Michigan Tops Big 10 Field

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's track champions landed 11 men on a squad of 33 named Saturday to represent the Big Ten in its annual dual meet with the Pacific Coast Conference at the University of California June 21.

Each Big Ten school gained a berth on the squad announced by Commissioner K. L. Wilson, Illinois, dethroned this year by Michigan in both indoor and outdoor competition, took seven places, Minnesota five and Michigan State and Iowa four each to top entries.

The Big Ten will rely strongly on sprinters and hurdlers in the PCC, which lost 74-52 last year, will be highly favored to take its ninth victory in the dual meet.

Headed by the Big Ten sprint delegation is Northwestern's Jim Goliday, who has matched the world's record of .09.3 in the 100 yard dash. Illinois' Willie Thomson is the No. 1 hurdler and has a brilliant .13.7 clocking in the 120-yard high.

Other leading Big Ten prospects for victory are Kevan Gosper of Michigan State in the 440 and Michigan's Pete Gray in the half mile.

Baseball Meet Here Tuesday

All coaches, managers and sponsors of teams in the forthcoming Salem Junior Baseball League are requested to be at a final meeting Tuesday night, eight o'clock, at the School Administration Office on Ferry Street, according to President Bill Beard and Director Vern Gilmore.

This will be the final meeting of the pre-season. Plans for the campaign for Class B and C leagues will be discussed, and player eligibility cards will be handed out.

Play in the leagues, which are designed for boys between the ages of 12 and 16 years of age, will get started in another couple of weeks.

Pin Team Repeats In ABC Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Pfeiffer's Beer of Detroit won the team championship of the American Bowling Congress Saturday night and became the first ever to win three titles.

A total of 3,136 posted April 19 stood up through the rest of the tourney. The team won the championship in 1953 under the Pfeiffer name and in 1952 under the name of Detroit E & B Beers.

These Four Mexicans Will Be Back Again

Speaking of Wednesday's pyrotechnics, we can't help but think of four gents who saw the game and the unadvertised sidelights. Just prior to the first pitch, four Mexicans came into the park, equipped with scorebooks, wide-eyed expectation and the query (in broken English), "Weech wan Salem?" It was obviously their first visit to the ball yard, and we only guess they were transient laborers from Mexico.

At any rate, when the beefs started, we had glances at the newcomers to see how they were taking it all. Chances are that had the Senators been scheduled here again Thursday night, the quartet would have been back, hammering on the front gate at six o'clock and accompanied by every Mexican within a radius of 50 miles.

Young Tommy Agosta is of course a happy lad since he smacked his grand-slam home run, winning himself the usual homer prizes and $100 in cash from Grover Hillman, boss of the Master Bread outfit. But Hillman is just as happy that someone finally won the century note.

Hillman's Prize Unclaimed in Three Years

Grover has for three years offered any Salem Senator player a $100 bill if he could hit a grand-slammer here. They've tried and tried and have had numerous opportunities. The 164-pound Agosta, who normally doesn't hit long ball and who was one of those figured as being least likely to conquer the Waters Field fences, nonetheless becomes the first.

Hillman expects to be present at the ball park come Friday night of this week, to present Tommy with his $100 just before the opening game of the Tri-City series. And no one will ever tell Agosta that Salem isn't a great place in which to play baseball.

Warning to Bill Bevens, Jack Wilson, Wes Schulercher, Moose Clabaugh, Jim Mosolf, Phil Salstrom, Bill Beard, Lee Fallon, Lee Shinn, John Kolb and Johnny Lewis: Get in shape, men, for you're on the Salem Old-timers team which is to battle the Eugene Old-timers here the night of Monday, June 13, in a two-inning game prior to the regular Senators-Emeralds clash. Don't let your old man bring up the Eugene Old-timers, and says he'll have 'em all cranked up and ready to beat 'em.

We'll play 'em a return match, at Eugene, when the Senators next go there July 8-9-10.

Cutie's Beulah Coming Back

Comics' little "Beulah," above, midget member of the Compton Cuties barnstorming softball team will be in Waters Field action Thursday night when the Californians play the famed Ery Lind Florists of Portland, two times national women's softball champs. The Cuties won a large local audience during their appearance here last year, providing a luff-packed two-hour show along with the game against the Florists.

