

Reappraisal 'Answer to State Property Taxation Problem', Oregon Farmers Union Told

By THOMAS G. WRIGHT JR., Staff Writer, The Statesman

Complete and impartial reappraisal of property values is the answer to Oregon's property tax problems, Tax Commissioner Sam Stewart told a legislative conference sponsored by the Oregon State Farmers Union here Saturday.

Over 100 representatives of state-wide groups, most of them associated with principles of the Democrat party, attended the all-day session and voted to make the conference a permanent organization. They elected George Brown, executive secretary of the CIO, first president, and chose Robert Phelps, Oregon Education Association, Portland, vice president, and Mrs. Olga Wilson, Oregon State Grange, secretary-treasurer.

Prime Topic

Taxation—particularly on property—education, employment, and power were prime topics for discussion at the meeting to rehash actions of the recently adjourned 1955 legislature.

Stewart, who with Rep. Patrick Dooley of Portland, make up a panel on taxation, said the legislature achieved several points of consistency during the past session and new standards of value have been achieved. Legislation advancing the state's reappraisal program was praised.

Tax Choice

Dooley told the group the choice in taxation was among our present tax program including an income tax and property tax, a sales tax, or a percentage income tax with no exemptions. In answer to a clarification question by Howard Morgan, Monmouth, Democratic Central Committee chairman for Oregon, Dooley asserted the statement that "people who rent pay no taxes" is false.

The 1955 legislature record on education drew heavy criticism from State Sen. Robert D. Holmes, Astoria, who said about the only good thing to come out of the session of merit was approval of four-year status for Portland State College. He said it was most disappointing in that little was done for public schools in financially distressed areas. He criticized failure to pass a plan for basic redistribution of funds and to reorganize county school administrations on a streamlined system, Lieutenant Governor Post.

A lieutenant governor post for Oregon was called for in a talk by Mrs. Olga Wilson, substituting for Elmer McClure, master of the Oregon State Grange. She said all of the people of Oregon would have a voice in picking a successor to the governor instead of the two per cent who make the choice now.

Mrs. Wilson urged defeat of a Senate joint resolution which proposes to remove a clause of the constitution that Oregon shall not declare a state of emergency for tax monies. She predicted a sales tax would evolve from the next session of the legislature if the resolution is approved.

Building Program

Rep. Alfred H. Corbett, Portland, reviewed the state building program provided for by the legislature and endorsed action to build an out-patient clinic at Oregon State Hospital, add new facilities at MacLaren School for Boys, Fairview Home, State School for the Deaf and the Blind School.

Jess Bell, president of the state council of CIO, told the gathering that the legislators had defeated every liberal concept to come before it. He said the public should get active in the primary so they wouldn't have to pick "between the lesser of two evils" at the general election.

Stock Market Traders Wary

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was cautious in the grip of this week, and prices declined.

For nearly three weeks, the stock market has been going down gradually, without urgency, without undue pressure.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced only one day, the final session of the week, and it lost $1.80 in the five days. It closed at $162.50. That is $4.30 under the record high established April 26 just before the present decline got underway.

Sec. Dulles in Austria

Air Force base in Tulln, in the Soviet zone of Austria, 20 miles from Vienna. Dulles is on way to sign the Austrian treaty of independence. (AP Wirephoto)

Dulles to Tell Grain Market Trends Vary

CHICAGO (AP)—Strength in May wheat provided the main feature in an erratic grain market on the Board of Trade this week. A majority of grain futures ended the week with gains but there also were some losses.

A short covering movement was apparent in May wheat, particularly around midweek when fairly substantial quantities of red wheat were shipped from Chicago.

For the week wheat was 1 cent lower to 3 1/2 higher, corn 3/4 lower to 1/2 higher, soy beans 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher and hard red 3/4 to 60 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Of his current mission to Europe, including the seating of West Germany as a member of the Atlantic Alliance in ceremonies at Paris, talks with British and French leaders on the Indo-China crisis and the signing of an Austrian peace treaty in Vienna.
