LONDON (AP) — America's hopes for the Wimbledon tennis championships, which begin Monday, received a severe jolt Wednesday.

5,136 Witness Senators Win

Provides Needed No Steinagel's Wallop

(Continued from preceding page) Hero No. 1 for the ball game was Bill (Red) Whitson, the artistic righthander for the So-lons. He jerked up a dandy just when it began to look as if the Salem pitching staff had fallen completely apart.

Whitson held the stout-hitting Ems to seven hits, fanned five and walked four in racking up his sixth triumph.

His opponent was Ad Satalich who deserved a much better fate than he was given. Satalich held the So-lons to six hits and only one earned run. He just couldn't cope with the fielding generosity of his defense, which threw in three Salem runs.

Eugene scored first, in the fourth inning, when both Hal Toso and Boss Cliff Dapper crashed out singles, the first bingles off Whitson. Then when Grady Gladstone lofted deep to Jack Steinagel in right field, Toso scored easily after the catch.

Salem got this one back in the fifth, and added another to boot, both unearned. Harv Keopf was safe on Whitey Thomson's error, was forced at second by Whitson for the second out, and then the fun began. Mel Krause lashed a line triple to distant right-center, to score Whitson.

The relay throw was gooted up, and Krause scooted on in with the other tally.

The Senators were to win the game in the eighth on the same type of play.

A walk, Gladstone's double and George Mattie's bloop single put Eugene 3-2 ahead in the sixth. Salem tied it in the sixth on another error, Gene Tansell's theft of second base and Danny Holden's bloop single to left.

Eugene threatened mildly in the last three innings, but the carrot-top wasn't again to be harmed.

Steinagel Hits One In the Salem eighth Steinagel as second up rifled a tremendous liner to left-center that caromed off the boards so hard he had little trouble getting to first base. Thomson threw badly on the relay, trying to get Jack, and he stumbled on in with the winning run.

If you happen to live in Silverton or Dallas, you probably heard the roar that went up as Steinagel tallied with the winner.

Prize winners for the CSC Night were as follows: Toaster—Bill Mahony, Gervais, Magnetic Jig Saw—Monty Faver, Salem. Bar-B-Q grill—Arnold Johnson, Salem. Electric blanket—John Cozzell, Salem. Box of groceries—Mrs. Ira Gordon, Salem. Bicycle—Larry Arthur, Salem. Camera—Clarence Calton, Brooks. T-shirts for kids: Ken Jacobs, Leonard Drang, E. D. Hinkle, Butch Brockway, Eddie Fisher, Jean Driscoll, Janet Hill, Leo Harris.

An interesting and of spectacular model airplane flying exhibition was provided before the game by Portlanders Gordon Lindstrom, Wren Williams and Rex Hays.

Eugene won Tuesday night's second game by an 11-8 score, tallying six runs in the ninth inning and finishing the dismal contest at 12:15 a.m., which was far too late for midnight sports deadlines.

SPORTS LIGHTNER

(Continued from preceding page) that well over one-third of the attendance thus far has paid at the gate as it has come in.

For example, when 1,872 turned up for last Sunday's double-header with Tri-City, over 900 bought tickets at the gate. This is something that wasn't anticipated by the directors, and it's as welcome as an income tax rebate.

"It's a real pleasant surprise," one of the chiefs was grinning the other night, "and it's perhaps due to the fact that a general admission ticket this season costs only fifty cents."

Another pleasant surprise during the week was the news that both Johnny Briggs and Tommy Herrera, the Senators pitching whiz kiddies of last season opposed each other as starting pitchers in the Coast League's All-Star game at San Diego. That speaks mighty well of Uncle Hugh Luby and his 1954 gang . . .

Ol' Hack Had Quite an Answer for Boss

The baseball yarns flew thick and fast during the Oldtimers get-together here Monday, as one might imagine. There's nothing a baseball ancient would rather do than tell a story, or possibly have his swings at hot again. One of the better tales to ricochet off the dressing room walls was related by Jack Wilson and Moose Clabough, and concerned the anxiety old Chicago Cubs Manager Donnie Dush had for his outfielding slugger Hack Wilson.

Hack wasn't one to turn down the gaieties of life, and liked his likker. Bush was trying to figure out some way to make the homer-hitting star go on the wagon. So he concocted an idea after talking to a doctor.

He called Wilson in, poured some whiskey into a glass and took a wiggling worm from a can of dirt at hand. He dropped the worm into the booze, and it died instantly.

"Now Hack," pleaded Bush, "just what does that prove to you?" "Goeh," replied Wilson, "it proves that if you drink that stuff you'll never have worms."

Jack Wilson Transferred to Spokane Area

There were more bouncing about Monday night, many more. We'll save a dandy for a day or so as a going-away present for our Jack Wilson, who is moving to Spokane. His Lucky Lager bosses transferred him to the Eastern Washington-Idaho Montana area . . .

Everyone was disappointed when neither Wes Schulmerich or Roy Helser appeared for the Oldies outing, but it couldn't be helped. Wes suffered a sudden kidney infection and was taken to a specialist. Roy had a sudden commitment at McMinville. Both were just as disappointed as those who had hoped to see 'em back in action again . . .