All-Arabian Horse Show Set For Salem Fair Arena Soon

The 9th Annual All-Arabian Horse Show is again labeled for the State Fairgrounds this year with dates on Saturday and Sunday, June 25-26. The colorful show, loaded with thousands of dollars worth of Arabian show horses, will offer a Saturday night and Sunday afternoon performance. Tickets will soon go on sale here.

The Salem Shrine Club is again sponsoring the show, as a benefit for the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in Portland. The Hospital has realized considerable money from the past two shows held here, and it is the aim of the Shrine Club to make this year's event the biggest yet held here.

200 Horses Expected

Arabian horses from all over the Northwest will be in for the show, which will include judging and awarding of ribbons and various performance events in all classes. In all, about 200 descendants of the deserts of Arabia will be here.

Performers will ride in colorful Arabian costumes and their mounts will be decked in gay Arabian trappings. Ward W. Wells, show manager, says the Salem show of this year will be the greatest Arabian event in the West for 1955. Registrations are coming in from California, Wyoming, Arizona, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Montana and Canada.

Judging will be conducted by Dr. William L. Munson of Cambridge, Ill., a breeder of fine Arabians. There will be many other features, including special acts, sheriff's posses and costume competition with cup and stake events.

Cycle Events Slated Today

The Salem Motorcycle Club today presents its annual Snorkles-Scrambles event on the club's course, which is located off Maclean Road east of the city. (Follow signs from Four Corners-for direction to course.)

Cyclists from all over the Northwest will find a new course, and a tough one waiting for them. The course has been changed considerably, and many new jump hazards have been added.

Spectators will be able to view the entire course, according to club officials in charge of the event. Twenty trophies will go to the various winners of the events, and the time trials are to get under way at 12 noon.

Graders Star In Track Meet

Don Taylor, a fifth-grader, and Lynn Ertsgard, a sixth-grader, drew the top laurels in the track and field meet for all fifth and sixth grade kids of Salem held on Olinier Field Saturday afternoon. The meet was sponsored by the Salem 20-30 Club with the sanction of school recreation officials. Thirty-five youngsters took part in the contests.

In the fifth grade division, Taylor won the 30-yard dash, the 100-yard dash and broad jump, with an eye-catching leap of 12 feet, 8 inches. Ertsgard won the 50 and 100 inches in the sixth grade class.

Ice Cream and theater passes were awarded to all kids who participated in the meet following the final event. The 20-30 Club announced also that the meet was to become an annual event.

The first coast-to-coast televised boxing bout occurred on Oct. 3, 1951 in Chicago between Dave Sands and Carl Olson.

Conrad Snares British 'Am'

Little Texan Victor Over British Ace

ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Joe Conrad, a shy little Texan who never has won a single match in the U.S. Amateur, won the British Amateur Golf Championship in an angry wind, hail and rainstorm Saturday with a 3 and 2 victory over England's Alan Slater.

The key shot in the rugged fight was on the 27th green. Conrad was sagging badly then, his game was coming apart. The Englishman had pulled back from an all but fatal 5 down deficit and at that point was one down. He was playing superb golf.

Both men were on the green with their tee shots. Slater calmly sighted a 20-foot putt and stroked it in for a birdie 2. He must have felt he had squared the match. Then Conrad took his stance facing a 12-footer and a downhill roll.

Crucial shot made Slater's putt. The little Texan needed that putt to save his lead, to restore his own confidence and to quash Slater's rising hopes. Conrad popped it in and went on to win.

Conrad, a 25-year-old Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio lost his singles Walker Cup Match against Scotland's David Blair last month at St. Andrews' by one hole. The Americans went on to win the international trophy by 10 matches to 2.

"I felt real bad about losing up there in Scotland," he drawled. "I said to myself I had better make up for that and try real hard to win this one. Maybe this win today makes up for it. I sure hope so."

Conrad's victory continues a sequence of Americans winning the British Amateur in years the Walker Cup is contested for in Britain. The Americans have never missed since Jesse Sweetser won the Amateur in 1926 after an American Walker Cup victory.

Slater was the first English finalist since 1948. An Englishman hasn't won this championship since 1933 when Michael Scott beat the field.

The North of England threw its worst weather in the face of the sandy haired American and the 36-year-old Yorkshireman. The wind blew so hard the ensign of a ship's mast over Royal Lytham and St. Anne's old links was blown down.

