June Havoc Sings Praises of Older Men as Companions

(Editor's note: Alise Mosby is on vacation. Guest columnist June Havoc, star of the CBS series "Willy", praises middle-aged and over men.)

By JUNE HAVOC
Written for the United Press
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—I believe a woman has to reach a certain age before she appreciates—and I mean the word appreciate in every sense—the opposite sex.

There are very few interesting men under 65. The biggest charge and the most enchanting evenings I have ever spent in my life have been with gentlemen who are usually considered middle-aged, or more so.

I was fortunate enough to snag a gentleman very near my own age who, through some miscalculation of father time, breathes all the poetry, charm and grace of another time—(TV producer William Spier).

I'm not saying there aren't others available. There are—for the discerning woman, for the woman who's willing to take the time to search for such a man, and who recognizes such a man when she sees him. I'm afraid there aren't many of us left.

By the Sea
My best beau a few years ago was a dreamboat pixie named Sir Charles Mendel. We went steady, with Elsie's approval, for six months or so. He took me to the beach where he planted his feet firmly in the surf, disregarding the wavelets that came and thereby causing him to wobble a little more than a man of confidence would have counseled.

Charles sang to the open sea, to the sand, to the glorious day—and to me. His wit was gentle but nonetheless devastating. His charm radiant. He was and is a gallant. My idea of a perfect date.

Then Louis Verneuil, who told such delightful stories and acted them out with such finesse, gaiety and sparkle, that I shall as long as I live remember Louis as one of the gentlemen I would rather be with than any of my contemporaries.

Lamb and Apple
Men are lovely creatures, but something's happened to them. How I wish nature would produce more of the undeniable attractive gentlemen of Sir Charles' and Louis' vintage.

Reginald Owen is another lamb-chop, apple-tart and dream companion. When at dinner—instantly quickly appraising the younger man present—I always search for the shiny head, the silver hair and the twinkling eyes. It makes for a much more interesting evening. I learn things I couldn't possibly learn from younger men—all my best quotes, all my best thinking, all my best humor and also whatever philosophy I may have acquired—through my good luck at being chosen companion and friend of Sir Charles, Louis Verneuil, Reginald Owen and other cavaliers in that age group.

Bless 'em, I say! May all the younger men of the world grow in for such dream boats, such apple-tarts, such lamb-chops as they.

Chick Falls Victim To Second Hazard

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Policeman James W. Bradshaw was not shot because he was too fast on the draw.

Bradshaw was placing an order for a new holster for the .38-caliber revolver he carries. The weapon fired accidentally when Bradshaw demonstrated how it could be rapidly drawn from such a holster. He was treated for a wound of the left index finger.

Quips of Political Figures Recorded

CHICAGO (UP)—Political life is conducive to a sense of humor, apparently.

The American Peoples Encyclopedia includes the following in its selection of the "most piquant and quotable quotes" of recent times:

Vincent Auriol, former president of France: "The work was killing me; they called me out of bed at all hours of the night to receive the resignations of prime ministers."

Vice-President Richard Nixon: "A Republican shouldn't say this, but when I was a boy I played the piano."

Vyacheslav M. Molotov, to Mrs. John Foster Dulles: "Mrs. Madam, is the conference room where your husband gives me so much trouble?"

President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua: "The United States treated us like an old wife. We would rather be treated like a young mistress."

HAIR INFESTED WITH UGLY DANDRUFF

If so, then there is nothing so effective and quick as a Shontex Formula Treatment. Shontex rubbed into the scalp before shampoo, goes right to work, softening and loosening deep down dandruff and dirt that shampoo cannot reach. Shontex applied after shampoo supplements the natural hair oil removed in shampoo and relieves dryness.

A Shontex treatment gives the Beneficial Benefits of an Expensive Hot Oil Treatment and yet it takes only a few minutes and costs only a few pennies. Use Shontex and you'll see how dandruff disappears and dry, dull hair becomes soft, bright and lustrous. Ask for the original Shontex Formula. It's only $1.00 at your cosmetic counter. Results are guaranteed or money back.
