Truck Strike Voting Going Against Offer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Striking AFL Teamsters union members in 11 Western states began voting Tuesday on a new trucking contract offer, and first returns were overwhelmingly against it.

Utah teamsters voted 487-13 to reject, said Fulmer H. Latter, Teamsters Council secretary in Salt Lake City.

In Denver, Local 961 voted "decisively" against the offer, but E. D. Woodard, secretary-treasurer, declined to announce the figures until all the states report. Three locals in Phoenix and Tucson rejected the offer "almost unanimously," a union spokesman said.

Also Rejects Offer In Los Angeles nearly 800 members of Local 357 — almost half of them women office workers — voted more than 2 to 1 to reject.

Truckers have offered 2 cents more an hour for each of the next three years, against demands of 30 cents more this year and 8-cent hikes next year and the year after. The present basic wage is $2.14 hourly or 74 cents a mile, whichever is greater.

Pension Plan The powerful union also seeks a pension plan, based on a time-worked basis instead of retirement at 65. Only a few teamsters are physically able to drive trucks until they are 65. This is the union's first attempt to obtain a pension plan.

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon Teamsters were to vote Wednesday on the latest employer offer to striking truck drivers.

The offer is the result of negotiations in Los Angeles. Oregon and Washington employer spokesmen contend, however, that employers in the Northwest are not affected by the negotiations.

Indian Office To Lop Jobs

PORTLAND (AP) — Seven jobs will be eliminated from the Indian Service office here July 1, the Interior Department reported Tuesday.

On that day the Public Health Service will absorb the Indian health service program.

Dr. Ruth Dunham, area medical officer for the Indian Service, said, however, that the Public Health Service will have to add personnel, and those discharged will get first chance at the jobs.

Superintendents of eight Northwest Indian reservations will meet with Dr. Dunham Thursday to discuss the new health set-up. She will be area medical officer for Indian health in the Public Health Service.

Harland to Lead Keizer Plan for School Merger

Roy Harland was named permanent chairman Tuesday night of a group of Keizer residents seeking consolidation with the Salem School District.

Twenty persons attended the meeting. Harland will coordinate plans to distribute information on the proposed school district consolidation to be voted upon June 20.

He expects to appoint an executive committee within the next few days.

U. S. railroads carried 52 per cent of intercity freight in 1953 compared to 75 per cent in 1926.

Ike Exclaims Presidency 'Wonderful'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday described his 28 months in the White House as fascinating and intriguing — as "a wonderful experience." But he said he doesn't care much for politics in the "derogatory" sense of the word.

The President's comments, which he voiced with some emphasis at a news conference, set off fresh speculation about his plans for 1956. He gave no solid clue, but his remarks did add up to:

1. A throwdown of speculation that distaste for the presidency, or at least some aspects of it, might cause him to turn down renomination in a week-end speech that the office routine apparently is "irksome" to the President.

2. A strengthened belief that Vice President Nixon again will be his running mate if the chief executive runs again. Eisenhower declared the top candidate of the ticket must have a man of his choice running with him, and he went out of his way to praise Nixon's work.

The President's meeting with newsmen ranged from politics to polo vaccine to world affairs — including his forthcoming meeting with British, French and Soviet leaders.

"At the Summit" He stressed one thing: He doesn't expect final agreement on any major differences to be reached at this first "at the summit" parley. And so he doesn't plan to take along Sen. George (D-Ga.) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, or other congressional figures. He added that he and George agree fully on this point.

The President began the news conference by announcing he will go to San Francisco June 20 and make an address of welcome at the United Nations 10th anniversary observance. Soberly, he said it would be well for all Americans to review the record of U.N. "accomplishment and failure" — to "fix in our minds again what are our hopes and expectations."

"Great... it's wonderful" the fliers chorused. Their spirits were high, their physical condition seemed satisfactory, and, according to U. S. officials, there was no evidence that any of them had been brainwashed.

Korean War The four men, all shot down in the Korean War and convicted of "intruding" into Manchuria in "wanton invasion of Chinese territory," are:

Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., 28, of Sea City, Iowa; 1st Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, 36, Wynnewood, Pa., and 1st Lt. Roland W. Parks, 24, Omaha, Neb.

