Joan Brownell Makes Debut, Only Cabinet Bud of Season

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—"From nine to 10" read the engraved invitations the Attorney General and Mrs. Herbert Brownell sent out to their own friends to the debut they gave for their pretty daughter, Joan.

This caused a flurry of comment around town among the oldsters, who don't usually like to be told when they're expected to scam. "It'll take us a full hour just to get into our monkey suits and about as long to go down the receiving line," one man complained.

Eileen Lang Married at Military Rites

Of interest to the couple's many Salem friends is announcement of the marriage of Miss Eileen Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lang, and Airman second class William W. Barrett, son of Ward Barrett, all of Salem.

The ceremony took place at Reeves Air Force Chapel, Lubbock, Texas on Dec. 31 at 7 o'clock. Lt. Robert E. Quigg, USAF, chaplain, performed the nuptials. This was a military wedding with an air police honor guard.

The newlyweds are now at home at the West End Apartments, Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Barrett is stationed with the air police squadron at Reeves Air Force Base.

Plans Outlined For Circus

Highland School Mothers Club board members, room mothers, assistants and husbands attended a meeting Monday night to formulate plans for the benefit circus to be held Feb. 4 at the school.

Mrs. Russell Eyerly, president, Mrs. Al Chivers and Mrs. Nicholas Error, co-chairmen of the finance committee, presented plans for the booths and other activities for the circus. Ed Randle and Curtis Ferguson will operate the fun house and Earl Mootry is assisting with prizes and publicity.

Get-Acquainted Party

Following the congregational meeting at Christ Lutheran Church Sunday night, there will be a social hour in the church parlors. Mrs. Gus Netz is making arrangements for the event and the women of the Dorcas Society will serve coffee and German coffee cake. This will be an occasion for members of the congregation to become better acquainted with the new members.

Co-Rec Club will hold its mid-winter semi-formal dance Friday evening at the YWCA. The dance will start at 7:30 p.m. and will feature a variety of music. Single young people are invited.

Old Timers Potatoes Give Taste, Texture to Favorite Yeast Breads and Rolls

By MAXINE BUREN
Statesman Woman's Editor
Potatoes are fine boiled or whipped or baked in the oven—but they do themselves mighty proud in bread too. Potato bread and rolls are old familiar food on many tables—though not so much as once upon a time. We highly recommend potato bread, so much so that we made it the very first recipe in that cookbook we published a couple of years ago and called it

FAVORITE WHITE BREAD
Boil a potato the size of a lemon in two or so cups of water. Mash through a fine sieve, using the potato water. Add enough more water to make a quart of liquid. Warm to lukewarm and add a cake of yeast, crumbled up, 1 tablespoon sugar and enough flour to make a sponge. It will take about a cup of flour. Beat with a rotary beater to mix yeast. Let stand in a covered bowl for about two hours in a warm place until it froths up. Now add a tablespoon of shortening, a teaspoon of salt and enough more flour to make a stiff dough that can be handled easily and not stick to the board. Knead a few minutes, let set for about two hours or until it doubles in bulk. Make into loaves, kneading again: Let rise again until doubled in bulk and bake approximately one hour at 375 degrees until well browned. This makes four loaves.

A recipe from New Hampshire, called Featherbeds, is a nice hot roll made with potatoes.
FEATHERBEDS
2 large potatoes 1 1/2 cups potato water
1 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup milk, scalded
2 tablespoons sugar 1 cake compressed yeast
3 tablespoons butter 7 cups flour, sifted
Boil potatoes until tender, drain and save water. Mash potatoes and add salt, sugar, butter and beat well. Add potato water, hot milk, and cool. When lukewarm, add crumbled yeast cake and stir in 4 cups flour. Beat well. Add enough of remaining flour to make a dough stiff enough to knead. Knead until smooth and elastic. Brush top of melted butter and place in a large greased bowl. Cover, let rise until doubled in bulk (about 5 hours or overnight). Place on a board, pat into 1/2 inch thick pieces but do not knead. Pinch off small pieces and roll: Place on greased pan, let rise until more than doubled in bulk, bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for 20 minutes or until done. Makes 48 small rolls.

