Theater 200, Inc. Offers New Scheme for Financing Plays

By JACK GAVER
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)— Broadway has seen many an unusual play financing and production plan in the past...

Other board members—investors, of course—are James A. Linen, publisher of Time magazine; A. W. Schmidt, vice president of T. Mellon & Sons, Pittsburgh; C. J. Rosenbloom, vice president of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society...

There are other unusual aspects. The creator and executive of this plan, Edward Spector, had no theater experience whatever until late last year although he had been in one branch of the entertainment business for 25 years as manager of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra...

Powerful Influence
"There would be no point as far as I am concerned to getting a sum of money together merely to invest in plays," Spector explained. "Our goal is active production of plays; in short, we hope to become a powerful influence in the theater."

Prepared to Lose
"Actually we were prepared to lose $100,000, if necessary, in experimental investments in the productions of others before getting involved in any sort of production credit, but I liked this Homan play when it came along and the Guild people seem to have some confidence in me, so we're in business."

As president and treasurer of Theater 200, Inc., Spector has a four-year contract dating from last Sept. 15. The retired lawyer, to protect the corporation, has his life insured for its benefit in the sum of $100,000 on a renewable term policy.

Other board members—investors, of course—are James A. Linen, publisher of Time magazine; A. W. Schmidt, vice president of T. Mellon & Sons, Pittsburgh; C. J. Rosenbloom, vice president of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, and George D. Woods, chairman of the board of the First Boston Corp.

Spector refused to reveal the identities of some of his other important investors—several with a number of $2000 shares—but investigation disclosed that they include Paul Mellon, Pittsburgh financier; Mrs. H. J. Heinz II, Pittsburgh; Thomas P. Johnson, co-owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Actor Gene Kelly and Victor Borge; John Ringling North, the circus tycoon, and William Zeckendorf, New York real estate giant, to name a few.

He will operate, Spector said, "by one basic rule—I will not get involved in something in which, right or wrong, I do not believe; I will not produce just for the sake of keeping busy."

He can keep stick to that in the face of the many tempting Broadway offers. Theater 200, Inc., might well become a powerful force in a few years.

BAD TIMING
NEW BRITAIN, Conn. — (UP)—A fire, in the right place but at the wrong time, caused $5,000 damage. The fire burned 75 tons of garbage and also badly damaged wiring at the municipal incinerator.
