

Atomic Bomb Shelter Being Built on Estate Of Los Angeles Man

By HENRY GRIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES (UP) — An atomic bomb shelter is being built on the suburban estate of a Los Angeles industrialist. Everyone hopes it will never be put to a test. But the men who designed it believe they have come up with the best idea yet for survival under atomic attack.

Third Biggest Paper in Minot Run by Boy, 11

MINOT, N.D. (UP) — At the age of 11 when most boys have had time for little except Boy Scouts, cowboys and Indians, Richard Dahlen has found time for a whole series of newspapers.
From a relatively humble beginning with the "Daily Carrot" more than two years ago, Richard has risen to the post of publisher of The South Hill News.
The South Hill News boasts of being "the third largest commercial newspaper published in Minot." Its chief competitors in this city of less than 2,500 are a daily and a weekly newspaper.
A fellow doesn't expand that rapidly without running into personal problems.
For example, Richard was publisher, editor, advertising manager, reporter and photographer of The Daily Carrot. Now the sixth grader has taken on chums as editor, feature editor and printer.
To meet the needs of his growing business, Richard applied recently for membership in The Associated Press.
"This newspaper has a circulation of about 50 copies every two weeks," he wrote the AP, "and makes about $1.50 in advertising profits every issue . . .
Only $10 Loan
"I won't be able to become a member should the fee be over about 10 dollars, since all the money we could get in a loan would be about that."
After due consideration, The Associated Press diplomatically informed Richard that he did not yet qualify for membership. But he was no more discouraged than when The Minot Daily News gently declined to sell out to The Daily Carrot.
After all, he decided, there's plenty of room in journalism for a publisher who keeps his readers informed on news of Russians, rockets, baseball and Boy Scouts.
And what other newspaper prints a calendar at the beginning of every year while listing, for the convenience of its readers, the memorable events of the past year?
Events, for example, such as the surrender of Dien Bien Phu in August and the big turnout of troop No. 32 and the Mouse River Loop District camporee in May, 26 at Christmas.
The most recent edition is 8 pages (it was 20 at Christmas) and carries 3 1/2 pages of advertisements. There's a combination almanac, moon book and horoscope, and a stimpword contest, which is described as "along the lines of a crossword puzzle. For each correct answer there will be three free editions of this newspaper and 10 cents."
A sample news item reads, under the heading "Boy Builds Robot":
"There's a mechanical man in Minot. We don't know what his name is but we do know that he was built by Jerry Anderson in about four hundred hours of spare time.
Self-Propelled
"The 'thing' stands two feet high and weighs twenty-two pounds. It can propel itself, turn right or left, pick up objects and talk and listen. What we'd like to know is whether or not it can do the dishes."
There's an editorial on griping, which winds up:
"The strong man, the man who arrives, is the man who maps out his own course, changes when he finds he is in the wrong, but who does not allow himself to be whipped, lacerated and his progress impeded by the mouthings of every whippersnapper who is always looking for a defective spot in every apple into which he bites."
Circulation rates are 5 cents a copy, 50 cents a year in Minot, double outside the city.
Had Richard been a quitter, he might have entered the creamery business run by his father, Lester Dahlman, who also is one of the paper's biggest advertisers.
But he's plugging ahead with the same optimism that led him to say two years ago:
"I don't know who's going to buy the paper. Probably everybody in town will want to, though."
How can a fellow miss with that kind of circulation?

Ward's Control Battle Reaches Climax Today
CHICAGO (UP) — Louis Wolfson's struggle to seize control of Montgomery Ward & Co. will reach its climax Friday.
Wolfson and his entourage will attend Ward's annual stockholders meeting, where he will see for the first time the man he's trying to overthrow — Sewell Avery, Ward's chairman.
Many hundreds of other Ward stockholders will be at the meeting, to be held in Medinah Temple. If the temple's 4,200 seats are filled, it will be the largest stockholder gathering in America's corporate history.
In the last 24 hours of his campaign Wolfson, his brother Cecil, and Alexander Rittmaster III resigned as directors of DeVoe & Ray holds. This was done at a hastily called meeting of the executive committee of the paint firm.
Wolfson announced the resignations at a news conference, showing more irritation and anger at Ward's management than at any previous Chicago conference.
Wolfson's action followed a statement by Ward's attorneys that Wolfson's brother and Rittmaster might be violating the Clayton Anti-Trust Act if they were elected to seats on Ward's nine man board of directors.
The attorneys said the act prohibits anyone from being a director of two or more corporations, anyone of which has capital, surplus and undivided profits in excess of a million dollars, where such corporations are competitors in interstate commerce and elimination of competition between them by agreement would be a violation of federal law.
DeVoe & Reynolds manufactures and sells paint, as does Ward's.
Wolfson said the three men resigned "to eliminate any possibility of doubt about our nomination for directors in the minds of Ward stockholders. We wouldn't resign from DeVoe unless we were sure of getting on Ward's board."
Wolfson added, "When this thing is over we expect to take legal action against Avery. He's a director of Pure Oil Co., which sells oil in competition with Ward's."

