House Action Nearing On Portland State Bill

By PAUL W. HARVEY, JR.
Associated Press Writer

Portland State College, regulation of milk and electric companies, and exempting school bus operations from gasoline taxes are listed for action in the Oregon Legislature next week.

When the lawmakers return to the Capitol Monday for their fourth week, there will be eight bills up for passage in the Senate and two in the House, but all are somewhat trivial.

Next week's action will be mostly in committee rooms.

The House Education committee plans to vote Tuesday on the Senate-passed bill to make Portland State College a degree-granting college. It's now an extension center of the State Board of Higher Education.

The only opposition to the bill comes from Eugene and Corvallis, where the university and state college are located. The bill appears certain to be passed by the House, probably on Thursday or Friday.

Hearing Monday

On Monday afternoon, the House Food and Dairy committee holds a hearing in room 326 on the Department of Agriculture's bill to eliminate B and C grades of milk. This bill has drawn the fire of some dairymen who claim it would run the little dairymen out of business.

The Senate State and Federal Affairs committee has a hearing scheduled Monday at 10:30 a. m. in room 6 on a bill to compel state boards and departments to open their meetings to the public and the press, and to give five days' notice before meetings are held.

Taxes—The Legislature's No. 1 problem—will be the main interest Tuesday, when the 31 Democrats in the Legislature will announce their program to raise revenue to balance the state budget.

Institution Bonds

The proposal to ask the voters at the next election to authorize a bond issue for state institution construction is scheduled for hearing Tuesday afternoon in room 321 by the House taxation committee.

On Wednesday, the Senate Commerce and Utilities committee will have a hearing on a bill to let the State Tax commission fix valuations of utilities for rate-making purposes. This valuation now is set by the Public Utilities commissioner, who also sets the rates.

Sen. Monroe Sweetland, Milwaukie Democrat, author of the bill, thinks the tax commission would set lower valuations, and thus the electric rates would be reduced.

An attempt by schools districts to obtain gasoline tax refunds on the buses which they own and operate will get an airing Wednesday before the House Highways committee.

A flood of bills will be introduced in the House next week as Representatives try to beat the deadline for introduction of bills.

Limitation on Bills

After Thursday, no House bills can be introduced except by permission of the House rules committee. The Senate has a similar rule, but it doesn't go into effect until Feb. 14.

There are a couple of parties on tap for next week, too.

The Salem Chamber of Commerce will have a dinner for the Legislators and their wives Monday night.

On Friday, the Legislators and wives wil go to Eugene for dinner given by the Eugene Chamber of Commerce. After the dinner, they'll attend the Oregon-Washington Basketball game.

Solon Favors Formation of Parks Board

A separate state parks commission could do a better long-rang job of park development that the Oregon Highway Commission which now has control, it was declared by Rep. Alfred Corbett (D), Portland.

State Sen. Pat Lonergan (R), Portland and Corbett have introduced a bill proposing the transfer of 62 major state parks from the highway commission to a new five-man parks commission to be appointed by the governor.

The bill also would increase the amount of money for state parks from the present level of about $2,000,000 a biennium to approximately $3,000,000, Rep. Corbett said of the bill.

"Our primary reason for introducing this measure," said Corbett, "is the attitude of the highway commission."

He maintained that the highway body has insisted on locating parks near main highways and has taken the stand that all funds now made available for parks should go into maintenance without any further acquisition of park land at this time.

More Parks Needed

The Portland representative said he feels that more parks will be needed because of "the phenomenal growth of the tourist and recreation industries in Oregon and the expected population growth to come."

The parks commission proposal, Senate Bill 136, said Corbett, is designed to pool the ideas submitted by an interim committee on Columbia River parks and recreation and by the Portland Chamber of Commerce subcommitte on natural resources.

The setup would call for the separate commission until such time as it would become incorporated in a state natural resources department.

