Latin Club Receives Treat

NORTH SALEM HIGH
The members of North Salem High Latin Club received a treat Wednesday that won't soon be forgotten. France Cosco, Latin teacher at South Salem High, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting.

The talk which was held in the library was both inspiring and educational. Mr. Cosco told many interesting things about Italy and the town about 50 miles south of Rome from which he came. One interesting piece of information was about the educational system in Italy.

Spanish Club also had a guest, Jerry Berg, who showed slides of France and Spain. Jerry's color slides accompanied by explanations gave the students a more realistic picture of the land whose language they are learning. Jerry took the pictures while he traveled through Europe last summer.

The North Salem students who drive cars have their chance this week and next to get a red and black Viking decal for their car windows. The decals are being sold by Honor Society where the profits will go for a constructive club project.

PARRISH JUNIOR HIGH
The student body officers at Parrish Wednesday morning had a chance to see how their rival, Leslie Junior High, operates. The Parrish officers picked up bag and baggage and moved over to the south part of town to attend a student council meeting and the morning classes.

The exchange was not unneeded however, for the Leslie officers returned the visit the same afternoon.

The crucial point of Parrish's second semester elections nears as the primaries are now over and the hand shaking and back slapping start in earnest.

The Studenter party chose for their candidates for the student body officers: president, John Socolofsky; vice president, Jim McCaffery; secretary, Lynne Conklin; treasurer, Ben Dawson.
