Idaho Fears Polio Season May Be Early

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Idaho may be going through an early polio season, touched off in spring instead of summer by the crowding together of children for mass vaccinations, a state health official said Tuesday.

Dr. Stanley J. Leland, state director of preventive medicine, said laboratory tests would reveal Friday to what extent, if any, vaccine produced by Cutter laboratories was responsible for the Idaho polio outbreak.

The State Health Department reported one more case late Tuesday, that of a 2-year-old Wallace girl taken to a Spokane hospital. It had no further details.

It also announced that a 4-year-old Nampa girl whose case was reported Monday had apparently caught polio through association with one of three groups of children who received the vaccine.

The Wallace case brought Idaho's polio total to 59 for the year, compared to 15 at the same time last year.

Portland Faces Water Rate Hike

PORTLAND (AP)—Portlanders face the prospect of the first water rate increase in 23 years.

Ernest C. Willard, consulting engineer, recommended to the city council Tuesday in a study just completed that the minimum monthly charge be raised from 70 cents to 85 cents. The boost would increase the city water bureau's revenue one-third.

Present rates have been in effect since 1932.

Rep. Green Seeks Legal Residence For 2 Orientals

Market Posts Small Gain

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Edith Green 'D-Ore.' said Tuesday she has introduced legislation to grant legal residence in this country to two Orientals.

One bill put before Congress by Mrs. Green would permit Yee Loy Foo, Portland, to remain in the United States as a legal resident. Though born in China, he served two years in the American Army.

Another bill would permit Mrs. Koriku Kato, 70-year-old mother of Hawley H. Kato, Gresham, to come to this country from Japan so that her son may care for her. She now lives alone in Hiroshima, Mrs. Green said.

Population Talks to Open

OLYMPIA (AP)—A two-day conference on the aging population opens here Wednesday.

Conference delegates will study employment and economic support, education, health and rehabilitation, housing and living arrangements, recreation and other leisure time activities, and social counseling for senior adults.

Tax Revision Plan Backed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee Tuesday recommended that the Treasury adopt regulations so that all publishers may defer taxes on pre-paid subscription income until the year the publications are actually delivered. It said this would be "fair and equitable."

The recommendation was made in the committee's report endorsing a house-passed bill to repeal two sections of the 1954 omnibus tax revision law. The Treasury said the sections went beyond its anticipation in easing this year's tax load on corporations.

Some lawmakers have described the sections as a loophole which might cost five billion dollars in revenue.

Officers Arrest Slaying Suspect

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported Tuesday the arrest of Robert Clyde Seaton, 38, for authorities in Omaha, Neb.

Arrested at the home of a friend, Seaton was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner and committed to Snohomish County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Everett police said Seaton was sought in connection with the fatal slaying of a woman in Omaha in March, 1954.
