Padres, Suds In Twin Wins

Beavers Take Series From Stars by 6-1

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Portland Beavers swept a doubleheader from the Hollywood Stars Sunday, 9-2 and 5-1. Bob Alexander yielded only six hits to the Stars in the opener and Bob Hall tossed a two-hitter in the nightcap. Bob Garber and Red Munger were the losers.

Portland won the series six games to one.

Hollywood remained in fourth spot but slipped 10th games off the pace with San Diego taking a pair at Oakland.

Star Change Lineup

Despite a 12-hit barrage Saturday, the Twinks got only 33 hits and 6 runs in the six losses to Portland in this series.

Manager Bobby Bragan, hoping to bolster his club, radically changed his lineup and batting order. In the first game Sunday he benched first baseman R.C. Stevens and outfielder Bobby del Greco. In their places went George Vico and Al Zarilla.

In the nightcap, Del Greco returned to the lineup but switched Bobby Prescott from left field to third base and Carlos Bernier took Prescott's spot.

Only nothing happened.

Portland slammed out 15 hits in the opener, including Joe Taylor's third homer of the series. It came in the first inning with Artie Wilson aboard. Prescott homered for Hollywood in the ninth.

Beavers Score Three

Munger led a 1-0 lead after the fifth in the second game but Portland held up three runs in the sixth and a pair in the seventh on six hits and two errors.

Hollywood's one run in the nightcap came when Dick Smith was walked with the bases loaded.

The league-leading San Diego Padres won a doubleheader victory over Oakland, 7-2 and 3-1, and Sacramento and Los Angeles split a twin bill. The Angels won the opener, 9-5, and the Solons prevailed in the nightcap, 4-2.

The Seattle Rainiers swept their two games from San Francisco to make it a clean sweep, 7-0, series grab from the Seals. The scores were 7-3 and 6-1.

Seattle boxed across with five runs in the sixth inning to clinch the seven-inning afternoon. A two-run single by Gene Verble and a bases-loaded double by Jed Gibeberg were the key blows.

In the opener, Seattle gave Gene Bearden his third defeat, all of them at the hands of Seattle, which sent him to San Francisco after last season. Bearden was inserted in an effort to strengthen the Scal attack. He got 2 hits in as many trips. But he was less effective on the mound.

Dave Melton of the Seals got three hits in the first game. He had to retire in the ninth with an ailing toe.

For the second straight day the Seals and Rainiers drew a crowd in five figures. Sunday's attendance was given as 10,867.

Battle of Champions Set Wednesday

Moore's Title Olson's Goal

BY JACK HAND THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boxing night at its 1955 peak Wednesday should see New York's Polo grounds with a battle of champions between Archie Moore, the light heavy ruler, and Bobo Olson, the middleweight king, with Moore's 175-pound crown at stake.

The last time champs from these two divisions met, Sugar Ray Robinson, the lighter man, was stopped by Joey Maxim in the 103 degree heat of a June night at Yankee Stadium in 1952.

According to the odds of 9 to 5 favoring Moore, Olson is expected to meet the same fate as Robinson in venturing into a heavier division.

The International Boxing Club counts on 25,000 fans to pay $250,000, basing its hopes on a last minute turnstile rush if the weather is good. Another $100,000 will be added from the radio-television rights (ABC).

Fight on Video

New York will be blacked out on TV for the 15-round match, starting at 6 p. m. (PST).

Moore's weight has been the "gimmick" in this fight. They announced that he weighed 186 1/2 lbs. in his 15-round bout with Nino Valdes at Las Vegas, May 2. However, there have been rumors that he really weighed only 184 1/2. Such rumors have been denied repeatedly.

In any event, Moore must get down to 175 pounds by noon Wednesday. Apparently, he will make it with room to spare, if you can believe the champ and his handlers.

The word along Broadway Sunday was that Archie already was under the 175-pound limit.

The unknown factor, of course, was how much of the old style grind, Moore is left after the training camp. Apparently the wise men think there will be plenty left to take care of Bobo for they've made Archie a steady favorite.

Olson Camp Confident

The Olson camp is banking on speed and a persistent barrage of punches to wear down the 35-year-old Moore. Bobo, only 26, can't punch with Archie but he throws more leather. Olson has won 21 straight, Moore 20.

It will be Moore's fourth defense of the title he won from Joey Maxim, Dec. 17, 1952 at St. Louis. His last was against Harold Johnson, a 14th round knockout victim, Aug. 11, 1954. If Archie wins decisively, he'll probably get a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship in September.