Harold Lloyd Checks Son's Movie Career

PLYMOUTH, England (UP) — Harold Lloyd, the 62-year-old grandfather who made horn rimmed spectacles famous when he was a movie comedian, arrived from New York Thursday to see how his 23-year-old son was faring in his movie career.
In his arms when he came ashore from the French liner Liberté was his two-year-old granddaughter, Suzanna, who was not feeling well after a rough Atlantic crossing. Also with Lloyd was his wife, the former Mildred Davis, and their married daughter, Gloria.
Harold Lloyd Jr., who has just finished a comedy part in the British film "A Yank In Ermine" was at the dock to meet them.

Three Die in Copter Crash

NELSON, B. C. (UP) — A large royal Canadian air force helicopter rammed into a mountain Thursday, killing three persons and injuring the two others aboard in the crash and ensuing fire.
The big twin-rotor Piasecki helicopter, capable of carrying 10 to 12 persons, was en route from Vancouver, B. C., to the Cold Lake, Alta., Armament Range when it rammed into Santa Rosa Summit, one mile west of Sheep Creek, B. C. This is approximately 220 miles due east of Vancouver.
The dead included the pilot. Injured but in good condition were the co-pilot and one crew member.
The helicopter was found by royal Canadian mounted police who had started a search after it was reported overdue at Castlegar, B. C., 50 miles to the northeast.

Plywood Meet Plans Outlined

PORTLAND (UP) — Plans for the Douglas Fir Plywood Assn.'s 50th anniversary program here June 19-21 were outlined to the Oregon Advertising Club Wednesday.
James F. Fowler, promotion director, said the industry will spend $250,000, but that it will get a lot of free publicity, too, through national advertising tieups.
Portland was selected for the celebration because the first plywood was produced here in 1903.

Hoover Says U.S. Must Not Abandon U. N.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Ex-President Herbert Hoover said Thursday this country cannot abandon the United Nations even though the U. N. "has not fulfilled our hopes" as a mechanism for peace.
The former President told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, too, he no longer favors expelling Russia from the United Nations because of that country's repeated use of the veto.
"I think we've got to go on and worry with the Russians in the U. N. in the hope that things will get better," he said.
About 100 spectators in the Senate Office Building caucus room rose and applauded when the 80-year-old ex-President appeared to testify on the question of revising the U. N. Charter.
He stated that no worthwhile revision is possible unless there is "a great change in the whole Communist attitude."
But he did suggest some specific changes—including a proposal that "all independent nations" should have membership in the U. N. He noted that 114 such countries have been barred by Soviet vetoes.
Hoover was not asked whether, under his proposal, Communist China could get into the world organization, but in 1954 he strongly opposed a seat for the Peiping regime.
Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a committee member, told reporters later this question would arise—80 far as the United States is concerned—only if this country gave diplomatic recognition to Peiping.
The U.S. position now is that the Chiang Kai-Shek government is the only one that can legitimately represent China in the U. N.
About 83 per cent of a normal man's knowledge comes to him through his eyes, says the Better Vision Institute.

Engineer Files Suit Against Southern Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Joseph McCarthy, 43, a railroad engineer of Klamath Falls, Ore., Thursday filed a $100,000 damage suit in Federal District Court against the Southern Pacific Co. for injuries he allegedly suffered in the collision of two S. P. locomotives last year.
McCarthy said in his complaint that he suffered a fractured skull and other injuries when the two engines collided in the Klamath Falls yard the morning of Nov. 26, 1954. He charged the company was negligent because the right of way was obscured by clouds of steam and that neither he nor the other engineer had any warning of the impending collision.

Food Prices Climb Slightly

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Food prices edged upward slightly in March in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, the regional office of the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Thursday.
Max D. Kossoris, Western regional director, placed the increase at 0.8 per cent in Los Angeles, 0.1 in San Francisco, 0.5 in Portland and 0.3 in Seattle.
The increase resulted largely from increases in the prices of fruits and vegetables.
Radio isotopes worth 30 million dollars are sold each year in the United States.
