

Aluminum Firm, Union Agree To 15 Cent Hourly Pay Hike

By LEONARD RYAN
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Aluminum Company of America and the CIO United Steelworkers agreed Friday night on an average pay raise of 15 cents an hour for 15,000 Alcoa workers. The action averted a possible strike at midnight Sunday.

The agreement was announced by David J. McDonald, president of the USW who recently negotiated a similar contract with the basic steel industry.

McDonald entered the negotiations personally Friday after the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service stepped into the dispute.

Current average hourly rates of the USW workers now are $1.62 at Alcoa's big plant at nearby New Kensington, Pa. The rates vary widely at other plants.

An Alcoa spokesman said the company will announce a price increase within a few days.

The company spokesman said a similar agreement might be reached "very soon" with the AFL Aluminum Workers which also is engaged in wage talks.

The AFL union represents 10,000 Alcoa workers.

The two unions, in an unprecedented move, joined in working out bargaining strategy in the talks which began early this month.

McDonald said the USW wage increase would be effective Aug. 1. He declared the agreement provides for a 1 1/2 cent an hour across the board hike and a 3 1/2 cent an hour boost between job classifications.

The agreement provides that Alcoa and the union will continue study of a job classification program which would establish equal pay scales in all Alcoa plants.

The USW agreement provides that employees will also receive a lump sum payment equivalent to three cents an hour for the period from Aug. 1, 1954, to Friday. This is a result of wage study agreement concluded last year. The joint announcement of the new contract declared:

"The company will continue to

'Stoolpigeon' List Blamed For Pen Riot

SEATTLE (AP)—A list of inmate "stoolpigeons" fell into the hands of recent rioters at the Washington State Prison creating a "dangerous situation," the Legislative Council heard Friday.

Sen. Neil Hoff (R-Tacoma), chairman of the subcommittee on state government, reported "The rioters got possession of the list of stoolies, or informers, when they seized the control room during the recent riot. They read the list and tore it up."

Hoff said the list contained names of those who had been informing prison authorities on the inner-workings of the institution at Walla Walla.

Hoff cited two stabbings in the prison last weekend but said his subcommittee had been unable to learn if the names of the victims had been on the informer list.

Rep. John L. O'Brien (D-Seattle), council chairman, proposed an on-the-spot investigation at the prison.

Hoff opposed the move. Hoff said he expects his subcommittee to make a decision on a prison inquiry next month. He predicted "more trouble" after some of the riot leaders face charges in Walla Walla County Superior Court.

At Walla Walla, Warden Lawrence Delmore Jr. said he did not think Saturday's stabbings were linked with the riot. He was reluctant to comment on the report about informers.

At Olympia, Dr. Thomas A. Harris, state Director of Institutions, said prison files at the time of the riot did contain letters from some inmates giving "stoolie" information.

Harris said the files fell into the hands of the rioters but that the two men who were stabbed were not informers, as far as he knew.

State Farm Federation Honors Morse

MEDFORD (AP)—The Oregon State Federation of Labor Friday voted to hold its 1956 convention in Eugene as a tribute to Sen. Wayne Morse, the Federation's candidate for re-election next year.

The vote was 164 for Eugene and 23 for Portland at the final session of the convention.

The convention also adopted a resolution condemning what it called "the abuse of authority and confidence vested in the (State) Legislature" by action of a few committees.

It called for abolition of the joint Ways and Means Committee to work out differences of opinion between the two houses.

Portland will be removed from the classification as an area of critical labor surplus with the improvement in the construction program and the signing of the contract with Willamette Iron and Steel Co., Daniel L. Goldy, regional director of the Bureau of Employment Security, told the convention.

The convention nominated J. D. McDonald for re-election as president and James T. Marr for re-election as secretary-treasurer.

Cecil W. Jones and Jerome McCabe, both of Portland, and Herbert E. Barker, Salem, were nominated for first vice-president. Nominated for second vice-president were Alice Vessing, Portland, and Ann Chambers, Oregon City.

Election will be by referendum of AFL locals.

Delegates Thursday passed a resolution reaffirming federation support of a federal Hells Canyon dam and opposing so-called partnership power plants in the Northwest.

They urged removal of T. Morris Dunne as chairman of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission. Gov. Paul Patterson indicated in a talk to the convention Wednesday he would not consider such a move.

Other resolutions called for:

A constitutional amendment to create the office of lieutenant governor in Oregon.

Sale of Indian reservation timberland in smaller blocks to increase competitive bidding and bring higher prices.

Contributions of $1 a year by AFL members for a fund to aid Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse in his campaign for re-election.

Election of the state public utilities commissioner, who now is appointed by the governor.

Million-Dollar Movie Set for La Grande Area

PENDLETON (UP)—Officials of Universal International Pictures left here Friday after approving the La Grande area for filming of the movie "Pillars of the Sky," according to Dave Baum, president of the La Grande Chamber of Commerce.

The movie, scheduled to star Jeff Chandler, is reported to have a budget of more than one million dollars.

Baum said sites for filming approved included one on the Grande Ronde river, another atop Craig mountain and one at Pondosa.

Costa Rica First Lady Guest at Parade to End 'L'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The wife of Costa Rica's President Jose Figueres, the former Karen Olsen of Yorktown Heights, N.Y., will be an honor guest Monday in the parade celebrating the end of New York's Third Ave. elevated railway.

She has been visiting the U.N. on a trip home to see her parents. The 76-year-old "El" is being junked.

Dulles Cool to NATO Treaty Extension Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles poured cold water Friday on a congressional proposal for an exploratory meeting on the Atlantic Union question.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and other members of Congress are pushing a resolution to have President Eisenhower call a convention to consider extending the North Atlantic treaty alliance, essentially a military arrangement, into economic and social fields.

In a letter to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Dulles listed these objections to the resolution:

- To have the President issue the invitations to the convention would lead it to be "inferred that he had accepted the practicability and desirability of some such union."
- The suggested inclusion of the principal political parties of the guest nations might prove embarrassing because the largest single political party in France is the Communist Party.
- The President probably would be reluctant to limit the invitations, as Dulles said the resolution suggests, to six of the other 14 members of NATO.

After listening to Dulles' letter and hearing several witnesses for and against the resolution, the committee adjourned without taking any action on it.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) said NATO's provisions allow for broadening the scope of the alliance and that stronger political ties are needed among Western nations.

"As long as NATO is thought to meet only the needs of military defense, it is vulnerable to every gesture of the Russian government towards reducing the Soviet military pressure in Europe," Neuberger said.

"It permits the men in the Kremlin to jeopardize the essential unity of the West every time they decide to turn the record over and play the 'peace' side for a while."

Curves But No Scars

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Actress Jayne Mansfield, goes over her movie script of "The Burglar," in her Philadelphia, Pa., apartment where she was resting, after a tea kettle blew its top in a scene the 22-year-old blonde was doing on location here. The producer said the whistling top of the kettle had been plugged by sound men and pressure built up inside, with the top blowing off just as Jayne picked it up. Photographers who rushed to the scene of the accident could find no apparent injuries done to the curly blonde. (AP Wirephoto)

Grains Note Small Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grain futures ended with small losses on the Board of Trade Friday when a late selling movement wiped out gains posted earlier in corn and soybeans.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent lower, corn unchanged to 1/4 cent higher, oats 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 cent higher, rye 1/4 cent lower, soybeans unchanged to 1/4 cent lower and lard 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Scattered commission house selling pressure weighed against wheat throughout the day. Japan bought a substantial quantity of Pacific Coast white wheat, but that had no influence on Chicago futures.
