

Plan Around Sofa Unit in Living Room

In planning the refurnishing of your living room, or if you want to add a new note of interest with a single furniture piece—make the sofa be the salient unit!

Today's styles vary to fit any room—any arrangement! Your sofa can do, or undo space problems and room limitations.

For small rooms, love seat sofas take up less space, yet seat two people comfortably—and, when larger accommodations are available, move smartly into bedroom, hallway or for extra seating in a bigger, living room area.

Sectional pieces too, help meet decorating problems. They offer multiple seating plus the versatility of being easily-adapted to smaller areas.

Sectional pieces—whether classic in styling, or contemporarily modern, can be placed to form a semi-circle, an extra-long divan, or can be used in a smart, corner arrangement.

For those homes lacking facilities for accommodating extra sleeping guests, sofas that open into comfortable beds with no loss of handsome styling or added bulk, offer handsome solutions.

CUCUMBERS ESPALIERED

For a crowded garden area, try training your cucumbers to grow on your fence. Use strong cord, not wire, for supporting ties.

You will have better plants if you pay close attention to their watering requirements and do not plant those that require lots of water right next to those that prefer a drier, atrier soil.

Put this in your home—or, use it as a grace note for your lanai or patio. This smart bar and stool has a burn-and-stain-resistant, plastic top, handsome wrought iron frame complete with brass rail.

New Summer Furniture at Ease Both Inside and Outside Home

Versatility is the keynote of summer furniture, as it brightens both indoor and outdoor settings! Wrought iron is now as dignified as a dowager and may be used inside the house as well as outside. Rattan, with its remarkable new finishes, is steadily gaining a renewed acceptance. These two elements, rattan and wrought iron, have combined for an indefinite stay.

Portability is news in the line of cast aluminum furniture which also resists rust. Canvas chairs are still favorites. Such items as a side chair with set and back of tightly-stretched duck with heavy leather lacing on a wrought iron frame show good prospects. Sun lounges are still made in a variety of materials.

The peacock chair of the illustrious past is one of the more exciting items in the field of furniture, intended for either the drawing room or patio.

Wrought iron upholstered furniture has expanded and there are such new additions as upholstered-back sectionals and armchairs. Stack chairs and collapsible chairs are more desirable than ever, and have new features which make them more portable and eliminate altogether the danger of tipping.

Your selection of summer furniture for your home will be a good investment in year 'round comfort and beauty.
