uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Scherich and Glenda Clare of Salem, a cousin, Miss Mae Bowman of Portland, his parents and brother Ervry.

Cpl. Baker has spent the past 16 months with the 3rd Marine Division at Camp Okubo, Japan. He served in the Engineer Battalion doing refrigeration work and has spent the past few months giving instruction in refrigeration to other men. At the end of his leave here he will report for duty at Norfolk, Virginia. His enlistment expires in April, 1956.

Injured Logger Leaves Hospital

Statesman News Service

SILVERTON — Olaus Moen, who was injured 10 days ago in the woods when a tree he was felling, hit him, was able to be removed to his home Monday.

Moen suffered a fractured spine and will be in a steel brace for five months, members of the family said Monday.

Mrs. Moen, who suffered a broken shoulder and hip in a fall at their home last February, is still in a cast. Her hip failed to respond properly to earlier care and surgery was necessitated this fall. She will remain in the cast until at least after Dec. 16 when additional X-rays will be taken to ascertain if the bones are knitting properly.

Pilot Shifts to New Course

GOLDEN, Colo. — After nearly 40 years as an airplane pilot, Bart Stevenson, 57, is enrolled as a freshman at Colorado School of Mines.

With 11,500 flying hours behind him, the father of three grown sons is carrying 21 hours a week at the engineering school.

His aviation career started during World War I when he became a navy flier. Later he demonstrated the comfort of early cabin planes by wearing a business suit, derby and spats. During World War II he was a Lockheed test pilot at Burbank, Calif.

STILLS DRY UP

CAMDEN, S. C. (AP) — The long dry spell is even driving moonshiners out of business. Operators in the Sandy Grove section set the woods on fire with their still, enabling officers to locate and destroy about 500 gallons of the illegal brew.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, soapy, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.