Boxing Group Offers Move

PARIS (AP) — The World Committee on Professional Boxing Saturday made conciliatory gestures toward the National Boxing Association of the United States in an effort to prevent the withdrawal of the American group from the committee.

A small feud has developed between the two groups over the world bantamweight championship. The NBA recognizes Raton Macias of Mexico as the titleholder. The world committee, of which the NBA is now a member, recognizes Robert Cohen of France.

The NBA did not send a representative to Saturday's meeting and wrote a letter saying that a decision would be taken in August on the question of withdrawing.

Groups Disagree

A representative of the world committee was invited to the NBA's August meeting to discuss the general picture and the Macias championship situation in particular.

The world committee Saturday continued its recognition of Cohen, but listed Macias as the No. 1 challenger and strongly recommended that the winner of the upcoming Cohen-Willie Towell fight in Johannesburg should meet Macias next.

Present Saturday were Julius Helland, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, Edouard Rabret secretary of the European Boxing Union, and J. Onslow Fane, of the British Boxing Board of Control.

Trabert Wins Tennis Crown

PARIS (AP) — Defending champion Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, won the French Tennis Championship Saturday with a convincing 2-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Sweden's Sven Davidson, regarded as Europe's best player.

Trabert, aiming at the Wimbledon Tournament later this month, took command after a shaky start and throttled Davidson's efforts to match his smashing game.

A 23-year-old English girl, Angela Mortimer, captured the women's singles title to spoil the chances for the United States to repeat last year's clean sweep of the titles.

Miss Mortimer, Britain's No. 1 woman's player, had to fight for every point before winning 2-6, 7-5, 10-8, from Dorothy Head Knodel of Forest Hills, N. Y., and Alameda.

The Champ

LOU THESZ Appears here Tuesday.

Dodgers Drub St. Louis 5-1

One of Morgan's three victims was Minnie Minofo, returning to action for the first time since he was hit on the head in New York, May 18. Minofo entered the game in the fourth and went hitless in three trips.

The Yanks had 12 hits and left 12 stranded. A wild throw by third baseman Andy Carey let Chicago score two unearned runs in the first inning. Bob Keegan, Sox starter, lasted only four innings.

Sievers Leads Rout

Roy Sievers hit three successive doubles for Washington in the attack that routed Mike Garcia, Art Houtteman, Bill Wight and Ray Narleski. Cleveland's only runs off Bob Porterfield came on homers by Al Smith, Ralph Kiner and Bobby Avila.

Wilson's two-run blast helped rookie Frank Lary of Detroit square his season record at 5-5 with a fine four-hitter against the last-place Orioles. Al Kaline stretched his consecutive game hitting streak to 11 with a single. He has hit safely in 42 of Detroit's 46 games.

Russ Sullivan received credit for Boston's victory at Kansas City although he needed help in the last two innings.

Newcombe had a shutout until Rip Repulski homered with one out in the ninth at Brooklyn. Roy Campanella hit his 16th. Gil Hodges hit eighth and Frank Keller hit his first major league home run in the Dodger attack.

Keller played first base with Hodges moving to right in place of injured Carl Furillo. The Cards had only six hits.

Fred's Bats No-Hitter

New York held a 7-3 lead over the Cubs at the end of six innings. In fact, Ruben Gomez had retired 15 men in a row and was working on a perfect no-hitter until Dee Fondy opened the sixth with a single.

Despite Dave Williams' grand slam homer, the Cubs fought back to tie on Jim King's three-run blast and Eddie Miksis' two-run homer. Banks' single won it although Willie Mays' hit his 16th homer and second of the day in the last of the 12th.

Champion Thesz In Tuesday Mix

Lou Thesz, acclaimed as one of the greatest heavyweight wrestlers the game has known, and one who is compared with such outstanding matadors as Jim Londos, Strangler Lewis, Frank Gotch and others that of high caliber, highlights Matchmaker Elton Owen's Army mat card Tuesday night.

The 6-foot, 2-inch and 225-pound champion from St. Louis, who has been recognized title holder for well over two years, is to go against Ivan (Killer) Kameoff, burly and rough 220-pound Russian mat gladiator who last week won an elimination tournament here for the right to have Tuesday's date with Thesz.

Thesz appeared here a year ago and had a memorable bout with Luther Lindsay, one in which the titleholder had to turn to the rough stuff in order to upend the popular Negro star.

