House Demos Admit Defeat In Tax Battle

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—Key House Democrats conceded Saturday they probably have lost their big fight for an income tax cut at this session of Congress.

They said they will accept, perhaps by next Friday, a Senate bill merely extending present corporation income and excise tax rates for one more year.

That would give President Eisenhower a major congressional triumph. But the Democrats already are planning to renew the battle next year, when there will be a presidential election campaign.

House Democrats originally drove through a bill over strong Republican opposition that would have given every taxpayer and dependent a $20 income tax reduction starting next Jan. 1.

They tied this into Eisenhower's bill postponing for one year almost 3 billion dollars in corporation and excise tax cuts now set to take effect April 1, just 12 days away.

The Senate defeated the $20 a person tax cut and also a milder Democratic compromise proposal. It passed the straight extension of corporation and excise taxes, as requested by the President.

A Senate-House conference committee is scheduled to meet Wednesday to adjust differences between the two houses.

All Republicans and two senior Democratic senators on the conference committee—Sens. Byrd (Va.) and George (Ga.)—are opposed to any tax cut now in the face of an estimated $2,300,000,000 federal deficit next year.

Highly placed House Democrats said privately this would force their members to yield on the $20 tax cut issue or accept responsibility for letting the corporate and excise tax rates drop April 1.

Good Adverse Neutral

Administration Attacked by Sen. Morse

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) Saturday night told the Americans for Democratic Action that it was important in the interest of peace that the Eisenhower administration be turned out of office in 1956.

"I happen to be one Democrat," he said, "who hopes that the Republican candidate will be none other than Dwight D. Eisenhower, because the responsibility for the sorry plight that is developing in our country both on the domestic and foreign front rests squarely on the shoulders of the President himself...It is the President who is responsible for every reactionary in his political family and it is the President who is responsible for the great damage that is being done to our economy by the deprecation of big business leaders who have come to dominate the White House."

Morse said during the two years of the Eisenhower administration monopolistic combines have expanded at a more rapid rate than during any two year period in the last 50 years.

He said "the campaign of 1956 will not only be one of the most historic in American history, but it may very well determine whether or not the American people will sanction the present trend toward economic Fascism by American administration."
