Five Salem Engineers in 'Blue Book'

NEW YORK — Five Salem technical men have satisfied the standards set up by the Engineers Joint Council for inclusion in the 1954 edition of "Who's Who in Engineering," the first appearance of the publication in six years.

"Top-notchers" in the profession were selected for the blue book which was compiled under the guidance of the council, comprising 12 men representing the various branches of engineering. The Salem men on the list are Robert H. Baldock, Lloyd K. Clark, John L. Geren, Hollis W. Libby and Glenn S. Passon. Geren is manager of the Salem city water department; Baldock is Oregon state highway engineer and Passon the bridge engineer on his staff. Libby, retired, was for many years the chief locating engineer for the State Highway Department; Clark is a private engineer, partner in the Salem firm of Clark & Groff.

Included in the "Who's Who" are only those of acknowledged professional standing with at least 10 years of active practice — five of it in charge of important engineering work — and teachers of engineering with at least 10 years experience in accredited schools.

State Rejects Bids on Tires, Oil Products

Appearance of erasure marks on the low bid has resulted in a call for new bids on the state of Oregon's 1955 supply of 4 million gallons of gasoline, plus oil and grease.

All bids were rejected after their recent examination by State Finance Director Harry S. Dorman, following announcement from his office that the low bidder was Tidewater Associated Oil Co.

Any bids on which erasures are found must be rejected, according to state law, which is designed to make it difficult for any bidders to claim that bids have been altered by any state employee.

Dorman said he also has rejected two low bids on tires for next year. These bids were submitted by Mike DeCicco, the lowest, and Dayton Tire Sales, both of Portland. Dorman said these were rejected because of erasures.

Before rejecting them, Dorman was given an opinion by Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton that the bids couldn't be accepted. Dorman awarded the tire contract to Peck Bros., Portland, which also has the tire business for this year. Peck submitted the third lowest bid.

Death Claims Claude Boone Of Aumsville

AUMSVILLE — Funeral services will be held in Aumsville Tuesday at 2 p. m. for Claude D. Boone, longtime resident of Aumsville who died Sunday at a Salem hospital.

He was born in Salem June 17, 1881, the son of Henry D. Boone who had the first book and music store in Salem. His grandfather, John D. Boone, was the last territorial treasurer of Oregon and the first state treasurer. He served seven terms.

Claude Boone moved to Aumsville in 1894 to live with the Henry C. Porters after the death of his parents. In 1914 he was married to Maude Porter, daughter of the family, who now survives.

The Boones built two stores and a service station in Aumsville. They moved to Salem eight years ago when he became ill, but kept their property in Aumsville and spent part of their time here.

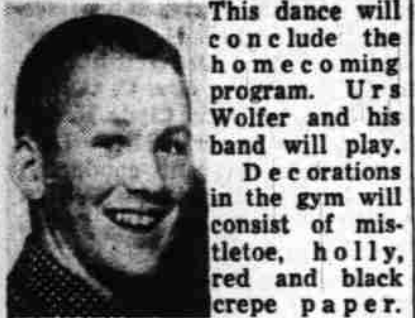

He was a member of the Christian Church. Surviving are the widow and a sister, Mrs. Sheila Smith of Portland.

The service will be held in Christian Church of Aumsville, followed by burial in Twin Oaks Cemetery. The Rev. Ralph Putnam, St. Helens, will officiate. Weddle Funeral Home is in charge.

School Reporter Homecoming Dance Thursday Night

NORTH SALEM HIGH
"Mistletoe Magic" is the theme for this year's homecoming dance to be held in the big gym Thursday evening.

Will Bateson

This dance will conclude the homecoming program. Urs Wolfer and his band will play. Decorations in the gym will consist of mistletoe, holly, red and black crepe paper. The dance will start at 8:30 and end at 11:30.

Patrons and patronesses are: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Boesch, Mr. and Mrs. Grant B. Fallin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Claggett and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cummings.

Homecoming activities also will consist of an assembly Wednesday and National Honor Society's dinner for all old members of the society, Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the cafeteria.

SOUTH SALEM HIGH
Adding to the spirit of Christmas at South Salem High school have been several activities which have been enjoyed by the entire student body.