Thesz is still managed and trained by Ed (Strangler) Lewis, who will be here with the champion Tuesday.

Owen announced Saturday the balance of the card for the Tuesday show, and it will go on as follows:

Lindsey in Special

Luther Lindsey vs. George Dusette in the 2-of-3 falls, 30-minute limit special; Tiger Tom Martin-dale vs. Irish Red McKim in single-fall prelude with 30-minute limit and John Arjon vs. Gino Nicolini in single-fall opener, with 20-minute limit.

The opening match is slated for 8:30 o'clock.

Lindsey recently won the North-west heavyweight title, but since he has already faced Thesz he wasn't given local consideration for another mix with him here.

Luther is up against another very powerful gladiator in Dusette, however, and this should be an interesting match.

Playoffs Near At Oak Knoll

The semi-final round of the annual spring handicap tournament at the Oak Knoll Golf Course will finish Monday, club officials said Saturday. Illness to golfers postponed the two matches Sunday until a day later.

Flight finalists will now compete among themselves for the tourney championship.

Jerry Gastineau, flight one winner, will meet Gene Schwynoch, winner of flight two, in one of the matches Monday. In another Monday match, Roy Girod meets John Werline to determine the fifth flight champ.

Gary Pugh, flight three champ, lost to Perry Foster, winner of flight four, 5 and 4, and Foster will next meet the winner of the Gastineau-Schwynoch match.

Les Dolge defeated Dr. Phillip Orange, 4 and 3, in the flight six and seven playoffs and Dolge next meets the Girod-Werline victor.

Faye Crocker Ups Lead in Tourney

READING, Pa. (AP) — Long-hitting Faye Crocker, Montevideo, Uruguay, currently the hottest thing on the women's tournament trail, moved into a seven-stroke lead in the Eastern Open Golf Tournament here Saturday with a 54-hole total of 215.

Miss Crocker, who failed to match or better par for the first time in the tournament, came in with a 75 over the Berkshire Country Club's 6,206-yard layout.

Louise Sturgis, Sea Island, Ga., who started the third round five strokes behind the leader, slipped to a 77 and a total of 222 as the field of 27 headed into the final round Sunday.

Thomas Slates Another Crack At Swimming of Juan de Fuca

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) — Burly Bert Thomas, undaunted by his latest defeat, will take a third crack at the Strait of Juan de Fuca, either Sunday or Monday.

"I'm going at it again. I'm going Sunday if the weather is okay. If not Sunday I'll go Monday," said the 29-year-old logger from Tacoma, Wash. Saturday.

The long distance swimmer battled the strait for 10 hours and 22 minutes Friday night and early Saturday, completing more than two-thirds of the 18.3-mile swim from Victoria to Port Angeles, Wash.

"I think if I get a more favorable wind I certainly will make it," Thomas said. "We knew when we started Friday night that we were going to take a chance with the west wind coming too soon."

"It did. And I knew by the size of the waves that I could have a tough time getting to the other shore."

Some two hours before Thomas was pulled from the water 18-year-old Pat Russell of Vancouver was hauled from the strait suffering from cold, fatigue and exposure.

However, the University of British Columbia co-ed was reported later by her coach, John McDermott, to be "up and around at the hospital, hollering for us to come and get her."

McDermott said there is a definite possibility she may try again, perhaps in August.

"If she tries again, it will be in August because the wind is not as severe then," he said.

Miss Russell was in the water, which ranged between 45 and 49 degrees, for seven hours and 14 minutes. She was about 9 1/2 miles from here when she was forced to give up.

Commenting on the dual challenge, Archie McKinnon of Victoria, who was Florence Chadwick's coach in the original strait swim last year, said:

"They both made a really valiant attempt. But I must be honest — I still think it is a bit too tough. But on that matter I would be quite happy to eat my hat."

St. Helens Star To Enroll at OSC

ST. HELENS (AP) — Duane Marshall, much-sought St. Helens High School track and football star, said Saturday he intends to enroll at Oregon State College.

He told his coach, Andy Knudsen, former Oregon State athlete, that the final choice was between Oregon and Oregon State, but that he was influenced in part by the fact that Oregon State plays single wing football.

A fullback in football, the 190-pound Marshall was one of the state's highest scorers. He also holds the state high school shotput record of 58 feet 2 1/4 inches.