In case of rain, the show will be put back to Thursday. After that, plans are indefinite.

Vince Martinez, the welterweight from Patterson, N. J., who allegedly was "grounded" by the managers' guild after he dumped Manager Bill Daly, makes his first 1955 start Friday at Syracuse, N. Y.

The opponent will be Chico Varona of Cuba, a 3 to 1 underdog.

Paired Slates Bout

The scrap will be carried on network radio and television (NBC) starting at 6 p. m. (PST).

Gene Poirier, fast-rising Niagara Falls, N.Y. welter, tops the Monday card at New York's St. Nicholas Arena against Oscar Pitta of Argentina, (DuMont-TV).

Johnny Saxton makes his first appearance since he lost his title to Tony deMarco in Boston, April 1 when he boxes Jim Fuller of Wilmington, Del., Monday at Brockton, Mass.

There's a hot match in West Jordan, Utah, between Gene (Cyclone) Fulmer, a home town boy, and Gil Turner of Philadelphia.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST By Hal Sharp
AVOIDING SNAKES

ALTHOUGH HIS HOME LOCALITY MAY BE FREE OF POISONOUS SNAKES, A SPORTSMAN SHOULD LEARN TO AVOID THEM IN SNAKE INFESTED AREAS.

STEP OVER SMALL LOGS, ETC., BUT DON'T STEP OVER A LARGE LOG IN YOUR PATH WHERE YOU CAN'T SEE; A SNAKE MIGHT LIE CLOSE BY, OR UNDER IT, UNSEEN. NEVER STEP OR REACH WHERE YOU CAN'T SEE.

SNAKES TRAVEL MOST AT NIGHT SO USE A FLASHLIGHT, ESPECIALLY AROUND CAMP WHERE FIRE'S WARMTH ATTRACTS THEM. SLEEP IN A SNAKE-PROOF TENT, OR ON A MAT OUTSIDE. SHAKE CLOTHES AND BOOTS BEFORE DRESSING.

THE CARDS KNOCKED CARL ERSKINE OUT IN THE FIFTH, AND SPOONER PERMITTED ONLY FOUR HITS THE REST OF THE WAY. SANDY AMOROS HIT HIS SEVENTH HOMER IN THE FOURTH OF FLOYD VOOLDRIDGE, WHO WAS THE LOSING PITCHER.

At Milwaukee, the Braves took over sole possession of third place by defeating the New York Giants 9-7. Shortstop Al Dark's eighth-inning error permitting pitcher Ray Crone to score from third base was the deciding factor.

HOMERS SPARK GAME

Crone had singled, went to second on a sacrifice and to third on a passed ball. He tossed one-hit ball in the last four and two-thirds innings.

Hank Thompson's seventh homer accounted for three Giants runs, while Jack Dittmer hit a two-run homer, and Del Crandall a solo four-bagger for the Braves.

Joe Nuxhall pitched 6-hit ball and shut out Pittsburgh 4-0 in the second game of a doubleheader after the Pirates defeated the Redlegs in the opener, 5-2.

Dale Long was the big business in the opener along with pitcher Bob Friend, who held Cincinnati to seven hits. Long batted in three, including two homers. Roberto Clemente also had a 2-run homer for the Bucs.

At Chicago the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Cubs 1-0 in a 15-inning overtime affair, but the Cubs grabbed the second game 8-7. Darkness halted the nightcap after six and a half innings.

ROOKIE HURTS WIN

Marv Blaylock led off the 15th inning with a single, and scored on Willie Jones' double. Hal Jeffcoat who replaced starter Jimmy Davis in the 11th was the loser—his first after six wins in relief.

Rookie Jack Meyer got his first victory after losing six in a row. He replaced Ron Negray in the eighth for the Phillies.

Randy Jackson's tenth homer with one aboard gave Chicago two runs in the first inning of the second game, and the Cubs were never headed. Stan Lopata and Del Ennis homered for the Phils.

Ennis hit his 12th with two aboard in the seventh inning, and Warren Hacker took over the pitching duties to save the game for Howie Pollet who had relieved starter Dave Hillman in the fifth.

Grays Edge Falls City To Take League Lead

The Oregon State Prison Grays took over undisputed lead in the Central Oregon Coast League Sunday by edging the Falls City Lumberjacks, 6-5, in a baseball game played Sunday at the prison diamond.