Leads Field

Ernie Koch, above, the 1954 Oregon roadster racing champion will lead the field at Hollywood Bowl Saturday night when the hot rods present their first program of the Salem season.

Koch to Lead Racing Field

Ernie Koch, the 1954 Oregon roadster racing champion and for a number of years one of the top hot rod pilots on any Northwest oval, will lead the field at Hollywood Bowl Saturday night when the "rods" present their first program of the local season.

The roadsters were booked for their inaugural last month, but rain took care of that one. So Saturday's will be their first jaunt.

Expected to give Koch his stiffest opposition is Len (Lil) Abner Sutton, who has been just about as effective as Koch in roadster racing success. In fact, Sutton and his No. 27 mount, powered by a GMC motor, have been the superior factor in most hot rod races in Salem in past seasons. Koch's car is also powered by a GMC motor.

Brooks Lose To Cincinnati

A five-run ninth inning broke up a 2-2 tie at Chicago and carried the third place Giants to winning 2½ games of the Cubs. Paul Giel, relieving Jim Hearn, doubled to open the ninth and chased loser Major League victory.

Detroit wrapped up its scoring in the first four innings to beat the Yanks and Rookie Johnny Kucks, Eddie Robinson, who homered twice with none on, ended a two-run Yankee rally in the ninth on a fly out as reliever Babe Birrer protected Billy Hoel's sixth victory.

Stone granted only a leadoff single to Al Smith and single by Jim Hegan in the seventh and ninth to beat the Indians, who had won five straight. Johnny Groth homered with none on in the second and Roy Sievers blasted one with two or as the Senators chased fourth.

Bob Feller with a six-run fourth. Bob Young's eighth-inning single broke up a 5-5 tie and put an end to the White Sox' four-game winning streak in the opener at Baltimore. Nellie Fox hit his second homer of the night to get the Sox back on the track in the nightcap as manager Marty Marion called on Mike Fornieles, Billy Pierce and Sandy Consuegra to nail down the victory.

Al Schoendienst, Solly Hemus and Bill Virdon homered for the Cardinals, with Virdon's supplying two of the markers in a three-run eighth. Paul Lapalme saved Lois Arroyo's seventh victory after Pittsburgh had cut the St. Louis lead to one run in the top of the eighth.

Mel Parnell won his first decision of the year, with Tom Hurd quieting the As after a four-run outburst in the ninth, as Boston won its seventh in eight games. Jackie Jensen's two-run homer was the big blow that sent Ray Herbert to his sixth straight defeat.

National Open Begins Today

'Old Guard' Faces Young Aspirants

By WILL GRIMSLEY SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Golf's "old guard," symbolized by limping Ben Hogan and unpredictable Sam Snead, makes what may be its final stand against onrushing youth in the 55th National Open championship beginning Thursday at the Olympic Club.

Hogan, 42, tired, stiff - legged from a near-fatal automobile accident six years ago, and with the look of eagles no longer in his eyes, is making another determined stab at his fifth open title - which would put him above Bob Jones as the Winningest of open champions.

Viewed With Respect He still is viewed with respect and fear - although to a lessening degree - by his fellow pros. "It's not just beating him physically," said young Dick Mayer. "It's still here to beat him mentally."

Snead, 45, with the build of a halfback and the strength of an ox, but dulled by repeated knockouts in the past, is still shooting for open championship No. 1. One of the game's all-time greats from tee to green, he apparently has conquered a putting complex.

Behind these two tee titans of a couple of decades come a horde of what the veteran Gene Sarazen has termed "young hungry wolves lusting for fame and fortune."

Upset Stuns Pat Lesser in Golf Tourney

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP) — Berdrige Long, a proficient 19-year-old from Sophie Newcomb College of New Orleans, Wednesday scored a smashing upset of 1953 champion Pat Lesser, Seattle University, in the first round of the Women's Collegiate golf tourney.

Miss Long, who is from Huntington, W. Va., out-stood her U. S. Curtis Cup player rival, 3 and 2, in the eight-match competition at Shoreacres Country Club.

Miss Lesser, a senior, found herself held even at the nine-hole turn and stumbled out of the meet on the 16th where Pat's putt hung on the lip for a five.

Favorite Wins In Oregon Golf

PORTLAND (AP) — Favorite Gary Hval scored an easy victory to move into the third round of the annual Oregon Golf Assn. state junior tournament Wednesday.

Hval downed Tom Carter, Portland, 7 and 6. Others rated highly in the week-long tourney kept pace.

Gordon Marlatt of Eugene defeated Joe Hallmark, Roseburg, 4 and 3; Ron Weber of Prineville defeated John Dunkin, Portland, 7 and 6; and Gary Geertsen of Eugene nosed out John Holmes, Astoria, 1 up.