The senior class is sponsoring Christmas carols in the halls during the lunch hour. All interested members of the student body gather to sing. Piano accompanist for the carols is Betty Bishop, a senior.

The first Christmas assembly was held Monday by the Girls' League. The program was attended by all girls.

Louise Owens, a past student of North Salem High school and now a speech student at Willamette, entertained with the reading of the "Littlest Angel." At the finish of her reading she was presented with a corsage by Sondra Jochimsen in behalf of the Girls' League.

A trio of senior girls then presented two Christmas numbers. Betty Bishop, Nancy Owens and Sally Hoffman sang Winter Wonderland and White Christmas.

The first social function of the newly formed Encore club will be a caroling party Wednesday night.

After caroling the group will go to the home of Marilyn Shields for refreshments, which will be prepared by mothers of the club members.

Don Zeh was elected president of the "Per aspera ad astra" which is the chosen name for the Latin club. Literal translation means "through bolts and bars to the stars."

Other officers are Richard Castle, vice-president; Donna Meyer, secretary, and Marcia Humphrey, treasurer.

Future plans of the club include an initiation and caroling in Latin. Committee members to plan the initiation are Don Zeh, Georgianna Criswell, Beverly Walls and Arlene Weaver.

4 Arraigned on Check Charge

Four men were arraigned Monday in Marion County Circuit Court, all in connection with charges of obtaining money by false pretenses.

Lee J. Harley was ordered to show cause why his probation should not be revoked. He was placed on probation Sept. 7 from a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

He is said by the district attorney's office to have written four worthless checks since, but to have made restitution on each of them.

Chester Lee Rose and Richard B. Vann, each of whom has been convicted of obtaining money by false pretenses, will be sentenced Dec. 27. Joseph H. Jackson was placed on probation for two years and ordered to make restitution on a worthless check passed for $47.50 at a Marion store on Sept. 13.

Labor Council Plans Party For Children

Organized labor will stage its sixth annual children's Christmas party at North Salem High Auditorium Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

An amateur variety show, group singing, movies and a visit from Santa are all on the program arranged by Salem Trades & Labor Council.

Lyle Johnson will be master of ceremonies. Don Smith, now a University of Oregon student, will be organist for the sixth time at these labor parties.

Entertainers will include a North Salem High trio, Helen Lewis, Bev Hamman and Jan McAlpine; violinist Kay Johnson of Parrish, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lorin Johnson; tap dancer, Bill Bartlett of Leslie; Anglea Schneider and Anabelle Day of West Salem in a black-face number; novelty music by Jack Krater and Clarence Sabrowski; pantomime by Dick Engdahl.

The program is public. Last year it drew 1,400 children.

E. S. Benjamin will open the event. The Rev. Kevin Murphy will give an invocation. Mayor Alfred W. Loucks and Assistant Superintendent of Schools Charles D. Schmidt will be introduced.

The committee in charge includes Alfred F. Chivers, chairman, Herbert E. Barker, Mrs. Mary Chapman, Mrs. Dorothy Wills and Mrs. Emma McDougal.

New Agriculture Assignment Told

Appointment of Allen G. Plummer of Portland as assistant chief of the State Agriculture Department division of grain inspection in Portland was announced Monday by T. Ralph Harry, division chief.

Plummer has been with the grain division as chemist and inspector since January, 1948.

Two YMCA Leaders Win National Honors

Two Salem YMCA leaders made news Monday through national activities.

Robert Hamilton, 2060 S. Summer St., was appointed to the YMCA's national committee on youth work. Robert Wilder, 690 N. 17th St., of the Hi-Y was awarded full-delegate status for the World Alliance of YMCA meeting in Paris, France, next summer.

Wilder, son of Mrs. Thelma Wilder, had earlier been named an alternate delegate. As a full delegate he now will receive some financing for the trip from the Salem, Hi-Y Council and the district YM organization.

Hamilton is an adviser to the six Hi-Y clubs in Salem and is a member of the Salem YM's and the Pacific Northwest area's youth committees.

Hamilton is the second Salem member drafted for national YMCA responsibilities. Tinkham Gilbert serves on the national council.
