HOLLYWOOD STARR RE-PORT: Bob Cummings, possibly Hollywood's most interesting eccentric, will be announced shortly chairman of this year's RTRA campaign-the broadcasting industry's own Radio-Television-Recording-Advertising Charities which supports the country's eight major charitable org a n izations. Throught it, industry workers are able to make one c o n tribution, each year and are thus protected from the onslaught of 47 different drives. Actually(they give more through RTRA than would dribble out to each individual charity, many workers giving on a pledged monthly basis.

Cummings takes over from such past chairmen as Jack Webb, Lucille Ball and Desi Arnez, Jack Benny and John Guedel, and thus is in good company. The campaign's theme this year will be based in the opening gimmick of Cummings' TV show: "Hold it-I think you're going to like this picture." Which means Bob also gets a lot of free publicity out of it. But he'll work at the job-he's that kind of guy, eccentric or not.

IRISH McCALLA, the former model who is now in Mexico filming "Sheena, Queen of the Jungle," is an athletic girl and has been accustomed to doing all the jungle stunts herself instead of using a double. Swings through the air on jungle vines, and all that sort of thing. But not any more. Gordon Scott, playing "Tarzan" in another series, recently broke his foot doing his own stunts. When "Sheena's producer heard about it, he put his foot down, unbroken, and decreed that hereafter Irish would sit on the sidelines and let a stunt girl do the swinging. Up go the production costs and out goes another happy childhood illusion.

YOU CAN TAKE your ratings or you can leave them alone, but the monotonous truth of the matter, according to Nielsen, is that