For financing of park acquisition and development under the new plan, the proposed law calls for allocation to that purpose of 3½ per cent of the annual revenue collected for highway purposes.

Legality Checked

Corbett said this method of having park funds still come from the Highway Commission had been checked for legality and it was found that it would not jeapordize federal aid or other special funds now available to the state highway department.

The bill also directs the park and highway commissions to make studies and come to agreement before Jan. 1, 1956, on what additional parks would be turned over to the new commission, besides the 62 primary parks specified at the outset.

The transfer would not affect the status of present roadside park areas which the highway commission has developed in recent years, for example.

Salary of the director of state parks is fixed in the bill at not less than $9,000. Separate offices for the independent parks department would be provided.

The bill has been referred to the ways and means committee.

Resignation of Eugene's Police Chief Reported

EUGENE (AP) — Police Chief Ted Brown will resign here soon to become director of public safety at Guam, the Eugene Register-Guard said Saturday.

Brown said he was not at liberty to comment on the report.

The newspaper said Brown applied for the new job two weeks ago, and a letter from the Guam governor, Ford O. Elvidge, arrived last week, saying Brown had been selected.

The official announcement is expected later, the newspaper said.

SEASON OPENS

ASTORIA (AP) — The winter commercial fishing season opened on the Columbia River Saturday, but little activity is expected until the winter run of Chinook salmon begins about Feb. 15.

Relatives of Yank Airmen Get Together

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Relatives of 11 American airmen imprisoned in Red China began a round of entertainment and recognition in their honor here Saturday.

The wives and mothers of the airmen were invited here by a group of businessmen.

Most of the women endorsed the State Department's refusal to grant travel permits so they could accept a Communist invitation to visit their men.

One of them. Mrs. Marjorie Llewellyn, Vista, Calif., disagreed. The wife of Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, one of the Americans held in a Communist jail, said if the State Department changed its mind "I'd still go."

Others who made the trip to Florida included Mrs. Charlene Banjamin, wife of Airman 2-C Henry M. Benjamin Jr., Worthington, Minn.; Mrs. Bobby Brown, wife of Lt. Wallace T. Brown, Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. Una F. Schmidt, wife of Airman 2-C Daniel C. Schmidt, Boise, Ida.; Mrs. Frank Brown, mother of Sgt, Howard Brown, St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Ethel M. Dunford sister of Lt. John W. Buck, Armathwaite, Tenn.

Grains Show Small Advance

CHICAGO (AP) — An increase in international tensions lifted grains out of the lethargy they had been in for several weeks on the Board of Trade during the week.

The possibility America might become involved in a shooting war in the Far East scared some shorts in all cereals, particularly soybeans, and the market enjoyed a general but relatively small advance. There was plenty of selling pressure to restore gains.

Wheat closed the week ⅞-3⅛ higher, corn ½-1 ¼ higher, oats ½-1 ⅜ higher, rye 3 to 3 ½ higher, soybeans 2½ to 10 cents higher and lard 23 to 55 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Another development which caused some buying at times, particularly in feed grains, was the first really severe cold weather of the winter in the Midwest. This was expected to increase consumption of feed grains on farms.

Stocks Reach Near Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued driving ahead this week to near record high levels.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $3.20 on the week, the best showing in more than a month.

At the end of the week the average stood at $155.50. The high of the year Jan. 3 was $156.40. The all-time high of $157.70 came on Sept. 3, 1929.

Fall Injures John Wayne

SAUSALITO, Calif., (UP)—Actor - producer John Wayne slipped while walking the gangplank between a ferry boat and the dock Friday during the shooting of the film "Blood Alley" and was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment.

At the hospital, in nearby San Rafael, Dr. Frank R. Hurlbutt said Wayne, co-producer of the movie which has been beset with troubles since shooting began here three weeks ago, suffered a severe muscle strain on the right side.

Dr. Hurlbutt said he did not know how long Wayne would be sidelined.
