

Mrs. John Scott Humphrey (Patricia Anne Gordon) whose wedding was an event of August 21 at the First Presbyterian Church. Don't Look Now...

but... they say that worry will thin a person down in a hurry, so why not worry real hard about the reducing diet you are on and maybe it'll speed things up.

Benefit by a benefit... taking a tip from Oregon Historical Society's recent $100-a-plate dinner at Portland's Kamm house in which they made some seven thousand dollars, the Salem Art Association might serve a $25-a-plate one here and realize considerable money from folks who otherwise may be putting off making their donation to the cause.

Off beat... a neighborhood rooster awakened me the other morning just before dawn shrieking "Cock-a-doo" and as far as I know, has never yet given out with a "le-doo."

A night off... and no night birds were singing that early dawn, when they usually are trilling their little throats out. Then next night, the chorus was again functioning. Even the bird prima donnas must be temperamental.

Age old... Filing a whole slew of recipes this week, we were again confronted with the old problem, which DOES come first, eggs or chickens?...

Grand finale... Pentacle players are bowing out until next summer amid, roaring applause for their production of Girl Crazy. This is their first attempt at a musical comedy, and it is leaving many regular attendants wishing for a longer season. This civic enterprise has brought more enthusiastic public support than any other similar project we can think of in Salem. And if you plan to attend, better get tickets ahead of time, you may be sorry if you don't.

And remember... Bob Putman, who has so successfully directed the Pentacle Theater these two years, also directs plays at Willamette, and they're just as good entertainment. Furthermore, that brand new, luscious theater over on the campus will allow for no excuses for townspeople not patronizing the University drama department plays... Maxine Buren.