It was the first loss in league plays for Falls City. The Grays are still undefeated.

With the game tied 5-5 going into the top of the eighth, Floyd Ward hit a pinch single for the Grays and then scampered home with the winning run when Pete Pruitt banged out another single.

Chuck Gallaher led the Grays at the plate with two doubles and a single in four trips. Erwin Speer had a double and two singles.

For Falls City, Dan Feller had three singles and Freeman a triple that scored two runs in the fourth.

Grays 001 300 110-6 14 2
Falls City 001 300 100-5 9 3

Fleck Snares National Open Wide Open Field Seen In Wimbledon Tourney

Hogan Loses Crown In Playoff Round

casily have been a seven.

Later Ben explained his foot slipped as he drove from the tee. He said the rough was so thick he couldn't see the ball.

Fleck, meanwhile, boomed a mighty tee shot 270 yards down the middle of the fairway and lobbed a beautiful iron to the green to become the new golfing champion of the United States.

It was an unbelievable sequel to Saturday's electrifying finish when Fleck, who has never won a tournament of consequence, came sweeping out of nowhere on a wave of birdies with a 67 to tie Hogan for the championship at 287.

Hysteria Hits Crowd
A wild hysteria swept the crowd as it sensed the dawn of a new golfing era.

Some 10,000 spectators stamped the fairways like wild horses for glimpses of the shots and once on the 12th hole—Joe Day, director of the U. S. Golf Association, suspended action and warned that the playoff would be called off unless fans stayed behind the ropes.

A series of weird occurrences added to the color of the occasion. A curious rabbit bounced out on the third tee while Hogan was addressing his ball and had to be chased from the premises before Ben could hit.

At the 15th a lad fell out of a tree from a cracking limb when the players were lining up their putts. Twice coveys of swallows swooped down on the fairways so close the players had to delay their shots.

The new open champion is a lean, hungry-looking survivor of the Normandy invasion in World War II who apparently hasn't a nerve in his body.

On the par-three eighth hole in the shadow of the clubhouse when Hogan rammed home a tough 35-foot, doublet putt for a birdie, Fleck strode up to a seven-footer and calmly put it into the cup—also for a birdie.

"This man," said a gleeful spectator, "is more like Hogan than Hogan himself." Then he pocketed a ten-dollar bet.

Resembles Hogan
Fleck looks a bit like Hogan, dresses like him, and has many of his mannerisms. He is untalkative on the course, sometimes slightly grim and never seems to get rattled.

He even plays with Hogan-made clubs and admits, "I have been an admirer of Ben for a long time. I have even picked up some of the points of his swing."

Fleck was so unfamiliar with his role of playing for the championship, that shortly before the teeoff, he turned to a friend on the practice tee and asked seriously: "Is this playoff today match play or medal?"

"It's medal," the friend replied. "You play just the same way as you did yesterday."

The Iowa man has taken the advice seriously.

Open Chmpion Without Room

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After Jack Fleck had beaten Ben Hogan in a playoff for the National Open Golf Championship Sunday he was asked where he was staying.

"Nowhere," said the 32-year-old Davenport, Iowa, municipal course operator.

It happened that Fleck, who drove two and a half days to get here for the open, checked out of his motel Sunday morning and let some friends take his car to Portland, Ore.

He planned to fly home later Sunday night but was held over by radio commitments.

No Reservation
"I don't have a hotel reservation," he said. So friends scurried around trying to get him one in a city jammed by delegates to the United Nations anniversary observance.

Fleck is not awed by his new-found glory. Repeatedly asked about future plans, he said, "I haven't decided fully yet."

He said he hoped to continue on the professional tour. Immediately, however, he probably will be sent to New York for radio and television appearances—the prize of the new champion.

Trabert Top Seeded . . . Fangio Victor In Grand Prix

Wide Open Field Seen In Wimbledon Tourney

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—People who follow closely the form and fortunes of the world's top lawn tennis players are saying that Monday brings the start of the most open Wimbledon championship in years.

They agree that the battle for the men's singles title is likely to develop into an American-Australian show. But they differ a lot when it comes to picking the winner.

Tony Trabert of Cincinnati is top seed and the betting favorite to sweep past Australia's 20-year-old Malcolm Anderson: in first round play Monday on court No. 2, and then go on to win the tourney.