Heller, injured when he bailed out of his Sabre Jet, walked with a limp. He said he had four operations on his left leg and spent much time in a hospital where Chinese doctors made bone grafts.

A U. S. medical officer in Hong Kong said the leg appeared to have healed well. Amazed at Release Before questions were cut off by U. S. officers stationed in Hong Kong, Heller, as spokesman, said the four were amazed to be the first of the U. S. prisoners in China to be released.

No interviews were permitted, but Cameron said: "We're all terribly glad and happy to be free. What more can we say?"

None of the men would say where they had been imprisoned, but American authorities said they believed it was at Mukden, Manchuria, most of the time. It was only last week that they were told they were being let go, they said.

Whisky Foils Burglary Try

SEATTLE (AP) — Everything was going nicely, Leo W. Brooks told police, until he decided to have one more drink.

Detective Sgt. I. R. Swanton said Brooks admitted he broke into a cocktail lounge here Monday by gouging a hole in the building wall. Brooks told Swanton he took $275 from a cash drawer, then started drinking whisky and finally fell asleep.

That's how police found him when they discovered the hole and peered through.

Brooks, 35, of Edmonds, Wash. told police he was on parole from the Oregon penitentiary where he had served a term for larceny. He was held without charge.

Charged

VALE, Ore.—Rodney C. Sheeran, 35, a contractor, has been charged in San Rafael, Calif., with beating his wife to death on Mt. Tamalpais. Sheeran is pictured stepping through a cell door at the Malheur County, Ore., jail in Vale. He was arrested as he drove through Vale last Saturday night. Marin County, Calif., officials are returning him to San Rafael following his waiving extradition charges. (AP Wirephoto.)

Phone Firm Sues Union

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Southern Bell Telephone Co. sued the Communications Workers of America for $5,000,000 Tuesday in a state circuit court suit for damages in the recent telephone strike.

The company, seeking both compensatory and punitive damages, charges the CIO union and its officials with responsibility in numerous acts of vandalism during the long strike which started March 14. The petition accused the defendants of an "unlawful combination and conspiracy."

Water Pact Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee Tuesday approved a bill to permit California and Oregon to negotiate a compact, dividing up the water of the Klamath River and tributaries.

Identical bills came from Reps. Coon (R-Ore) and Engle (D-Calif.). Engle said he was urging passage only at the request of the California Klamath River Commission. "I think it poor business to initiate interstate compacts. We've got enough trouble as it is," said Engle, adding that he felt California would be "better off if we just go ahead and use the water and fight with them later if necessary."

World oil production reached a record 700 million tons in 1954.

Ford Contract Talks Adjourn

DETROIT (AP) — Crucial contract talks between the Ford Motor Co. and the CIO-United Auto Workers were adjourned early Wednesday until 10 a. m.

Thus, when negotiators return to the bargaining table, they will have only 14 hours before a threatened strike of Ford's 140,000 production workers across the nation.

It appeared certain that Ford had come up with a fresh offer or had improved on its "prosperity partnership" plan rejected by the union last Thursday. But any progress in a tense bargaining session that started at 11 p. m. Tuesday night was shrouded by a secrecy pledge taken by both sides.

The UAW asked and was granted two recesses Tuesday night presumably to study a new proposal. Company and union negotiators swore themselves to secrecy so no unofficial reports could be confirmed.

Lyons Water District Voted

LYONS — Voters Tuesday approved by 145 to 19 the formation of a water district here and elected the required five directors to the water board.

Winning directors and the number of votes for each are Guy Hartle, 139; Hugh Johnston, 103; John Jungwirth, 94; Merrill Brassfield, 89; Wilson Stevens, 85.

The others and number of votes cast for them are Fred Lindemann, 83; Ernest Garsjo, 65; E. L. Royce, 62; Percy Hiatt, 61; Sam Bridges, 40.

Brassfield said another special election will be held to determine whether the required $100,000 in bonds will be issued to build the water system.

Lyons, with a population of about 600, depends on private wells, many of which have gone bad.
