Duck Preview Highlight of Weekend

By MARCIA WEBB
Statesman Correspondent
EUGENE—The fourth week of spring term opened with plans centering around Duck Preview which begins Friday. Over 1,400 high school seniors are expected to be on the campus this weekend, which is to acquaint future "Ducks" with the educational opportunities the University offers, as well as with general "campus life."

Pat Deeney, Mary Gerlinger, Sally Jo Greig and Bill Mainwaring, as members of sophomore service honoraries, will transport both visitors and luggage from the registration lines in the Student Union Friday evening to their assigned housing in the 40 campus living organizations. A "What to Take" session will interest the high school students before the All-Campus Vodvil in McArthur Court.

Saturday morning the visitors are invited to the orientation assembly and to take a tour of the campus. An Amphibian water show, the World University Service auction (all proceeds from the auction of such novelties as the winners of the Vodvil Show will go into the World University Service fund), athletic events and exchange dinners will keep everyone well entertained before the semi-formal dance Saturday evening.

Dance to Conclude Events
The college freshman men will accompany the high school women to the last University-planned event on the weekend's agenda, and freshman women will entertain the high school men. Social chairmen busy arranging the pairings include Sally Jo Greig, Ann Ritchey and Mary Jane Rudd. Brunch or Sunday dinner will be served to the high school students.

Plans are also underway for Junior Weekend, May 6, 7 and 8. Ann Ritchey is co-chairman of the co-selection and Sally Jo Greig is co-chairman of the Canoe Fete. Working on the luncheon is Judy Carlson.

Two Salem people were on the ballot in the A.S.U.O. primary elections which were held Wednesday: Sally Jo Greig is running for Junior Class representative and Ann Ritchey is a candidate for Senate membership-at-large. Ann was recently elected secretary of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional women's journalism honorary.

Sandra Schori has been pledged by a national professional music sorority, Mu Phi Epsilon. Scott Page, with the Oregon team, will compete for the National Intercollegiate Bowling title, as both the Ducks and the Beavers use the alleys in the Student Union to vie with 40 other schools for the championship. Oregon won the title in 1953.