The Wimbledon title brings golden glory to the champion and victory for Trabert could mean his turning professional; and cashing in on what is regarded as the world's premier amateur tennis tourney.

Tourney Wide Open
British observers say that any of the top five seeds are capable of winning the singles title. Ken Rosewall, 20-year-old Australian, is second seeded, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia is third, Lewis Hoad, Rosewall's 20-year-old teammate in Davis Cup matches, is fourth seeded, and another Australian, Rex Hartwig, is in the fifth spot.

Trabert's form in home tournaments, last year's Davis Cup play and his success in the French championships had made him clear favorite. But that was a fortnight ago before Australian manager Harry Hopman brought his tennis youngsters to England for tuneup play before Wimbledon.

Now the tennis experts are suggesting to Trabert that he's booked for a tough fight. The player many are picking for the title is the brilliant Rosewall with the best backhand drive in recent tennis memory.

Rosewall Eager
Rosewall won the London Grass Courts title yesterday with a comfortable 6-2, 6-3 victory over newlywed Hoad. Ken has had a rest from tennis for the first time in three years and as a result he's keen and eager.

Trabert, troubled with blisters on his hands at Wimbledon last year, said he's wearing tape now and hopes that everything will be all right during the two weeks ahead. The 24-year-old American with a booming service and powerful game is a 7-4 betting favorite for the title.

Brad Andres Cycle Winner

GILFORD, N.H. (AP)—Brad Andres, 19-year-old San Diego, Calif., speedster, won Sunday's 100-mile national championship motorcycle race, nipped by the first fatality since the event started in 1938.

Norman Lyons, 32, of New Britain, Conn., a garage mechanic, was killed in a three-vehicle pile-up on the first lap of the one-mile oval track.

Richard McDougall, 24, of Albuquerque, N.M., suffered a possible fracture of the skull, and Steven Hedgecock, 25, of Washington, D. C., escaped with minor injuries. McDougall was reported in serious condition at Laconia Hospital.

Officials said a 15-foot steel fence prevented vehicles involved in the pileup from whirling into the spectators' section where some 20,000 were watching the races.

McDougall said he ploughed into Lyon when the latter skidded and Hedgecock piled into him a few seconds after the race got underway.

Mays Benched By Durocher

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Willie Mays, the National League's most valuable player and defending batting champion, was benched for the first time in his major league career Sunday—and he accepted the order calmly.

Manager Leo Durocher of the slumping New York Giants even refused to permit Mays to participate in pre-game practice.

"I don't feel tired, but Leo knows more about me than I know about myself," said Mays. "Maybe it will help."

He admitted he wasn't playing up to par.

Leo Gives Reasons
"He isn't helping the club," said Durocher. "He isn't hitting and he's making wrong throws and running the bases badly. Maybe he needs a rest and it certainly won't hurt him."

Mays has made but three hits in his last 25 times at bat.

He was about to take batting practice before Sunday's game with the Milwaukee Braves, when Durocher called him back to the bench.

"Sit right down here," Durocher told his centerfielder. Willie sat without a word.

Fangio Victor In Grand Prix

Defending Champion Wins With Mercedes

ZANDVOORT-ON-SEA, Netherlands (AP)—Defending world champion Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina won his third grand prix automobile race of this season Sunday, virtually assuring him of retaining the title.

Piloting a Mercedes car, he finished first in the Dutch Grand Prix before his teammate, Stirling Moss, of Britain.

Italy's Luigi Musso, driving a Maserati, was third.

The time for the 419,300 kilometers (260.6 miles) was two hours, 54 minutes, 23.8 second, an average speed of 144.240 kph.

First Big Race
It was the first big racing event since last Sunday's Le Mans race in which 79 spectators were killed.

Safety of the Zandvoort circuit, already one of the safest in the world, was strengthened on recommendation of the Daimler-Benz works, producers of the Mercedes car, which announced they would quit grand prix racing at the end of this year.

There were no accidents Sunday and nobody was hurt.

Record Attendance
A record attendance of 50,000 was spread over the North Sea Coast dunes through which the twisting circuit runs. The track did not allow for high speeds but called first of all for driving skill.

Fangio's two previous grand prix wins were in the Argentina and Belgian events.

ROBERTS GOLF VICTOR
RYE, N.Y. (AP)—John W. Roberts of Columbus, O., won the 51st championship of the U.S. Seniors' Golf Assn. Sunday by one stroke in a playoff with Roy Moore of Waterville, Me.