Or if you prefer, this recipe was worked out especially for Oregon grown potatoes:
OREGON RUSSET ROLLS
1 potato 1 cake compressed yeast
3/4 cup lukewarm milk 6 tablespoons soft shortening
2 tablespoons sugar 3/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons
1 teaspoon salt 2 to 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
Peel and cook potato until tender. Mash (add no seasonings). Combine and mix well: 1/2 cup mashed potato, milk, sugar and salt. Crumble the yeast into the mixture and stir until dissolved; add shortening and mix well. Sift flour and add all at once. Mix with a wooden spoon and then with your hands. As the dough begins to leave the sides of the bowl, turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead until it is smooth and doesn't stick to the board. Make into desired shape and set in a warm place to rise until double in bulk. (45 to 60 minutes) Bake at 400 degrees for 16 to 20 minutes. Yields about 1 1/2 dozen rolls.

Valley Scenes Feature of Exhibit

By MRS. A. T. KING
Willamette Valley scenes and subjects inspired the collection of oils and lithographs by Helen Blumensteil now showing at the Salem Art Museum in the historic Bush House, 600 Mission St. Miss Blumensteil expresses the Cascades and Valley hills, viewed from her studio window in spring, with bold, vigorous composition while her "Winter Hills" are quiet, stilled by the snow. From her oil series, "Farm Workers," she has selected "The Weed Pullers" and "The Cherry Grafter." There is a sure, definitive manipulation of color forms to portray the contrasting moods of wearisome toil in the first and the proud hope of growing, living things in the second.

When the artist paints the human figure such as in the "Tall Musician," "Doctor and Family," "Mrs. G. at Piano" and "Two Figures" (there are two quite different handlings of these figures), she approaches her subjects with a swift warmth and, perhaps, humor. These are bold expressive human forms in energetic search for detail. Her exhibit also includes meticulously drawn lithographs of such Salem landmarks as the old Court House, Presbyterian Church and the Paper Mill.

Kathryn Arneur's watercolors of California will remain through January and the Museum is open to the public every day except Monday, 10 to 12 a.m. and 2 to 5 p.m.

Six Charter Members are Honored

At Oregon State

Dance Will Follow Game Saturday

By JODY RICKETTS
Statesman Correspondent
CORVALLIS—A very busy week-end is planned down at Oregon State this week-end. Our first big clash of basketball rivals those Oregon Ducks is scheduled. The annual Lemon-Orange Squeeze dance will be held after the Saturday night game in the Memorial Union Ballroom.

A large number of Salem students are planning to attend including Barbara Jackson, Kitty Metcalf, Sharon Shaffer, Gail Ashby, Nan Steele, Nancy Morefield, Shirley Juran, Judy Jackson, Norma Moore, Clarice and Claudia Waters, Sandra Carter, Joan Lewis, Patsy Snider, and Ginger Lively. Among the men attending are Larry Paulus, John Clayton, Tom Pickens, Mike Campbell, Denny Felke, Whitney Benson, Ted Henry, George Meyer, Lowell Pierce, Dick Meyer, Steve Merchant, Jim McClellan, and Ron Nelson.

Ray Gould Drill Leader
Salem can be mighty proud of Ray Gould. He is the drill leader for Oregon State's prize winning Pershing Rifle drill team. The team performed last Saturday night at the game during half time. The Air-Force drill team was competing with the Army drill team.

Also in line for this week-end is the Engineer's Ball held every year in the Engineering Laboratory. The theme is "Serenade to Scale," which seems very appropriate for engineers. The dance will be held Friday night.

Mrs. Young to Head Mothers

Cherry Assembly, Rainbow Mothers' Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Jack French for the monthly meeting. Election of officers was held with Mrs. Gleason Young named president; vice president, Mrs. Wayne Walls; treasurer, Mrs. John Glenn; secretary, Mrs. Merle Phillips.

Appointive officers are: publicity, Mrs. Emery Wood; telephone, Mrs. Charles Warren, Mrs. Freida McCarthy, Mrs. Evelyn Kellar; cheer, Mrs. Robert Covert; membership, Mrs. Evelyn Kellar, Mrs. Burton Walker and Mrs. Gleason Young.

Projects for the coming year were discussed. The next meeting will be Feb. 22 at the home of Mrs. Robert Covert.

WILLAMINA—The birthdays of Mrs. Floyd Rosenbalm and Mrs. Willard Emerson were honored Saturday evening at a dinner given by Mrs. Ray McGee.