In the girls' division favored Carole Jo Kabler, Sutherlin, downed Rosemary Killen, Portland, 6 and 5; Shirley Siegmund, Eugene, defeated Gretchen Gann, Pendleton, 2 and 1; and Sue DeVoe, Medford, trimmed Elaine Porritt, Eugene, 6 and 5, in top matches.

Susan Small of Corvallis scored a hole in one on the 132-yard 11th hole at Riverside Country Club, and went on to defeat Alice Hammer, Coos Bay, on the 19th hole. She used a 6-iron for her ace.

In the boys' division favorite Biff Lovett, Portland, defeated George Mack, Portland, 6 and 4; Bill Aubry, Corvallis, downed Jerry Perrin, Portland, 3 and 2; and Tom Hamlin, Medford, ousted Peter Geortsen, Eugene, 5 and 4.

Gary Snelgrove, Salem, downed Tom Hutchins, Portland, 4 and 3, in a second-round match in the pee-wee division.

Bantam Champ Kayoed in 3rd

Sweetpea's Dukes Paralyze Macias

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy (Sweetpea) Peacock, 12½, of Los Angeles, Wednesday night knocked out the National Boxing Assn. bantamweight champion, Raoul (Raton) Macias, 12½, of Mexico City, in the third round of their scheduled 10-round non-title bout.

Macias was on the floor twice in the third round. The first time he hit the deck for a one-count from a right smash to the jaw. The knockout was a rapier-like left on the right side of Macias' jaw. It seemed to paralyze him and he fell on his face, his gloves keeping his head off the floor.

Late Wednesday night technicians at Good Samaritan Hospital said Macias had suffered a fracture of the jaw. The boxer remained at the hospital overnight after the x-ray examination but his physician said he would be released Thursday.

It was the first defeat in Macias' sensational career. The 20-year-old accountant entered the ring a 13-5 favorite chiefly because when he met Peacock previously in Mexico City he stopped Peacock in the ninth round.

This was Peacock's 25th victory against nine defeats.

Major Teams Trade Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The American League defending champion Cleveland Indians and the cellar-dwelling Baltimore Orioles figured in the major trade of the day Wednesday as major league clubs tried desperately to swing other deals before the mid-night deadline approached.

The Indians, battling desperately to ward off the charge of the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox, acquired outfielder Gene Woodling and third baseman Billy Cox from Baltimore in exchange for utility outfielders Wally Westlake and Dave Pope and a bundle of cash.

Baltimore and the White Sox figured in another transaction. The Orioles sold big Harry Byrd, veteran righthanded pitcher, to the Sox for cash "in excess of the $10,000 waiver price." Byrd had been traded to the Orioles by the Yankees last winter.

The Detroit Tigers, desperately in need of a first baseman with both Ferris Fain and Jack Phillips hobbled by knee injuries, purchased veteran Earl Torgerson from the Philadelphia Phillies for an estimated $25,000. Leo Cristante, a righthanded relief pitcher, was optioned to Buffalo to make room for the bespectacled first baseman.

Pittsburgh shipped third baseman George Freese and pitcher Ben Wade to Hollywood and brought up southpaw Lino Donoso from the Pacific Coast League.

Swaps, Nashua Sought For Three Match Runs

NEW YORK (AP) — A proposal for three $100,000 match races between Swaps and Nashua was made Wednesday, the races to be conducted in California, the Midwest and the East.

The plan was outlined here after the Belair Stud of William Woodward, Jr., declined an invitation to send his 3-year-old colt Nashua to Hollywood Park to meet Swaps, owned by Rex Ellsworth of California.

Swaps upset Nashua in the Kentucky Derby, then returned to the West Coast, not being eligible for the other two races in the 3-year old triple crown series - the Preakness at Pimlico and the Belmont Stakes in New York. Nashua won both the Preakness and Belmont.

Mervyn Lc Roy, president of the Hollywood Turf Club, is ready to stage the first of the races, putting up the $100,000 for the California race.

It was believed Washington Park in Chicago, which already has talked of such a match race, might agree to sponsor the Midwestern race, late in the summer. The third in the series could be held in New York, Maryland, New Jersey or some other Eastern track willing to get together on the plan.

Distances of the races would be determined between Woodward, New York banker, and Ellsworth, rancher and thoroughbred breeder who lives at Chino, Calif.

Meadows Results: Weight Lifting Marks Broken

Yank Hefty Wins, Startles Russians MOSCOW (AP) — Paul Anderson, American heavyweight weight lifter from Elizabethton, Tenn., smashed two world records Wednesday night in the first individual Soviet-American sports competition in history.

The match ended in a 9-9 deadlock but the Americans claimed they would have won if lightweight Charles Vinci of York, Pa., had not been forced to withdraw because of a wrenched back muscle.

Anderson lifted 401.5 pounds in the two-hand press and 424.6 pounds for a world heavyweight clean and jerk mark.

Nicolai Kostelev of Russia also set a world mark for lightweight with a two-hand press of 260.6 pounds.

The Russians cheered Anderson for his record and also when he led the United States as bearer of the American flag.

The American team is scheduled to leave Thursday for Leningrad where a second match is scheduled Saturday.
